AMBASSADOR WILSON IS ACCUSED OF CONSPIRACY

Mexican Charges He Was Directly Responsible for Death of Madero and Suarez

the part played by Mr. Wilson in the last political tragedy in our country.

"I make these concrete charges with the faith of a man of honor and in peril of my life, hoping for justice from the American people and the American government.

(Signed) "LUIS MANUEL ROJAS, Grand Master of the Grand Lodge, Valley of Mexico," "Congressman of the United States of Mexico, elected vice-president in the month of September.

LETTER FROM KNOX.

Accompanying the charges is a copy of the following letter from Secretary of State Knox:

"Luis M. Rojas, Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Mexico, Mexico City:

"Sir:—The department acknowledges the receipt by references hither from the President, to whom it was addressed, of your telegram of February 20th, requesting that this government do all it can to save the lives of Francisco I. Madero and Jose Maria Pino Suarez.

"In reply you are informed that this department, had as a matter of course, several days prior to the death of Madero and Suarez and immediately after their arrest, informed the authorities of Mexico City, through the embassy, of the unfortunate effect which would be produced in this country by an unjust or improper treatment of the deposed president and vice-president.

"I am sir, "Your Obedient Servant,

"KNOX."

Ambassador Wilson Calls Charges False

MEXICO CITY, April 5.—Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson, immediately after reading the charges made against him by Luis Manuel Rojas tonight dictated his reply to the correspondent of the International News Service as follows:

"Luis M. Rojas was not Vice-President of congress, but second vice-president of the chamber of deputies, an entirely superfluous and unimportant position.

"His charges are without exception absolutely false.

"No representatives of Huerta or Diaz met in the embassy with the diplomatic corps prior to the downfall of Madero. The only relations I had with Huerta and Diaz prior to the downfall of Madero have been for the sole object the preservation of American lives and property.

"My relations with President Madero remained friendly to the last and I have received an expression of regret, coupled with thanks for my efforts on behalf of the family from the present head, Ernesto Madero.

"PROTECTION NOT ASKED.

"No application was ever made to me to protect Madero and Pino Suarez under the protection of the American flag. If it had been I should have immediately granted them protection. I did write a note offering protection to Ernesto Madero after the death of his brother, the President, but the offer was declined.

"I made direct and specific representations to General Huerta and the provisional government asking guarantees for the lives of Madero and Pino Suarez, and I repeated these representations in company with my colleagues at various times and was assured that the lives of Madero and Pino Suarez were safe.

"Whatever may be the true history of the tragedy, it is of course to be deplored, but the general regret cannot be dignified by attempts to involve in the tragedy who are not concerned, but who in effect, did everything possible to prevent it.

"CHARGES ARE FALSE.

"These charges are born in malice, and have no foundation whatever nor can one single scintilla of proof be adduced to substantiate them. I thank THE TRIBUNE very deeply for its fairness in notifying me immediately of the charges and giving me an opportunity to reply to them.

Ambassador Wilson told THE TRIBUNE correspondents on the afternoon of the day when Madero and Pino Suarez were killed, that he had been assured that they were in no danger but that they would be taken to a place of safety in the penitentiary.

Governor Carranza Appeals to Justice

SAN ANTONIO, TEX., April 5.—In a statement addressed to "The American People" and made public here today, Victoriano Carranza, governor of the Mexican state of Coahuila and leader of the so-called constitutionalists, defending his position, says: "I desire that the American people shall form their own judgment of the charges and give me an opportunity to reply to them."

After thirty-five years of dictatorship of General Porfirio Diaz, the Mexicans broke the power of the dictator, and elected to the presidency Francisco I. Madero, chief of the democratic effort against the Porfirian dictatorship.

The elements of the old government, not conforming to the new regime, attempted three times, by means of revolution, to destroy the power of Senator Madero, but the nation was with him and all the forces of his government were utilized.

ARMY WAS SUBORNED.

The disaffected elements, in their ignorance, began to suborn the army and succeeded in gaining a part of the garrison of the City of Mexico, which rose against the legally constituted government. The president fled to the north, and the forces of General Victoriano Carranza, General Huerta united himself with the revolting troops and seized power, overthrowing the president and the government.

With a proceeding brought as a consequence of the revolution on the part of the government of Sonora and Coahuila, and from this revolution originated the armed conflict which is destroying the nation now, but which has no other solution than that of force of arms, but we believe every right should triumph over force and we will not consent to the restoration of a dictatorship which will be a thousand times worse than the last.

APPEAL TO JUSTICE.

"I declare the above, and I ask the American people, if such acts had occurred in Washington as occurred in the City of Mexico, if a chief in the army had overpowered the President and Vice-President and assassinated them, if by force of arms he had assumed the chief magistracy of the nation, would they follow the lines of conduct that the government of Coahuila and Sonora have followed? I do not believe so. The president, who has not been in power for four years, is not a usurper.

HUERTA A USURPER.

"I hope that the American people will understand the meaning of the present effort against the so-called government of Huerta and that they will support the American people in their effort to bring about a just and permanent solution of the Mexican problem.

MARE ISLAND FIRST CLASS YARD

Secretary of Navy Daniels Makes Ruling Following Hearing.

Congressman Knowland Urges Recommendation and Aids in Retaining Standing.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—Mare Island navy yard will retain its status as a first-class plant as the result of the hearing held by Secretary of the Navy Daniels on the recommendation made by former Secretary Meyer that the California yard be placed in the second class.

The claims of Mare Island were presented by a special committee composed of Frank R. Devlin and H. J. Wileman of Vallejo and Theodore A. Bell of San Francisco. Backed them up at the hearing were Senators Perkins and Works and Representatives Baker, Curry, Knowland, Church, Kettner and Hayes. Commandant Henry T. Mayo of the yard and a number of navy officers were also present.

The situation of the yard and its possibilities for the future were fully discussed during a conference which lasted for nearly three hours. At its conclusion Secretary Daniels issued a statement reviewing the proceedings which led up to the proposed change in the status of the yard, and announced that he had decided that the work of going ahead with the dredging of Pinole shoal should proceed and that the status of the yard as a first-class plant should remain undisturbed.

REPORT IS MADE.

In his statement announcing his decision, Secretary Daniels quoted the following as having been submitted to him by Commandant Mayo:

"The Mare Island navy yard ranks second of all the navy yards of the country in value of output and in values of supplies provided and issued. This leaves out of consideration the Washington yard, as it is entirely devoted to gun factory purposes. It may properly, therefore, be considered as one of the important navy yards possessed by the United States.

The depth of water at the yard is now deficient, but the depth authorized and partly appropriated for is placed at 30 feet at mean low water. It appears that a military necessity, in view of the opening of the Panama canal in the near future, that the work necessary to insure this depth should be carried out and expedited in order that the battleship fleet may be able to safely and conveniently utilize the present large drydock, which is capable of taking vessels up to and including the Utah class."

RUMORS OF BREAK.

A report of an open break between President Huerta and Felix Diaz, to materialize within the next twenty-four hours, have been circulated about the capital during the day. No confirmation of this rumor has been received. Relations between the two factions appear on the surface to be friendly. Owing to the belief in certain quarters that some demonstration of animosity between the leaders will happen soon, a considerable number of foreign residents in the capital have removed to other parts of the republic, some even starting for the United States.

A band of 600 Yaqui Indians today allied with the constitutionalists in Sonora have taken the warpath against the federalists in the southern portion of the state. A number of soldiers in the Rurista district, who submitted a short time ago, renounced the government today. Andres Almazan, former rebel chief in the state of Guerrero, has joined Pascual Orozco, and will aid in the pursuit of Zapata.

Not even the most optimistic view taken tonight indicates the slightest progress toward the pacification of the republic during the past week. The situation in the north is as grave, if not more so, than ever, and several powerful rebel leaders remain uncaptured.

Lydig Art Objects Sell for $362,555

Flemish Tapestry Brings $41,000; Another, $15,500; 12 Paintings, $61,200.

NEW YORK, April 5.—The private collection of art objects belonging to Mrs. Philip M. Lydig was sold yesterday and last night, the sum of $362,555 being realized. Many society people were among the bidders. Mrs. Lydig is now in a sanitarium in Rochester, Minn., recovering from an operation.

Five tapestries, 14,000, twelve paintings, $13,200; eight rugs, $22,300. The highest price of the sale, $41,000, was paid by an art firm for a Flemish tapestry representing Christ and Mary Magdalene in the garden, probably made in 1510.

A Flemish tapestry of the early sixteenth century, depicting a mythological treatment of Jonathan and Lullu, brought $15,500. A similar amount was realized for Burgundian tapestry probably made in 1480.

Vanderbilts Donate $300,000 to Y. M. C. A.

NEW YORK, April 5.—Through gifts of $100,000 each by W. K. Vanderbilt, Frederick W. Vanderbilt and Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt, the railroad branch of the Young Men's Christian Association here is to be provided with a new and completely furnished home. Beside these gifts, announced today, the present building of the branch is to be taken over by the New York Central and New York, New Haven and Hartford railroads for $150,000. The building, with its furnishings, will cost more than $500,000.

DERBY AND BRIDE SAIL FOR ITALY

NEW YORK, April 5.—Dr. Richard Derby and his bride, who were formerly Miss Ethel Brewster, second daughter of the former President, sailed on their honeymoon today on the liner Hamburg. The young couple go from this port to Rome and from there to Naples. The greater part of the honeymoon will be spent in the place in which the bride's aunt, New York Central, the bride's aunt, Dr. Derby expects to return in June to take up his work in St. Luke's Hospital here. The departure was to have been a secret one today, but the ship and ship reports recorded the happy pair and learned their plans.

WOULD EXEMPT COLLEGES FROM STATE TAXATION

Senate Committee Recommends Passage of Constitutional Amendment

SACRAMENTO, April 5.—It is the opinion of the Senate committee on revenue and taxation that all educational institutions of college grade should be exempted from taxation as are the universities of Stanford and California now. It recommended the passage today of the Thompson constitutional amendment. Dr. J. C. Scherer, representing the colleges of Southern California, said:

"California is the only state in the union which taxes its colleges. This will take no taxes from the state. They now go to the counties and since this amendment must be voted by the people, this is only allowing the counties to vote for themselves on the question."

Some of the institutions affected would be the University of Santa Clara, St. Mary's College, St. Ignace College, Pomona, Occidental, Mills College and the University of Southern California.

A bill to allow the counties to sue the state for excess taxes if they deem that the adjustment of the board of equalization is not correct was also sent out of the committee with a recommendation that it pass.

TO CURB SPEEDERS.

Convict stripes and a term in the penitentiary are likely hereafter to be the lot of any driver of an automobile who runs a pedestrian down and flees under cover of darkness without rendering aid.

The Senate today passed the Johnson bill which has already gone through the Assembly and needs only the Governor's signature to be a law. It declares that after striking any one the automobile, motorcycle or other vehicle shall stop immediately and all necessary assistance shall be given, together with the name and address of the driver or owner of the automobile.

INDETERMINATE SENTENCE.

Approval of the Finn constitutional amendment to provide for the indeterminate sentence in California, which is regarded as an administrative measure, was voted by the Senate judiciary committee today. Under it a prisoner will go to prison after conviction with no fixed sentence. If his conduct is good he will serve only the minimum prescribed by law. If he is bad he may be kept in for the maximum in the discretion of the prison directors.

BLAME MALCONTENTS.

All the blame for the bread riot of June 8, 1912, at San Quentin prison was laid upon a group of malcontents and released convicts who had been paroled before the riot. The assembly committee which has been investigating San Quentin.

He said that the food had always been good and could not have been the cause of the riot. In contradiction of the charges that two convicts had been shot by a guard without warning, the witness declared that they were repeatedly warned before the shots were fired.

Another former convict, who appeared at his own request to tell that Warden Hoyle left the prison control too much to Captain of the Yard Randolph, admitted under examination that he had never seen any guards or prison officers strike a convict.

DIRECTORS NOT CALLED.

Prison Directors Dennis M. Duffy, Threlkeld and Warren R. Porter were present, but were not called as witnesses. Deputy District Attorney Keyes of Los Angeles testified that the character of Dr. E. B. Duncanson, the pardoned prisoner who had made charges of inhuman cruelties, had not been good.

Before signing the Grant-Bonnett red-light injunction and abatement bill, which was passed by both houses of the legislature last week, Governor Johnson has decided to hold an open hearing in his office in which all the proponents and opponents of the bill who desire to speak will be permitted to make their arguments.

The hearing was arranged as result of a request from C. B. Callahan, a real estate broker of San Francisco, who wrote to the governor to the effect that the "business interests of San Francisco" desired to argue against the measure. The meeting will be held Monday afternoon, April 7, at 2 o'clock. Callahan promises to bring a large delegation to oppose the bill.

TO COLLECT INCOME TAX.

Both Senate and Assembly have adopted the Woodley resolution requesting Congress to enact at the earliest possible date appropriate legislation providing for the levy and collection of a federal income tax. The income tax amendment has been ratified by the necessary number of states.

McDonald of San Francisco got a labor bill through the House today without protest. It requires all contractors engaged in public work to pay the scale of wages prevailing in the locality in which the work is performed.

President's Niece to Make Debut Soon

Mrs. Howe to Appear as Professional Actress in Broadway Production.

NEW YORK, April 5.—Mrs. George Howe, niece of President Woodrow Wilson, will make her debut as a professional actress. She is an ardent believer in suffrage and eugenics and hopes to present these subjects to the public by means of the drama. Mrs. Howe will have a prominent part in a Broadway production which will open the last of this month.

A company with Margaret Wycherly, who will appear at the Balcony theater next week in "The Faraway Princess," a one-act comedy given by the women's suffrage party.

Mrs. Howe is the wife of Dr. George Howe, only son of the President's sister, and a member of the faculty of the University of North Carolina. Both he and his wife are natives of North Carolina.

Farm Is 15 Miles Long, 150 Feet Wide

Grand Valley Ranch Is Fine Orchard, but Some Day Will Be Only a Ditch.

PALISADE, Colo., April 5.—Your Uncle Samuel has 200 acres of full producing orchard in a fruit farm in the heart of the famous Grand Valley orchard district that he does not know what to do with. The fruit farm is 150 feet wide and 15 miles long and some day will be the site of the big Highline canal which will be part of the government's big reclamation scheme in the Grand valley. Even when the ditch is completed there still will be plenty of fruit and left in possession of the government which will have to be operated by the Interior Department or leased.

A peculiar feature of the land is that the cold winter did not affect the trees as it did in adjoining ground, as the long thin stretch lies along the foothills, which protect it. The land cost the government more than $200,000.

Company Threatens To Move to Europe

AUBANY, N. Y., April 5.—Unless the strike rioting here ceases at once and a settlement between the strikers and employers is reached the International Harvester Company will remove its entire plant—one of the largest of the kind in the world—to Europe. Officials of the company made this announcement today.

LILLIAN RUSSELL WILL GO INTO VAUDEVILLE

WORCESTER, Mass., April 5.—With the announcement that she was going into vaudeville, Lillian Russell brought her fame to an end and here tonight. She said that she had not abandoned her mission in telling humanity now to live a hundred years, but she would be able to give her message in fewer words with larger returns to herself.

Laws "Wonderfully and Fearfully Made" by State's Solons

SACRAMENTO, April 5.—A striking instance of the careless way in which legislation is handled developed in the house this afternoon. There was no opposing vote to Bradford's bill requiring that "vendors of kerosene in quantities of five gallons or less shall not be kept in any receptacle, tank, barrel or other receptacle." Red cans are to be used solely for gasoline.

After the measure had been voted upon some one asked Bradford why vendors should be obliged to keep themselves in any kind of a can and the author at once gave notice of reconsideration of the vote. Evidently neither Bradford nor any other assemblyman had carefully read the bill.

Before signing the Grant-Bonnett red-light injunction and abatement bill, which was passed by both houses of the legislature last week, Governor Johnson has decided to hold an open hearing in his office in which all the proponents and opponents of the bill who desire to speak will be permitted to make their arguments.

HEYWOOD NEARLY WINS HIS FIGHT

istic as to predict so great a vote for their candidate. Heywood beat Spear by 1304 votes. Philo J. Phelps, the socialist candidate, was another surprise of the election, his total closely crowding that of Spear and exceeding that of Briggs.

Heywood's majorities were secured in all but seven of the precincts of the city. East of Shattuck avenue, south of the University campus, he carried every precinct with the exception of one in south Berkeley by majority, varying from a few into the hundreds. He came up from West Berkeley to California street with a preponderant majority from every precinct and only California street did he meet defeat at the hands of the Socialists.

HEYWOOD SWEETS CITY.

The mid-Berkeley precincts that voted at the Board of Education offices and the Berkeley high school were the only ones that gave a majority to Spear. Five precincts at Derby and Ellsworth, Harmon and Adelino, Prince and Dwight Way, gave majorities to Phelps. Otherwise every precinct in the city went to Heywood.

The three other candidates besides Heywood, by neglect and carelessness, and until the last of the precincts were in Heywood's running partner on the second ticket was still in doubt. With these returns, however, it proved to be Spear, with Phelps following him closely and Briggs a mediocre third.

AUDITOR RE-ELECTED.

M. L. Hanscom, who was elected to the auditorship, has held this office for several terms. On the occasion of every election the candidate against him has been decisively beaten.

The second municipal election will be held April 19, the city charter requiring a second election for all officers for which no candidate secures a majority in the first. For this second election the ticket will be as follows:

For mayor—Charles D. Heywood, Charles H. Spear.

For councilman—Christian Hoff, Edward C. Harris, George Pape, F. A. Post-Nikov.

For school director, long term—Roy I. Woolsey, Mrs. Elvino Beals, A. T. Sutherland, Milton Farmer.

LATIN STUDENTS OF MILLS GIVE PLAY

Students of the Latin department of Mills college participated in a classic presentation yesterday afternoon at Lissner hall. The production, "A Roman Wedding," by Susan Parsons, instructor in the drama, high school, was given under the direction of Prof. Mary P. Barnett.

The students were assisted in the presentation by the members of the choral class of the college under the direction of Miss Alice Coleman. The play was laid in Rome in the year 63 B. C. It was given in three parts, the full costumes of the time being worn by the girl students.

HE LIKES OAKLAND.

Captain W. B. McNamee of Petersburg, Virginia, who has been visiting his nephews, F. A. and Ed. M. Campbell, for the last two months, has returned home with the greatest admiration for California and its people, and especially for "My City Oakland."

BULL MOOSERS TO SELECT OWN MEN

Will Pick Members for Ways and Means and Rules Committees.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—Bull Moose members of the House will land one of their number on the important ways and means committee. They are to be given other recognition on committees proportionate to the number as compared with the total Republican membership of the House. Victor M. Moore, representing the Bull Moosers, today laid their claim to select their own committeemen before Democratic Leader Underwood. They said that they would have twenty to 140 Republican members of the House and that they were entitled to one-seventh of the minority committee assignments. Underwood conceded that they were entitled to that number.

Murdoch will be picked probably by the Bull Moosers for the rules committee and Stephens of California may go to the ways and means, succeeding Needham, also of California, the only Republican member from that state who was not re-elected.

The Democratic steering committee decided that with the opening of the special session they would organize on the ways and means, rules, accounts and the mileage committees.

Should it be found necessary the appropriation committee will be organized late to prepare the sundry civil appropriation bill, voted by President Taft, and the banking and currency committee to consider currency legislation, should President Wilson decide that he wants such legislation passed at the special session.

HOWELL WINS BOUT.

PHILADELPHIA, April 5.—Young Erns was too fat and Tommy Howell was too strong, and as a result of this combination the star, bout at the National Athletic club tonight went to Howell after six rounds of whitening fighting.

Are You
Parting Your Hair
Or is Your Hair Departing?

NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE

Saves the Parting by Checking the Departing

Watch the part. It is there that approaching baldness is often first detected. The parting looks uneven, unhealthy. The white streak is gradually growing wider. You may not notice this from day to day, but watch the parting from month to month. As further evidence of what is happening, look at your brush or comb. It is clogged with dead hair and dandruff after every combing. The hair is gradually falling out and the streak is growing daily a little wider.

The dandruff germ is doing this and the work of destruction cannot be checked until the dandruff is eradicated and the germ destroyed. It is a condition requiring the prompt and intelligent use of Newbro's Herpicide. If total baldness is to be averted, the inviolable principle must be followed. The hair bulbs are robbed of life and finally there is no help but a wig. Don't wait. Herpicide kills the germ, gives life and vigor to the hair and prevents it from departing.

OAKLAND CHINESE AID RELIEF FUND

Send Check for $426, Making City's Total Contribution
$20,000.

The Chinese merchants of Oakland sent the last important contribution to Treasurer James P. Esch of the general fund relief committee in a check amounting to $426. This amount runs the total contributions up to date through the committee to $18,574.34.

"Before we finish our work, it conditions in Ohio and Indiana do not demand further attention, we will have collected about $17,500," said Treasurer Esch last night. "It is estimated that fully $15,000 has been forwarded by outside sources, which makes Oakland's total contributions $20,000, which is doing very well."

The Oakland Art and Pottery Works should have been given credit by the committee for the sum of $80 on March 21, which through an error on the list was entered under another name.

12 CANDIDATES FOR SCHOOL DIRECTORSHIPS FOUR OPPOSED FOR EACH PLACE ON BOARD

SOME OF THE CANDIDATES WHO ARE SEEKING OFFICE AT COMING OAKLAND ELECTION.

REVIEW OF INTENTIONS IS GIVEN TO AID VOTERS

Reasons Why Those Who Are in Race
Believe They Should Be Elected

The contest among the commissioners in the preliminary campaign for the nominating election to be held April 15, has not developed intense interest among voters, as there are no popular issues at stake, other than the efficient conduct of public affairs. The contest among the school directors has also been a quiet one, so far, and it is not anticipated that keen interests will be engendered until after the primary.

Three school directorships are to be filled, the terms of office being four years. All the incumbents are seeking re-election. There are four candidates for each of the vacancies.

Of the twelve candidates for the school board, Miss Annie Florence Brown is one of the most highly respected and popular with the voters. Miss Brown is the only woman member of the board of education at present, and in her two years of service there has proved her contention that the interests of the children can be better served by having a woman of practical experience and big heart representing them on the board.

HAS GREAT EXPERIENCE.
Miss Brown lives at 600 Twenty-ninth street. Prior to her election to the school board, she was a member of the faculty of the Oakland High school. Miss Brown was educated at the University of California. In addition to the theoretical and practical knowledge gained by her training and her years of service in the Oakland High school, she has had a wide experience in the practical work of the school system.

MRS. E. S. GILBERT.
Mrs. E. S. Gilbert, director No. 1, is a native daughter of California. She was born in San Joaquin County in 1867, and was educated in the local public schools.

Although a busy housewife, being a widow with ten children, she has found time to study socialism and engage in its active propaganda. She has been in her cause for 15 years and this is her second candidacy for the school directorship.

R. E. REEVES.
The third candidate on the ballot for the position of school director No. 1, is R. E. Reeves, a real estate dealer residing at 3327 East Fourteenth street. Reeves is making his campaign for a 2 1/2 cent vote on the street care for school children. He contends that Oakland is about the only city in California of its size where this has not been put into effect. Reeves has lived in Fruitvale for the past 35 years. He is a member of the Native Sons of the Golden West, the Masons, Elks, and is chairman of the committee in charge of the Eagles' carnival soon to be held.

DR. JAMES B. WOOD.
Dr. James B. Wood, 6002 San Pablo avenue, is the fourth in alphabetical order on the ballot for school director No. 1. Dr. Wood has an excellent record, having been on the old board of education prior to the adoption of the new charter. He was on the old board for six years, and was for two years on the committee on schoolhouses and sites during the time the sites obtained under the recent bond issue were selected. He was elected at large to the old board of education. Dr. Wood has been a practicing physician in Oakland for the past 17 years. He gained his degree of bachelor of science from the University of Michigan, and his degree of Doctor of Medicine from the Pittsburgh, Pa., university. He is a member of the Masons, Woodmen of the World, and Independent Order of Foresters.

MATTHEW B. BRONNER.
Of the four candidates for School Director No. 2, Matthew B. Bronner, incumbent, stands first on the ballot.

Bronner is assistant cashier of the Central Bank of Savings, and in his career as city councilman and school director he has taken a leading part in guiding and protecting the financial interests of the city. Bronner was appointed to the old city council to succeed Edwin Meese, city treasurer, and was afterwards re-elected by good majorities to the representative from the old fourth ward. He was chairman of the finance committee of the old council for three years, and it was during his tenure of this office that the movement for the condemnation of the water company's plant to municipal ownership was initiated. Bronner has also acted in the interests of the people as chairman of the finance committee of the present school board.

Bronner's home is at 328 Poplar street. He is a member of the Knights of Columbus, Independent Order of Foresters, Woodmen of the World, and Young Men's Institute.

WILLIAM F. DRURY.
William F. Drury is Socialist candidate for School Director No. 2. He is 33 years of age and a native son of California. He is a graduate of the University of California, and is particularly interested in the welfare of the working class and a most ardent socialist worker.

Drury has been a resident of Oakland for the past nine years, is married and has a family. He is particularly interested in the welfare of the working class and a most ardent socialist worker.

MRS. HARRIET E. HAWES.
Third on the ballot for School Director No. 2 is Mrs. Harriet E. Hawes, 1822 Third street. Mrs. Hawes is making her campaign for practical efficiency in the schools, and is a strong advocate of manual training and domestic science. She believes that inasmuch as the larger number of the school children receive their training for life in the grammar schools, special attention should be given to giving a practical course of training that will fit the pupils to become good citizens through the work of the lower grades.

DR. KIRBY SMITH.
Dr. Kirby Smith, 4555 East Fourteenth street, is the fourth on the ballot for this office. Dr. Smith is making his campaign for good schools, well administered in the interests of the children. He has lived here since 1886 and has been in active practice in Oakland since 1895, having practiced as a physician for some time in San Leandro previous to that date. Dr. Smith was graduated from the University of California in 1890 with the degree of doctor of philosophy, and received his M. D. from the Cooper Medical college. He is a member of the Masons, Elks, Foresters, Odd Fellows, Knights of Pythias and Moose lodges.

F. B. COOK.
F. B. Cook, 1321 Tenth avenue, whose name appears first on the ballot for the position of School Director No. 3, is now a member of the board of education and has been continuously on the board the past six years. He was a member of the first high school board of Fruitvale, and is making his campaign on the basis of the record he made as school director. Cook stands for a business administration and points to several reforms that have been inaugurated through his suggestions in the board of education in Oakland and has lived in Oakland for the past 20 years. He is a member of the Oakland Commercial Club, Chamber of Commerce, Merchants Exchange, is president of the Allameda County Grocers' Association, and is a member of the Masons, Moose, Odd Fellows and Woodmen of the World.

J. WILSON PERSON.
J. Wilson Person, Socialist candidate for School Director No. 3, was born in San Francisco thirty years ago. Soon afterward his parents moved to Oakland where Person, as a lad, attended the public schools. After completing the public schools, Person visited the Fremont High school, of which institution he is also a graduate.

Person is 30 years of age, unmarried, and a musician by profession. He is a member of the local musical union and an able orator.

C. D. ROGERS.
C. D. Rogers, an aspirant for the office of School Director No. 3, is not a new man in school work, he having served two terms as a member of the Board of Education of the City of Oakland. He believes in a practical education. That is to say, inasmuch as a large majority of the pupils who attend the public schools never enter the high schools (about 85 per cent), he believes in an education that will fit the children who are compelled to leave school at the conclusion of the grammar school course that will enable them to enter upon the activities of life; that is, teach the children that which they will practice when they become men and women. Higher education will not be discouraged by Rogers, as he is in favor of the best there is in school work, but feels that the vast majority of the pupils should be looked after. He is in accord with the movement to divorce the supervision of the schools from the business part of the work of the Board of Education, a business man for the business end and a practical mechanic for the construction and repair work, which he will give his best service to the city.

MRS. AGNES RAY.
Mrs. Agnes Ray, candidate for School Director No. 3, is a graduate of the High School of Chicago and of the musical conservatory of the Northwestern University. She has been a musician teacher for many years, is mother of several children now attending the Oakland schools and is a prominent club worker.

Like Miss Brown she believes in the larger use of the public schools. She declares she will stand for a broader and more democratic education along the lines of manual training, domestic science, music, etc. Mrs. Ray believes in a polytechnic and literary high school with no class lines between the two. Ray has been a resident of Oakland for 25 years and was the leader of the suffrage campaign four years previous to its final success.

FORESTERS' COURT IS GAINING MEMBERS

Court Advocate, No. 7378, Ancient Order of Foresters, is growing rapidly. New members are joining at nearly every meeting and the coming contest, instituted by the High Court, will cause a great increase. The High Court is awarding prizes for the court making the greatest percentage of gain; also prizes for the individual members who present the largest number of candidates.

Advocate's young members are especially active at this time. They have both an Oriental degree team and a drum corps. The former will journey to San Pablo on April 10 to confer the degree at that court and all Foresters are invited to go along.

The drum corps will give a theater party at Ye Liberty April 17 and also expects to appear in many parades and carnivals in the near future.

As Melba Despaired, Fortune Found Her

(Striving Stories of Great Musicians, No. 3.)

TORN by emotion, desperately depressed through failure, the young woman looked into the eyes of the old.

She had struggled unceasingly, she had failed. In London they would not hear her. Sir Arthur Sullivan had discouraged her. The great Rindogger had refused her for a pupil.

Now she was in the salon—almost a shrine—of the greatest teacher of all. Unemotionally the old woman regarded her. She was just another.

The old teacher touched the chords. Then—profoundly moved, desperately anxious, the spectacle of failure everywhere about her—the girl sang.

Her fear, her hopes, her life were in her voice. Passion trembled upon it in velvet depths. It shivered like crystal drops upon a flower. The spirit of winds and dawns trembled into trails—trembled and melted away.

Then Marchetti looked at the young girl. A fury seemed to possess her, turning her old eyes young. She kissed the girl, trembling. She whispered, "Mon Dieu! at last I have found a star!"

It was the tribute of the world's greatest teacher to young Melba—the world's greatest singer.

Have you a little singer in your home? A child who has a gift for music—perhaps a great gift? Have you given her a chance to develop—perhaps to be famous?

Only a good piano can do that. A cheap one is like a cheap associate. It vulgarizes. It has barred thousands from fame.

You see, the subtle, delicate brain cells that communicate with the ears take false impressions, such as untrue sounds. And they can't quit either. They're like an English cockney with his misplaced "th."

A depraved associate and a depraved sound are equal in the law of environment.

Get a good piano and educate your taste. Don't bar yourself from real music, the most beautiful thing in life. A

NEW ERA DAWNS FOR SCHOOLS OF OAKLAND

Miss Brown Tells of Reorganization and Aims of Department

Reorganization in the school department, both as to management and study courses, and the great need of such reorganization was the subject of an extended address by Miss Annie Florence Brown of the Oakland board of education at the meeting of the Pelita Heights Improvement Club Friday evening. The meeting was well attended and the greatest interest evinced in the outline of modern school instruction was by the speaker. Of the reorganization as applied to the department itself Miss Brown said:

With Oakland's evolution from a town to a city in a few years, it has been a struggle to keep up with the pace. In the school department this growth and strain has been felt a little more, possibly, than in other branches of the municipal government, as both taxpayers and the number of schools has increased so rapidly that we find the department greatly overtaxed, the schools overcrowded, and our facilities for teaching often hampered.

The school department of a few years ago could be cared for under the old system of having one head and leaving all the responsibility to that one head. That will not do today.

The general merchandise store of a decade ago has been supplanted with a modern department store and where one head was sufficient there is now a score or more, each with a certain department to care for.

EDUCATION MUST PROGRESS

"We cannot afford to let the mercantile life outstrip the educational, as the latter, to meet all demands, must be abreast of the times. From my study of the educational departments of other cities I found that the most up-to-date systems and those which were successful in the past were those where there was a division of duties and an expert in charge of each division. An educator cannot be a practical mechanic, nor can a practical mechanic be an educator, unless there is a sacrifice of knowledge in either of these lines. To be the best mechanic it is necessary that one devote all the time and attention to that line of work. To be an educator it is necessary that one devote all his time and study to that line of work. If there be a division of attention or time there must be a loss.

MECHANICAL WORK NECESSARY.

"And so if we are to have the very best department, the mechanical work must be cared for, a mechanic giving his entire time to that work. The educational division must be conducted by an educator who is devoting his time to investigating methods of teaching, courses of instruction, and to those who are being instructed and in charge of the other details connected with school houses and their equipment. The clerical work was made a third division and includes the secretary of the board, auditor, bookkeeper and the office force needed in this work.

PLACES RESPONSIBILITY.

"Such a system absolutely fixes responsibility. All details of a complex system are divided into three divisions and then subdivided in still other divisions so that it is an easy matter to place your finger on the detail or person wanted and it is but a moment's effort to learn who is caring for a certain bit of work or upon whom rests the responsibility, in case that piece of work is not carried out according to program.

"That is efficiency and in the very highest sense, efficiency cannot drive under such a system. If a person be not thoroughly competent, but is capable of development it is but a short time before such person is trustworthy and able to render better service than under the old regime. In efficient persons must step out and make room for these better qualified and under such a system inefficiency is soon discovered, as there is not the opportunity for burdening others with unwaranteed responsibility.

"Nothing is too good for the children of the people who support the schools and the board of education had this in mind when the reorganization of the department was brought about.

THREE EXPERTS FOR BUILDING.

"The same idea of securing the best prompted our board of education when the matter of erecting the new school buildings came up. A committee of experts was selected. Each member of this committee was an authority on a certain branch of school work. Some knew of a certain branch of engineering work, another of lighting a school room, another of the use of the school house as a civic center. Reports were secured from other departments where the most up-to-date methods were installed and when all this data had been collected the committee drew up its own report on what a modern school building ought to contain. This report was handed over to the architects and much that is good, useful and which makes for efficiency has been embodied in the plans for the schools now under course of construction.

"The board is engaged at the present time in reorganizing the courses of study as well. Educators of world-wide fame have been giving this subject a great deal of thought and study. Before going into this subject I want to call your attention to the fact that in the public schools there are two classes of pupils, physically speaking.

OUTGROW CHILDHOOD.

"There is the real child, he or she of the elementary grades, and then there are the older brothers and sisters, those who are just entering maturity. The latter cannot be treated as children for they are not children. They are restless, the currents of a newer and deeper life are running through their veins and they are in charge of their own destinies. It is their duty to claim their attention. They must be treated as young men and young women, not as children.

"Unfortunately, in the reorganization of the grades the intermediate school, which is distinctly a misnomer. The redivision of the grades takes six years as the elementary school, three years as the intermediate and three years as the high school.

"The old system of dividing grades is an heritage from our English forefathers and before any recognition was taken of the real method of handling children. In the intermediate school, subjects are taken which will interest the youth and make him feel that he is no longer considered as a child but as a young man or woman being better prepared for a life estate.

"This is what we must bear in mind constantly—that the schools are for the children and for giving them the best that we can. The schools are for the making of the citizen of tomorrow, not for the exploitation of some pet system of study."

TOOK 3 YEARS TO GET HOME BROKE

Travelled Once Around World and Twice Half Way Round.

NEW YORK, April 5.—Six years ago William S. Stump, a carpenter, was in a factory at La Geneva, Wis. By next Monday he will be back at the job again—if the job is there. That is the future will represent all of his art ambition. When Stump acquired an art ambition six years ago admiring citizens raised a fund to send him to Paris to study art. He reached New York today on the Europa after traveling once around the world, and half way around twice, and spending three years trying to get home.

Stump studied three years, he says, and then wrote back to La Geneva for money to get home. "Send us an example of your art," replied the La Genevans. He sent one painting and never heard from them again.

Eventually Stump got to Genoa, and found a tramp steamship whose skipper gave him a job as far as America, "where," he said, "I am going to touch."

The ship touched at America but it was not the Buenos Aires, 400 miles from New York. Stump returned to Genoa.

Then he got a job on a French barque, starting for San Francisco. It went nearly everywhere else in the world, said Stump, except America.

After a year and a half at sea he got back again to Genoa, where he "discovered" an old master and sold it for $150 to an American tourist. He has enough left to get him to Chicago.

However, when the question of the guardianship of the children arose, words were exchanged and the assault followed.

IS PLAYWRIGHT

Young Author Personally Supervising Staging of Historic Story.

It was in 1777, on January 12th, that two Franciscan padres, do la Pena and Murgula, picked the site for the first Santa Clara mission. This first mission was destroyed by a flood and a second, later destroyed by an earthquake, was built. The third, and lasting mission, was erected on its present site, and dedicated by Junipero Serra, himself, in 1784. In 1836, the mission was secularized, but by the decree of Michelletti a few years later, it was returned to the government of the Franciscans and remained under their power until 1847, passing through the stirring period of the American invasion in 1846. This latter period is the one selected by Martin V. Merle for his new play, "The Mission Play of Santa Clara," which will be produced by the Senior Dramatic Club, of the University of Santa Clara, at the University theatre in Santa Clara, on May 14th, 15th, 17th and the afternoon of May 18th, for the benefit of the building fund of the university. For two months past Merle has been at the university directing the entire stupendous undertaking, aided by Mr. Alphonso J. Quevedo, S. J., the president of the Senior Dramatic Club and the officers of that organization. With a cast of over one hundred students, actors, actresses, and a corps of electricians and costumers are working day and night on the magnificent production that will accompany the play. The period of 1846 was a particularly picturesque and stirring one for the Santa Clara mission and affords unlimited scope for dramatic story and effective production.

LOCAL ATMOSPHERE.
The production at the university will be saturated with the atmosphere of the splendid idle forties that have been practically forgotten by this generation and no effort is being spared by those connected with the big undertaking to bring about a faithful reproduction of the days when the Gringo came to California. Every minute that can be spared from study is employed in perfecting the production and working out the thousand and one details connected thereto. An augmented orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Edward J. Cunningham, S. J., and the large corps of students, is occupied with the musical setting for the play, which is to be a feature, much of the incidental music having been written especially for the production by Alfred Arrieta, the well-known young Californian composer. The play, which has composed a prelude to the play which he calls "The American Invasion" and it will be played at each performance, immediately preceding the prologue.

PROLOGUE SPOKEN.
The prologue will be spoken by Roy Emerson, in front of the audience, and, in it, he will invite the audience to step back with him, into the days of the past, and live over again, the picturesque days and stirring times when the American land jumpers attempted to wrest the Santa Clara mission from the hands of the Franciscan padres. The work on the part of everyone connected with the undertaking is offered as a labor of love to the pioneer institution of learning on the Pacific coast. Merle wrote the play as a tribute to his Alma Mater. He, himself, is a native son. All of the members of the cast are students and members of the alumni of the university, and the play will be produced in the historic University theatre, which is erected on the site of the old mission itself. Few theatrical productions have been so surrounded with local color and intimate relations, and few have had such personal surroundings. The tickets for the production will be on sale in San Francisco and San Jose and Santa Clara on and after the first of May and the prices for the same will be as follows, $1.50, $1.00, seventy-five and fifty cents, for the reserved seats, the gallery, which is unreserved, will be sold at twenty-five cents a seat and general admission will be fifty cents. The production will be made under the patronage of the following prominent people of the state:

How Many Teeth Have You?
Nature started you out in life with thirty-two perfectly good teeth. Can you show them now? If you can't, what have you done with them? There's some excuse for a man neglecting his teeth if he lives in the wilds of Africa, or any other remote place, but in a civilized community, with all the skill of modern dental science at his command, he has no excuse for letting his teeth go without proper attention. Many people keep away from the dentist because they are afraid of being hurt. They dread the jaw-splitting pain for which most dental offices are noted. Such people are not aware that when they come to me, I've got something that does away with the torture in all dental operations and never causes my patients the least bit of discomfort while I am fixing their teeth. Tertiary, my great discovery, is the only known means of preventing pain that has proved to be perfectly safe, and at the same time thoroughly effective in every case.

It acts upon the nerves of the teeth, numbing them so completely that the most excruciating pain can be endured within two minutes after Tertiary is applied. Dental work of any kind can be executed without producing a solitary twinge of pain. I don't give you gas nor put you under the influence of any drug. Tertiary is positively harmless and has no bad effects whatever. If you have some teeth that require filling, crowning, or treating, and you come to me and have the work done painlessly, I'm willing to prove to you by actual results that Tertiary is what I claim to be. You will oblige yourself in any way. Just one trial will convince you.

When the teeth are loose as the result of pyorrhea I cure them and make them tight in their sockets. I replace missing teeth by my own teeth, and I can do this without the use of plates or bridge work. Once in place, Rex Alveolar teeth cannot be removed, and the wearer can use them as long as he lives.

A few days ago a Rose worker wanted to talk to Mr. Ross at his residence, called Market 7 instead of Douglas 7 and got Mayor Minick's office. The Mayor answered the telephone. ## CHINESE ARRESTED; COOKS OFF JOB

Gambling Raid Causes Absence of Yellow Men From Select Kitchens.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 5.—There is weeping on Pacific Heights. There is wailing in Presidio Terrace. There is gnashing of teeth in many another aristocratic residence district in this city. Many a toothsome dainty is missing from many a fastidious board and loud is the lament that is being raised to heaven. It all comes of the fact that there are twenty-six cooks locked up in the city prison. Corporal McGee is to blame. He doesn't care, and so there is no relief. He captured the cooks, as he says, in the act of gambling and it matters not about the dinners and the suppers and the breakfasts of the social elite.

In all nearly two score Chinese were picked up in resorts on Clay and Washington streets. Of this twenty-six gave their occupations as cooks, hence the disaster that confronts the fashionable regions where John Chinaman rules in the culinary department. The names of 23 of those arrested begin with "Ah."

CITY CAN REMOVE NEW HIGH SCHOOL

Judge Seawell Sustains Plans for Civic Center Property.

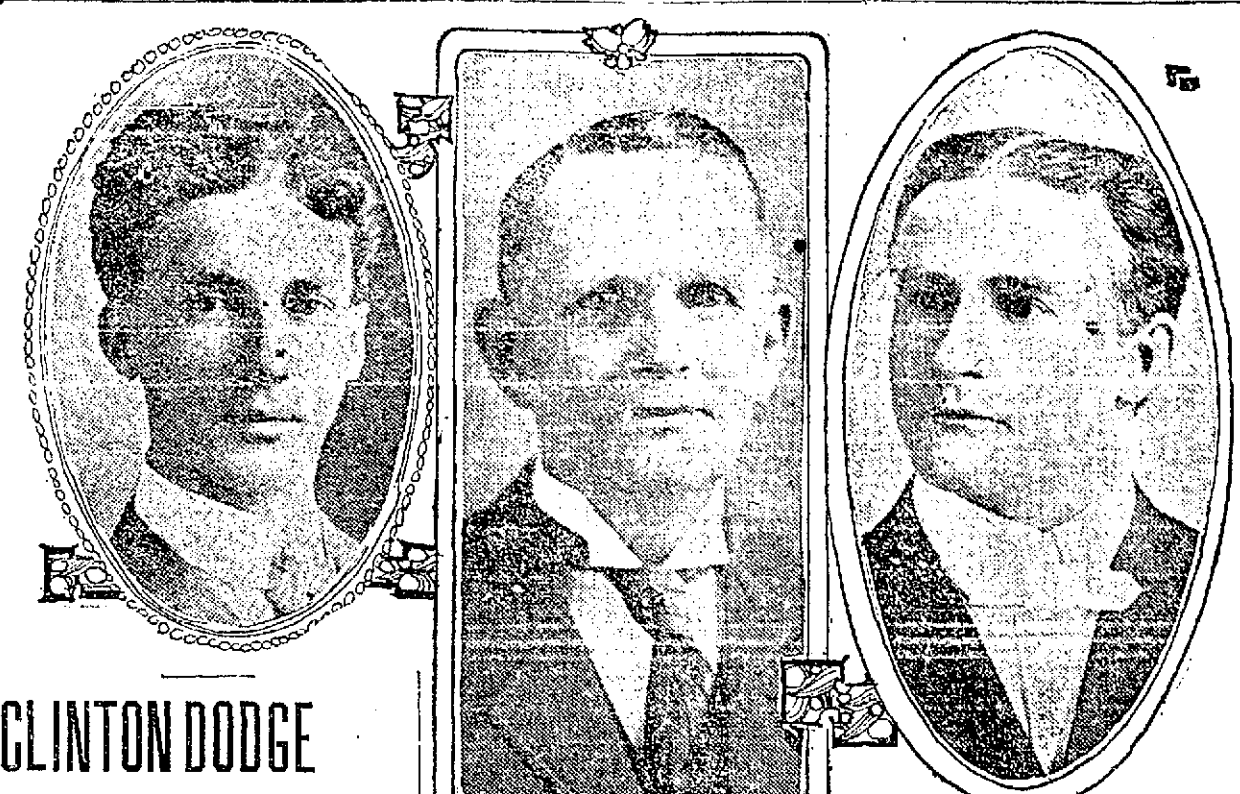

SAN FRANCISCO, April 5.—Coincident with the inauguration of building operations on the civic center site, by the turning over of the first spadeful of earth by Mayor Rolph this afternoon, came the decision of Superior Judge Seawell sustaining the civic center project resolutions of the Board of Supervisors. The case at bar was that of Victor A. Glanville, who brought a suit to restrain the Board of Public Works from moving the High School of Commerce from the civic center property to a lot on Fell street at a cost of close to $200,000. The court holds that the moving is legal, in line with the civic center plans, and the restraining order was cancelled and the demurrer of the city sustained.

QUIRCULI CLUB NOT A GREEK BOYS' CLUB

Oakland, Cal., April 5, 1913. EDITOR TRIBUNE: We wish to call your attention to the fact that there has been a mistake made in the issue of THE TRIBUNE of April 4, in which it was stated that the Quirculi Club of Greek boys had contributed to the flood sufferers.

We wish to say that the Quirculi Club is not a Greek boys' club, but a club for American boys who are to become good American citizens.

The Quirculi Club was organized in October, 1912, and has at the present time 40 enthusiastic members. It is run in connection with the Golden Gate branch free library of Oakland. Very truly yours,
THE QUIRCULI CLUB,
By R. A. S.

ARIZONA FAVORS ADVISORY ELECTION OF U. S. JUDGES

PHOENIX, Ariz., April 5.—The State Senate, working without pay since the special session legally expired several days ago, adopted a resolution today favoring advisory elections for United States judges. Governor Hunt did not issue today the expected call for another special session, but said he would wait until Monday and see what the House of Representatives would do. The house cannot adjourn for more than three days without consent of the Senate, and if it passes the general appropriations bill there will be no supplementary extra session.

On his ninetieth birthday the mission board presented him with a loving cup as its senior and most active member.

STRIKES DISTURB NEW SOUTH WALES

Discontent Among Newcastle Miners May Cause Serious Trouble to Shipping.

SYDNEY, N. S. W., April 5.—The industrial problem in New South Wales is causing grave concern, the strike of coal miners in the Illawarra and South Coast districts being unsettled. The situation is becoming seriously complicated, moreover, since the Newcastle miners are showing great discontent.

Should a strike be declared commerce throughout the shipping points will be considerably hampered and perhaps demoralized owing to the fact that all big ocean liners plying between the east coast of Australia and other parts depend upon Newcastle for their coal supply. At Broken Hill the great silver mining center, the strike declared a week ago, continues. Transportation has ceased and the city is isolated. Famine prices in food commodities rule and a serious situation presents itself.

AD. MEN TO MEET NEXT TUESDAY

Retail Advertising Will Be the Subject at Weekly Hotel Luncheon.

The Oakland Advertising Association will hold their regular luncheon next Tuesday at Hotel Oakland at 12:15 p. m.

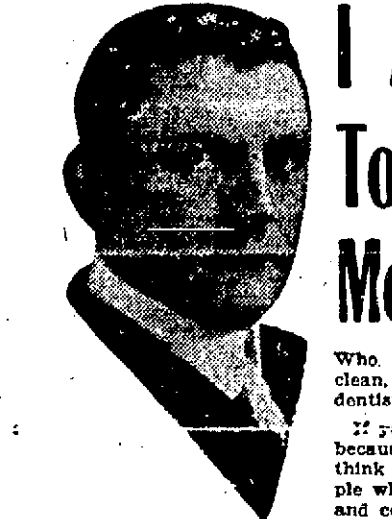

The chairman of the day will be W. J. Ashford, advertising manager of the Jackson Furniture Co.

A lecture will be delivered on "Retail Advertising Successes," a topic which should be of vital interest to every merchant and buyer of advertising space.

Many examples of successful advertising campaigns for the retailer will be thoroughly discussed and illustrated with stereopticon slides.

Many of the leading merchants of Oakland attend the luncheons of the Ad club every Tuesday and find it a profitable custom to discuss advertising problems each week.

It is not always the wisest man who succeeds in this world, but the fellow who uses the wiseness he has is the one who brings home the bacon.

I Appeal To Thinking Men and Women

Who appreciate the importance of a clean, healthy mouth and want high class dentistry at honest prices.

How could you know that I perform absolutely painless dentistry unless I did advertise? And because I do advertise that doesn't make me a poor dentist. Prejudice against me because I advertise what I can do is not based on fact, but is a kind of bigotry, a relic of by-gone generations. I want you to think of yourself on an important matter such as your teeth.

I am revolutionizing dentistry. I associate with me dentists who are skillful at some one branch of dentistry, and when you come into my office, no matter what you want, there is a specialist to go your way, and it costs you no more than the other kind.

CONSULTATION AND EXAMINATION FREE and I tell you exactly how much your work will cost before it is begun. A visit to my office will convince you that I do HIGH CLASS PAINLESS DENTISTRY AT HONEST PRICES, as it has over 700,000 satisfied patients.

Discontent Among Newcastle Miners May Cause Serious Trouble to Shipping.

SYDNEY, N. S. W., April 5.—The industrial problem in New South Wales is causing grave concern, the strike of coal miners in the Illawarra and South Coast districts being unsettled. The situation is becoming seriously complicated, moreover, since the Newcastle miners are showing great discontent.

Should a strike be declared commerce throughout the shipping points will be considerably hampered and perhaps demoralized owing to the fact that all big ocean liners plying between the east coast of Australia and other parts depend upon Newcastle for their coal supply. At Broken Hill the great silver mining center, the strike declared a week ago, continues. Transportation has ceased and the city is isolated. Famine prices in food commodities rule and a serious situation presents itself.

CARPENTER BURIES HORSE IN REAL COFFIN

PHILADELPHIA, April 5.—When Buckeye, a favorite horse owned by Mrs. E. K. Krewson of this city, for 16 years, died the owner ordered the body placed in a coffin and buried at Blackwood, N. J., in a pasture where the horse grazed when it was a colt.

The carpenter provided over the funeral. The horse's body was placed in the coffin, which was packed with burlap and straw. The lid then was nailed down and the coffin loaded on a dory and sent to Blackwood.

Mrs. Krewson went to Blackwood to see the horse interred.

AGED MAN MISSING WITH $5000 ON HIS PERSON

SAN FRANCISCO, April 5.—Carl Clarenbach, 74 years old, has been missing from his home, 2723 Pierce street, since yesterday morning. As he has a valuable gold watch and certificates of deposit to the amount of $5000 on his person his friends are worrying over his whereabouts. A report was made to the police at noon by S. Brilgh, who furnished a careful description of the aged man.

It is not always the wisest man who succeeds in this world, but the fellow who uses the wiseness he has is the one who brings home the bacon.

I want you to think of yourself on an important matter such as your teeth.

I am revolutionizing dentistry. I associate with me dentists who are skillful at some one branch of dentistry, and when you come into my office, no matter what you want, there is a specialist to go your way, and it costs you no more than the other kind.

An Occasion for Rejoicing.

The opening of rapid transit communication between Oakland and the interior of Contra Costa county is an event of no small importance. It is not merely the opening of a new avenue of trade, but a step in the larger development of the region on this side of the bay.

It means that the fertile region lying just across the Contra Costa hills has had the ban of isolation lifted, and is now in the direct current of progress. Rapid and direct transit will make this delightful and productive region more inviting, more prosperous, more progressive.

Hence the hospitable welcome extended to our visitors from Walnut Creek, San Ramon, Concord and all the fair valleys lying at the base of Mount Diablo. The barrier to the more intimate intercourse with Oakland has been removed, their development has been assured. The physical obstacle which has so long held them back and denied them the conveniences which relieve rural life of its loneliness and depression has been pierced by the Oakland, Antioch & Eastern Railroad, and a market has been brought almost to their doors.

Ever many months pass, the inhabitants of the hitherto isolated sections of Contra Costa county will be in close touch with Sacramento as they are now with Oakland. The world has broken in on their seclusion and made them our near neighbors. Oakland rejoices that they have been brought into closer companionship and hopes the community of interests which the new line establishes will prove a bond of enduring friendship, mutually pleasant and profitable, and that the growth and development of the outlying territory will exceed the expectations of even the most ardent optimists among our neighbors.

Here's to you, Contra Costa! You're all right. The more prosperous you become, the better Oakland will be pleased.

There is nothing suggestive of race suicide about the Wilson administration. The President and every member of his cabinet save the Attorney-General is a married man, and all save Secretary Garrison have children. As a progenitor, William B. Wilson, Secretary of Labor, leads all the rest. He has an interesting family of nine children.

Commissioner Anderson's Good Record.

Harry S. Anderson has made an excellent record as Commissioner of Public Works. He has not only been attentive to his duties, but has taken a keen and intelligent interest of the structural improvements coming under his direction. The experience he has gained during the past two years has increased his capacity for usefulness and better qualified him for the office he holds. It would be a mistake to displace him for a new man.

Mr. Anderson is in harmony with his fellow commissioners and the policy of municipal development which has been such a potent aid to the advancement of Oakland in recent years. The introduction of a new element in the government is likely to result in friction and cross purposes, always to be avoided, but which in the present posture of affairs might bring on disastrous complications. The city government is now in capable, trustworthy hands; let us keep it there, to the end that the schemes of municipal development planned during the incumbency of Mayor Mott may not be arrested or thrown into confusion.

Having served the city well, Mr. Anderson deserves to be re-elected. It would be an injustice not to give him another term. One good term deserves another is a sound principle as sound in politics as in business. It expresses a wholesome rule which is to the profit of communities to follow. No private employer discharges a man who has filled his job acceptably to fill his place with a new and untried man.

That is the case here. Mr. Anderson has performed his duty as a public officer, he is in accord with his colleagues and he is animated by the spirit of progress which has awakened Oakland to her needs and opportunities, therefore he should be kept where he is. He is honest, he is capable; what more need be said?

It is not worth while to discuss the merits of other candidates in this connection. Mr. Anderson is in a place which he fills with zeal and ability. There is absolutely no valid reason why he should be displaced, but many reasons why the city should retain his services. Like Commissioner Bacus, he has earned the popular endorsement that only a re-election can give.

If the people would have good service, they must be just to officials who serve them well.

The Vice of Dual Office Holding.

Senator Wright's bill to prohibit dual office-holding is aimed at a long-standing abuse which has corrupted legislation and promoted machine politics and the boss system. It is a reform that THE TRIBUNE has repeatedly urged upon the Legislature, but being a real reform the suggestion has fallen on deaf ears. The reformers in the Legislature were willing to reform everybody but themselves, and the appointing power was never willing to relinquish the control that patronage gave over the Legislature.

If the Wright bill passes, as it should, employees of the State Harbor Commission will not be eligible to election to the Legislature. Persons holding county or municipal office cannot at the same time hold legislative positions. Attorneys for municipal corporations and State boards cannot go to the Legislature as special attorneys for the power which gives them their jobs.

When a legislator holds a sinecure job as attorney for some State board or commission at a good salary it is idle to expect that he will be a free agent. He will legislate for his job every time; the welfare of the people will always be secondary to his desire to please the patron to whom he owes his place. An employee of the Harbor Commission invariably votes as the Governor would have him vote. He is not a representative of the people, but of the political machine of which the Harbor Commission is a part. When he votes to elect a United States Senator, he votes for the candidate of his boss.

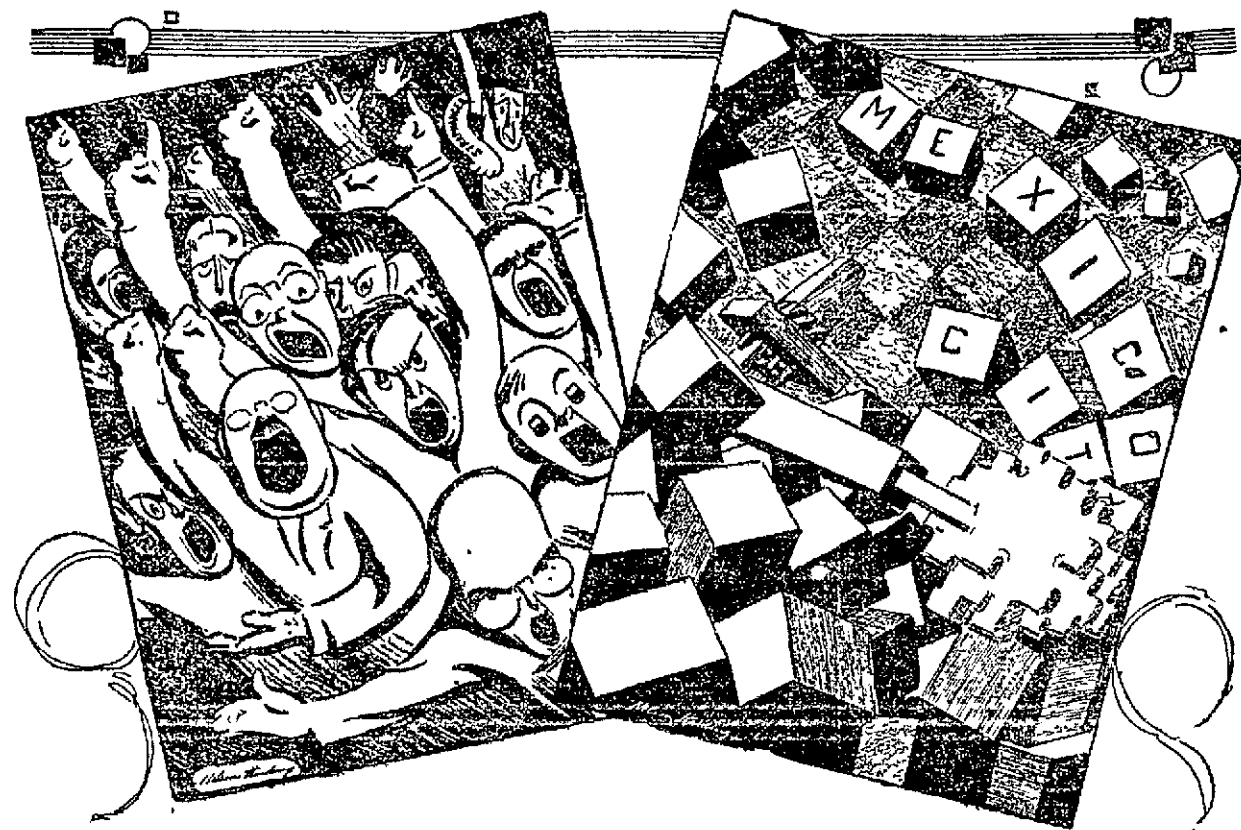

The system which Senator Wright aims to abolish is an old one and an evil one. It has not sprung up recently, nor is the present State administration to blame for it any more than its predecessors. It has perpetuated the abuse because of the power the Legislature gave. It gave the Governor a Pretorian guard which simply obeyed orders without wisdom or justice.

The abuse is more flagrant now than it has been. THE TRIBUNE advocates its abolition. It is wrong.

in principle and practice, independent of who enjoys the usufruct. It is a bad thing for the people and for politics. It projects a mercenary and subservient force in the Legislature, where, of all places, such an alien influence should not be tolerated. It interferes with the freedom of the Legislature, and is the ready instrument of bossism.

The system cannot be abolished too soon. It never had a rational excuse for existence, and the sooner it is destroyed the better it will be for the State and for untrammelled political action.

The Legislature is to make statutory provision for more compulsory flag-waving. The law now requires the American flag to float over schoolhouses during the teaching period. It is now proposed that the Bear Flag shall also wave over the schools on all State occasions. The less liberty we have the more we parade the symbols of liberty. The Legislature votes away the freedom of the citizen and then tries to console him by hoisting another flag over the schoolhouse. Devotion to the shadow is expected to blind the eyes to the loss of the substance.

Seasonable Rains Help Farmer and Fruitgrower.

The late March and early April rains are doing an immense amount of good for the grain fields and the pasture lands in the State. Orchards and vineyards have been benefited also, for the rainfall has been so gentle and the winds accompanying it so light that no damage has been done to the trees in blossom or on the earlier bearers on which the fruit was recently set. As a rule, however, the thinning out of the blossom or immature fruit by a wind storm seldom does any real harm. Indeed, it usually improves the crop as a marketable product and performs the function of thinning out which the average grower does not have the courage to perform himself, and the average tree in a California orchard is an excessive blossom-producer and fruit-bearer. If the elements fail to thin out the crop and the orchardist does not have the courage and sagacity to perform that service to the tree, the latter exhausts its capacity for properly maturing the fruit and the owner loses money in the marketing of his crop, because the apparent excess in the volume of the fruit is more than offset by the inferiority of quality and the poor price it commands in the market. However, if the late rains have in any part of the State prematurely beaten off a small percentage of the blossom or newly-set fruit, the benefit of nature's timely work will show itself at harvest time.

One remarkable feature of the winter's rains has been an almost total absence of a surplus surface drainage. The streams have consequently scarcely more than half filled their beds and storage reservoirs have derived but very little benefit from any of the rainstorms of the season.

AN ANCIENT AID

A physician who has been working with Dr. Friedmann in the tests of the latter's tuberculosis culture has made the announcement that the Berlin expert employs hypnosis as a factor in his work, and that patients who show improvement have been convinced that they are better, instead of having been aided by the serum which is supposed to effect the cure.

This, we believe, is giving undue prominence, in an isolated case, to a principle in the practice of medicine which is generally acknowledged to have an important part in all treatments—or at least in most treatments.

While conservative people still are in doubt as to the extent to which mind governs matter, it is a truth as old as the world that suggestion is a mighty force. Every observant individual has discovered this fact for himself, without turning to the wisdom of the ancients for corroboration.

The Scriptures express a doubt in the form of a question in the line, "Can any man by taking thought add a cubit to his stature?" and here one of the limits in the power of mind over matter, is clearly defined. But Shakespeare was of the opinion that "there is nothing either good or bad but thinking makes it so"; and while the great poet and philosopher took advantage of the poet's license to exaggerate, there is little doubt that the essence of a great truth is in his words.

Perhaps it is safe to assert that Dr. Friedmann cannot cure consumption by hypnosis, or by suggestion, or by any other form of mental force; but it seems easily safe to admit that he can aid other means and methods by these forces.—St. Louis Times.

Monacles, for which New York women are said to be developing a craze, have been worn by men for about a hundred years. The first person to screw a glass into his eye was, according to Sir Horace Rumbold, a Dutch exquisite, Jonkhoeve Rumbold, whose monacle enabled the diplomat assembled for the congress of Vienna. The fashion spread rapidly. In Dr. Kitchener's "Economy of the Eyes," published nine years after the congress, he declares the fact that "a single glass, set in a smart ring, is often used by the trickiest tempters merely for 'show' sake. These folks have not the least defect in their sight and are not aware of the mischievous consequences of such irritation."

Some high speeds were attained for the early French railway trains. The Illustrated London News of August 10, 1844, records that four days previously "the journey from St. Germain to Fillingdon was accomplished in less time than the distance had ever been traversed. The eighteen and a quarter miles only occupied fifteen minutes and ten seconds." So early as 1841 it was announced that Brunel, for a wage of $5000 was about to run a train from Bristol to London within two hours. This feat does not appear to have been accomplished. Five years later, however, between Exeter and Starcross, Brunel accomplished the journey at a speed of 70 miles an hour.

Child marriages were common enough in England a century or two ago. Words of the crown in particular were frequently married before they reached their teens. Some children were married at the age of 5, while from 9 to 12 was considered quite a marriageable age for girls. Little Nell Villiers, daughter of the Duke of Buckingham, was not married until she was 12, but a widow at the age of 9, and there are descriptions of her romping in the garden and climbing cherry trees in her widow's veil.—Chicago Daily News.

SCIENCE NOTES

Use of the new twenty-four hour time system in France is likely to give rise to some curious results. One of these relates to the striking of the hour. It will not be very practical to use twenty-four strokes or so in succession, as these would be very difficult to count after a certain point. The number of strokes should therefore be reduced in some way. It is proposed to use a double chime, one bell for units and the second for tens, the two bells to have a different tone. Or else with a single bell rapid strokes would show the tens and slow strokes the units. With two bells, one bell gives strokes up to nine. The second bell rings once for ten. For eleven the first bell rings once and the second once, and so on in the decimal system. For twenty, the first bell rings twice, and so on.

Lieutenant Greitz, the German traveler who gained fame by crossing Africa first in a motor car and then in a motor boat, is now trying to finance a scheme for sailing over New Guinea in an airship for the purpose of exploring the little known interior of that island. The proposal has been well received in Germany. A similar plan for exploring New Guinea was proposed two or three years ago by Dr. Kurt Wegener, but never came to anything.

Internal combustion engines utilizing furnace gases are increasingly employed in Europe. A large mining and metallurgical works in the north of France has decided to use the gas from 160 recently built coke furnaces to obtain power for operating electric motors and lights about the works and in the district.—Chicago News.

OTHER PEOPLE'S AFFAIRS

Abdul Hamid's view that the slave in a Turkish household is much better off than a servant girl is fully supported by Duckett Lerriman in "Turkey and the Turk." The chief points urged are that the owner is responsible for the slave's maintenance and cannot turn her adrift, that she is treated as one of the family, has light duties and is taught accomplishments and that she has chances of a rich marriage. An English woman, governess and companion in a house on the Bosphorus was asked by some English visitors who were the charmingly dressed girls the saw. "Servants," she said, meaning to spare the girls' feelings. But when the visitors had gone the girls bitterly reproached her for "shaming" them. "You are a servant. You are paid, we are not. We are slaves, not servants. Why did you tell a falsehood to shame us?"

Italy as well as France now has the football craze, and the fact has caused Sig. Luciano Zubboli to raise a cry of alarm on behalf of his mother tongue. He complains that the most musical of all languages is being debased by the introduction of harsh sounding sporting terms imported from England, although for many of these, such as "match," "rush" and "trial," there are satisfactory home-made equivalents. One of the largest athletic bodies in Italy has an entirely English name, "The Milan Football and Cricket Club." Yet football, Sig. Zubboli points out, is a direct descendant of the old Roman game, "harpastum." Murder as well as suicide was sometimes justified in the old days. In ancient parish registers in England the name of the old Roman god, "Hodgkinson Thomas," died on 14th day of April, 1617. N. B.—He was smothered for ye madness. Which means that the unfortunate Hodgkinson have been bitten by a mad dog, his kindhearted neighbors settled his fate for him by putting a feather bed on top of him and sitting on it till he was suffocated.—Chicago News

PEOPLE OF SAMOA

The most interesting thing about Samoa is not its fair scenery and tropic flora, but its people, who have often been described as the most noble race in the Pacific—simple, honest, affectionate, and above all, hospitable. Judge Dwyer of Pago Pago, who is visiting Sydney, stated recently that all the natives were now Christians, and evinced a very marked devotion to their church, even though they did not always adhere to its tenets. Taking them as a whole, their contributions to religious enterprises far exceeded the biblical title, and, with the exception of the Mormons, whose adherents were few, the missions in Samoa were self-supporting. The people were generous to a remarkable degree, and any stranger—white, brown, yellow or black—was received in any house, supplied with food and sleeping accommodation, no questions being asked about connection, as far as American Customs was concerned there were so few foreigners there that this admirable trait had not been stamped out by imposition or abuse of confidence. In morality they were superior to many other branches of the Polynesian race and were excelled by none. Petty theft was very rare, and foreigners found that the locks and bolts on their houses grew rusty through disuse.—Sydney Herald

DEATH RESULT OF FRACTURED SKULL

Frank L. Cruz Falls in Gutter Near Home and Is Fatally Injured.

Frank F. Cruz died yesterday afternoon at Fabiola Hospital, following an operation for a fracture of the skull. Cruz, who resided at 2397 Hannah street, was found lying in the gutter near his home in an unconscious condition yesterday morning. He had been drinking heavily. He was removed to Fabiola hospital, where it was found that he was suffering from a fracture of the skull four inches in length. He was operated upon by Dr. W. W. Korgan.

Deputy Coroner Bert Sargent declared last night that his office will conduct an investigation of the case. He claims that Cruz's body was given to an undertaker by the hospital and that nothing was said by the authorities of that institution about its being a coroner's case. Sargent declares that Dr. Korgan notified him in the afternoon of the death of Cruz and that out of courtesy to the hospital he did not send for the body until last night. He then discovered that it had already been given to an undertaker on the pretense that Cruz had died from brain trouble.

POLYTECHNIC STUDENTS AGAINST VACCINATION

The Associated Student body of the Polytechnic Business College of Oakland, at their regular meeting held April 4, voted the following resolution to Assemblyman Alfred S. Morgenstern, at Sacramento:

"Whereas, Vaccination is the only medical operation that is made compulsory by law.

"Whereas, public sentiment is generally against said practice, therefore, be it resolved, that the student body, in unity, voices its protest against Assembly Bill No. 1988, now before the Legislature, which seeks to fasten theories of disease and compulsory vaccination on the public at its expense and calls upon you to vote against this un-American act.

"Respectfully,
"SYLVIA GALAZZI,

LONDON TENNIS PLAYER DEFEATS PHILADELPHIAN

LONDON, April 5.—Charles Williams of London, world's tennis champion, today beat Jack Souter of Philadelphia, the American challenger, in the first half of the home and home match for the championship title.

The scores: 15-12, 15-11, 15-10, 9-15 and 15-16 in favor of Williams. The conditions of the championship were that a series of seven games should be played on a London court and seven on a Philadelphia court. Each player deposited a stake of $2500. The second half of the match is to be played in Philadelphia.

CRUSHED TO DEATH IN RAILROAD YARDS

Antone Silva, a young laborer employed by the Southern Pacific company, was fatally crushed in the railroad yards in West Oakland early last night and succumbed two hours after the accident. In some manner Silva came between two cars and was jammed by the trucks. He was taken to the railroad emergency hospital and later was transferred to the Southern Pacific hospital in San Francisco, but died before reaching that institution.

SERVES IN FAMILY FOR FIFTY YEARS

Domestic, Who Helped Raise Three Generations, Receives Honors.

PHILADELPHIA, April 5.—A celebration was held here at the home of Mrs. F. F. Larzelere, Harbor, in honor of the sixty-third birthday of Mattie Brown, who has been employed by Mrs. Larzelere's family for the last 50 years.

At the age of 13 Miss Brown was employed by Mrs. Henry Holmes, the mother of Mrs. Larzelere, to care for the children. Since that time Miss Brown helped Mrs. Holmes raise eight children and many grandchildren.

Four years ago, when Mrs. Holmes died, Miss Brown went to live with Mrs. Larzelere. Although suffering with Bright's disease, Miss Brown does her housekeeping work. She is looked upon as one of the family and the children all call her "Aunt Mattie." She has never left "her children" for a day, even going on the summer trips with them to the seashore and the mountains.

"At the present day I cannot get anyone to work for me 50 days," said Mrs. Larzelere. "It is very hard to get help that will stay, and I realize what a treasure my mother had in Miss Brown. She is devoted to the children and has been such a help in many ways."

All of the family sent flowers, including Easter lilies and roses, and many friends were present to congratulate "Aunt Mattie." Some of her numerous friends that were far away sent birthday greetings and presents.

7 FEET 2 HUMAN SKYSCRAPER HERE

Bowlegged, He Seeks Chicago Osteopath for Additional Four Inches.

PHILADELPHIA, April 5.—The tallest man who ever arrived at this city, arrived here from the steamer ship Prinz Adalbert. Immigration inspectors thought he was walking on stilts. The giant gave his name as Jules Laubach. He measures exactly seven feet two inches in height.

Laubach came to America because he wishes to grow even taller than he is, and so become the tallest man in the world. He is bowlegged, and he learned from Berlin specialists that there was a physician in Chicago who had been successful in straightening deformed limbs. If this operation is successful it will add four more inches to his height, and Laubach will return to Germany sure of the "human skyscraper" record.

Conference Committee Also Interviews Underwood on Assignments.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—Theodore Roosevelt's letter to the House conference in the room of Representative Murdock, the party's candidate for speaker. It follows:

"To the Progressives in Congress: I greet you, the men of stout and firm faith who dare to stand up to your colors and fight the people's contest. In Congress you will find the odds against you very great, but among the people at large I firmly believe that the changes are steadily in your favor.

"We cannot amalgamate with either of the old boss-ridden, privilege-controlled parties. We stand for the rights of the people. Where the rights of the people can only be secured through the exercise of the national power, then we are committed to the doctrine of using the national power to any extent that the rights of the people demand.

"This of itself sunders us from the Democratic party, for the Democratic party must either be false to its pledges—and you can trust no party that is false to its pledges—or else it is irrevocably committed to the doctrine of 50 separate sovereignties, a doctrine which in practice means that the powers of privilege can nullify every effort of the plain people to take possession of their own government.

"NOT LIKE LINCOLN. "As for the Republicans, their present position is the exact negation of the attitude of Abraham Lincoln and the men of Lincoln's days. Lincoln declared that the people were masters over both Congress and the courts, not as he phrased it, to destroy those who perverted the constitution. We stand for the right of the people to have their will determined with complete part of the fundamental law of the land without permitting either court, legislature or executive to debar them from this right."

The conference took up reform of the rules of the House and the tentative draft of amendments to be proposed was prepared. After the conference the progressive committee, Representatives Murdock, Hinojosa and Stephens, conferred with Majority Leader Underwood. Representative Underwood announced that he had agreed that the progressive party was entitled to a proportionate share of committee assignments, independent of the Republican minority. This would include, he said, probably one place on the ways and means committee and one place on the rules committee.

STANFORD TEAM IS TO PLAY IN JAPAN

Baseball Nine Receives Challenge From Keio University for Contest in May.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal., April 5.—Stanford University baseball team will sail for Japan May 10, where it will meet the Oriental teams of the Japanese universities.

Manager D. W. Burbank announced the trip to the Cardinal players in the training camp. The team will leave from its second game from California. Burbank had just received a cablegram from the manager of the team of Keio University, Tokyo, stating that the Japanese players were desirous of meeting the Stanford team and that final arrangements would be made later.

Twelve players besides the managers will be taken on the tour. These men will probably be the nine players and three substitutes who were named for this year's tour.

On their return from Japan the Stanford team will stop off at the Hawaiian Islands, where they will meet the Chinese University team of Hawaii, which defeated the Cardinals last Monday.

PLEDGE HEALTH OF MRS. WILSON

Society Women of Washington Drink Grape Juice at "Welcome Breakfast."

WASHINGTON, April 5.—The welcome breakfast given by the society women of Washington to Mrs. Woodrow Wilson in the ball room of the Mayflower today by Mrs. M. T. Scott, who, after calling the guests to order, announced that the breakfast was a "love feast of welcome to our dear president's wife and the ladies of his official family by Washington. Irrespective of creed or their previous condition of political servitude."

In this manner it was officially declared that the affair was intended solely for the wives of Democrats. In fact there were many prominent Democratic wives absent.

NO WINE, NO TOASTS. There were no toasts, probably because there was no wine, but the ladies at the honor table pledged the health of Mrs. Wilson in silence, drinking grape juice from a loving cup made from one of the camp tumblers used by General Washington.

The President's wife was a symphony in brown and was given a tremendous ovation when she appeared. All those present declared that the breakfast had been a huge success. A reception with Mrs. Wilson at the head of the receiving line was held following the breakfast.

DISPLAY SPACE AT EXHIBIT POPULAR

Many Applications Received for Big Show to Be Held in Kahn Structure.

Exhibition space for the big Home Products Exhibit to be held in the new Kahn building, beginning April 10, is at a premium, and Fred Parsons of the manufacturing committee of the Chamber of Commerce, in charge of the work, declares that it will only be with extreme difficulty that all will be accommodated. "We can take care of all," he said, "but we will have to utilize all the space we have. The exhibition will be bigger than we ever dreamed when we started the plan."

Parsons and C. Fred Boegle, secretary of the committee, are working day and night to perfect arrangements for the big affair. Alameda county manufacturers, ranging from millinery to traction engines, will be represented at the huge show, and an ornamental arch, unique in the city, will be erected on the street in front of the Kahn building.

REACTIONARY CAPTURES BURLESON'S SEAT

AUSTIN, Texas, April 5.—In the election today in the Tenth Texas congressional district to fill the vacancy in Congress created by the appointment of Albert J. Burleson to the postmaster generalship, J. T. Buchanan of Brenham, reactionary candidate, defeated Judge Calhoun of Austin, Progressive, by a majority of 250.

The district has been represented in Congress by Burleson for 14 years.

CRIES 'FAREWELL,' DIVES TO DEATH

Anarchist Confesses Murders and Leaps From Prison Roof.

PARIS, April 5.—With the cry of "farewell to my mother," Lacombe, a notorious anarchist, charged with several murders, today dived from the roof of the prison De La Santé and was dashed to death in the stone courtyard below after a dramatic two-hour talk in which he confessed himself a murderer to a score of prison officials and guards who surrounded him.

While conferring with his attorney today Lacombe suddenly dashed past the guards and climbed over the steel cells until he reached the roof of the prison. He was quickly surrounded on three sides by guards, who hesitated to approach him.

Lacombe threatened to jump. The prisoner's attorney, Magistrate Drioux, and the prosecuting attorney were sent for, but all of their appeals were taken in vain. After talking for some time Lacombe confessed that he had murdered M. Dueret, editor of an anarchist newspaper, because he had found the latter to be a spy. He also confessed to killing a postmaster at Bordeaux, but claimed that it was in self-defense. He then told how he began to beg at 7 years old and how he had always been unable to find employment. Magistrate Drioux then called upon Lacombe to surrender, but he refused and, glancing at a clock

BREAD BOX BUNKS BURNS' BIG BUN

Well-Bred Enough to See the Eternal Fitness of Things.

ST. LOUIS, April 5.—Patrolman Moynihan was strolling up St. Clair avenue, East St. Louis, at a slow pace, minding a green cat in his buttonhole and whistling "And Well Sail for Ireland in the Morn'g." At First street he heard a peculiar noise in a large bread-box in front of a restaurant. He opened the box and found a man inside, sleeping peacefully.

"What are you doing in there—loafing?" he asked, after waking the sleeper.

"Well, I guess I got a bun on. I guess I belong to this bread box, don't I?" replied the disturbed one, rubbing his eyes.

"No, I believe that you are still so sleepy," said the policeman. "Play in there till I call the wagon."

At the police station the man gave his name as Steve Burns. He said he had no dough, although he worked in a restaurant. He declared he was very well bred.

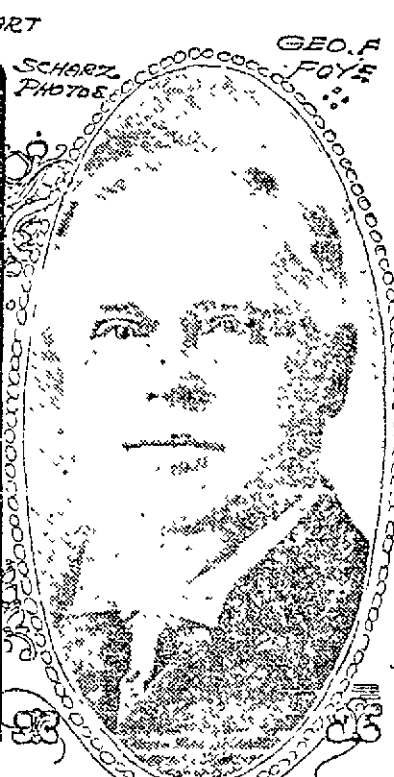

On a nearby church steeple on which he kept close watch, a cat was seen. "It is the mouse," I saw my mouse last night was of her. Face well." He waved a salute and then, like a cat entering the water and swimming, he disappeared from the steeple and was seen in the courtyard below, head first, dying instantly.

WHEAT BEARS JOIN HANDS WITH BULLS

Change Also Comes Over Situation in the Interior.

(By JOSEPH F. PRITCHARD.)

CHICAGO, April 5.—Traders in the wheat market at Chicago continue to desert the bear side and to join hands with the army of bulls now to be seen cavorting around the wheat pit daily. A noticeable change has come over the situation in the interior as well, and this, too, in the face of crop prospects never before presented in the United States. The fact that the cash wheat at Liverpool continues to meet ready takers at advancing prices may be placed as the principal cause for the bullish feeling in all the markets of the world. While Argentina is shipping near record amounts to the importing countries, that grain continues to harden in price because of the competition from foreign grain for it.

Many of those who were on the short side of wheat when the market opened today not only covered up their position but invested in a few "5s" in the belief that any change in conditions surrounding the crop will be for the worst. It may be said, however, that the reports coming in from the past week were more favorable than several previous weeks. There was an almost entire absence of advices on the Russian fly in the wheat fields, but this may change with growing weather. General reports from Kansas state that crop conditions are almost perfect.

SEEDING WHEAT.

The northwest farmers were reported as in the fields of that section seeding wheat and this work will be general there by Monday.

Commission houses furnished the buying power in corn and those who have adhered to the bear side of that cereal were made to view the situation as a dangerous one in the matter of putting out shoe lines. It was reported today that the room has already been chartered for the shipment of 3,500,000 bushels of corn out of this market at the opening of navigation and the probabilities are that additional vessel room for 500,000 bushels will be taken.

The cat market lacked individual strength today because of the smaller demand for the cash articles, the sales being reported at 155,000 bushels. The oats thrown overboard were absorbed by commission houses or resting orders and by the smaller shorts.

There are many in the provision trade who believe that prices are to sell still lower. There were 424,000 hogs received at western packing points last week against 381,000 a year ago. Foreigners were sellers of the May provisions.

RAILROAD PRESIDENT
SURRENDERS TO SHERIFF

JERSEYVILLE, Ill., April 5.—Sheriff Sheppell, who went to Los Angeles to arrest Edgar M. Davis, president of the Alton, Jerseyville and Peoria Electric railroad, was notified by telegraph today that Davis had arrived in Jerseyville and would appear in court tomorrow to answer charges of larceny and embezzlement. His shortage is alleged to approximate $50,000. The charges grew out of his management of the electric line, which now is in the hands of a receiver.

BURGLAR FRIGHTENED AWAY. SAN FRANCISCO, April 5.—Mrs. E. J. Holland of 537 Guerrero street, returned home this morning to find that during her absence an effort had been made to break into the house. The burglar placed a dummy under a front window, but was evidently frightened off before getting inside.

FIREMENS' BOOTS WERE AT HOME

Used in Rainy Weather, Missing When Wanted, They'll be Painted Red.

SUMMIT, N. J., April 5.—Volunteer firemen of this city will have to endure wet feet in inclement weather or buy their own rubber boots. It has been their habit on rainy days to borrow boots from the firehouse, now with the idea to turn them in. This continued until one day recently when the firemen were called out and only one pair of boots could be found on the truck for the eleven firemen. That night Fire Chief Scott set out to find out who had boots in their homes. He could not trace one pair, but upon his return to the firehouse he found all had been returned during his absence. Now Chief Scott intends to paint all the company's boots bright red. He also says that if the coats had not large numbers painted on their backs they, too, might have been in private use.

NOVEL LOVE SCHEDULE
INCLUDES SLEEPING CRY

FOR DU LAC, Wis., April 5.—Lester Thiele, aged 18, who formerly resided with his parents here, is in a peck of trouble at Chicago and all on account of being in love with pretty May Kowalske, aged 17. May's mother thought her daughter was too young to think of marriage and so complained to Municipal Judge Sabbath and the judge agreed with the mother and ruled that the youthful pair be separated for one year. He declared that they might talk to each other over the phone for half an hour each day, send letters, but never meet. Young Thiele says: "They have no right to forbid my seeing her. I love her and she loves me and it will always be the same regardless of how much they keep us apart. It will be hard to pass the evenings away from her, but I am going to obey the judge's instructions." May says: "I don't know how I will pass the time now. I don't want to think of him and counting the hours when the year will be up and I shall see him again." How May passed the first evening away from her sweetheart was like this: 7:30—Gazed at clock and sighed. 7:41—Answered telephone (it was her). 8:01—Stopped talking (time limit). 8:02 to 9:00—Looked at his picture. 9:01—Retired his letter (for tenth time). 9:10 to 10:00—Answered letter. 10:14—Cried herself to sleep.

CARDINALS WIN SECOND GAME FROM CALIFORNIA

Wonderful Twirling of Pitcher Maple Gives Stanford 4-3 Victory

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, April 5.—By displaying nerve and courage Ralph Maple, the Peoria, Ill., boy, won for Stanford the annual intercollegiate baseball series over California this afternoon at the Stanford stadium by the score of 4 to 3.

Maple, the line box support of the Cardinals, fought off the attack of his California opponents. On three occasions he, practically single-handed, pulled his mates out of the fire caused by wavering support or his own sudden loss of control.

Opposed to Maple was Charlie Webb. Had California won, Webb alone could have been cheered as the game hero. He pitched well enough to win. Backed bravely in the field, his chance to victory was shattered at every crucial period. Especially so was it with the run in the sixth inning, which allowed Stanford to triumph in two straight games.

Jim Dodson let an underhand toss slip through his glove that would have made a sand-lot boy blush. The score was tied, Louie Case was at second and two were out. McCloskey rolled one to Webb and Charlie fielded the ball cleanly, took a couple of steps toward first base and then made an easy toss to Dodson, who dropped it.

During the opening two innings Webb worked slowly and deliberately. He had great speed and a curve that baffled the Cardinal batsmen. Of the six men that faced him in these frames three of them were retired on strikes and the stands fairly shook with California enthusiasm. But Webb started his own trouble in the third. He walked McCloskey. Maple forced Mac at second. Terry was safe when Young made a bad pop to second of his grounder in an effort to catch Maple.

Argabrite singled infield along the third base line and the bases were loaded. Then came Workman and on his safety to right Maple and Terry put Stanford on the score board. In the meantime Maple was sailing along nicely.

In the fifth inning he swung in his same, confident manner. The first two men were easy outs but he hit Webb. Following Webb came Rube and Coane and both walked. The bases were full and Goodwin came to bat. A few seconds later Goodwin hit one far into center-field that carried off the glove of Argabrite and when the ball was recovered the bases had been cleaned and Rube was resting on third. It was a great clout and placed California in front, 3 to 2.

The ninth inning furnished a touching incident. Al Craig, for five years a candidate for pitching honors, replaced Helge Brager in right field after two men were out. As Al took his place for the final out, the Cardinal rosters arose en masse. He had won the greatest athletic honor at Stanford, the "hook."

DISCRIMINATORY RATES
IN EFFECT, IS CLAIM

CHICAGO, April 5.—Fifty or 60 witnesses will be called in the Interstate Commerce case here in which R. W. Fildman and Co. of Los Angeles seeks to compel the Southern Pacific to charge the same freight rate on products packed in fibre boxes as in wood. Special examiner George F. Boyle is taking the testimony. There is said to be some discrepancy between rates charged on east-bound and west-bound freights.

MISS DOROTHY WHITE
EDWARD PECK'S BRIDE

NEW YORK, April 5.—The wedding of Miss Dorothy Eleanor White, niece of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Rawson Peck of Chicago and San Francisco, to Harold Brown Evans of Hudson, N. Y., took place today at the Hotel Belmont. The Rev. Irving McGraw, rector of St. Mark's church, Newark, officiated. Miss Frances A. Mann of Buffalo was maid of honor and Cornelius H. Evans III, a brother of the bridegroom, acted as best man. Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served. Upon their return from their honeymoon the couple will take up their residence in Hudson.

MART MOVEMENT IS REACTIONARY

Profit Taking Is Cause of Condition That Exists in New York.

NEW YORK, April 5.—Profit-taking was the principal cause of the reactionary movement in today's stock market. The realizing was not confined to home account. European interests also appeared anxious to take advantage of the slight advance scored during the week. Southern Pacific was very strong for awhile on short covering, and the buying was based on rumors that there might be a contest for control of the company at the forthcoming annual meeting.

Chesapeake and Ohio continued to be freely talked about as the probable decline of yesterday, despite the statement of Chairman Trumbull that the 5 per cent dividend was not endangered by recent developments along the company's lines. Because of the recent brisk advance the market's technical position has been marred, and on this theory many traders were disposed to put out new lines of shorts and selling from this source hastened the decline today.

POLITICAL AND MONETARY. The securities markets abroad were heavy on political and monetary developments. The reported fall of Santarri and the evidence of how shaky a thing the concept of the powers had become, has prevented any marked restoration of financial conservatism.

News relating to tariff politics was perhaps the chief subject of Wall street conversation today, and there was nothing in Washington dispatches to give much speculative encouragement on this score. While it cannot be said that either the floods in the Middle West or the death of J. P. Morgan have had any direct influence in the stock market, the fact remains that conditions are not all that could be desired.

The commercial trade reviews today were more conservative, but reports were fairly good. Tonnage reports were better than had been expected, in view of the stoppage of traffic incident to the floods.

MODERATE BANK DECREASE. The country's bank clearing for the week again showed a moderate decrease from the corresponding week last year. The commercial agencies struck at last in their weekly reviews a reactionary note. At any rate, they reported irregularity, slowing in constructive tendencies and conservatism, with not much that was satisfactory to be said about collections. Despite the relaxation of Wall street interest rates the real position of money is shown by the price of commercial paper. There is some discounting of names of the highest grade as low as 5 1/2 per cent. The general business attitude seems to be one of waiting for the outcome of the extra session of Congress, which is about to retire. Number of shares sold today, 552,534; value, $12,121,000. Total value of shares sold today, $121,000,000; price, $22. $123,000,000.

Cabaret Replaces
'Pep' in the Punch
of Tried Out Men

CHICAGO, April 5.—The cabaret has spread to physical culture sanitariums and Turkish bath-houses. Two institutions in the downtown district which guarantee to "replace the punch in tired business men" have installed orchestras, and the patrons are punching the bar to quick-step music and going through calisthenics to waltz time. A Turkish bath emporium also has caught the craze. "Our patrons take the steam to something like 'A Hot Time in the Old Town,'" said the proprietor who introduced music in these places. "We message them to 'Yankoo Doodle' and tell them off to 'Pleasant Go Way and Let Me Sleep.' It's wonderful how it restores the 'pep' in worn-out millionaires."

on the Stock Exchange today, and the tendency was slightly reactionary. Consols were 1/4 lower and home rails and Kaffirs were off slightly. Discounts in Lombard street were 1/4 per cent easier. At Berlin the rate was also 1/4 per cent lower. Paris exchanges on London, 1/2 lower at 25 fr 25c. Berlin rate, 1/4 pfr, lower at 20m 47 1/2 pfr. Rand mines, 6 2 1/2-32.

BLAKE-MOFFITT HOLDINGS TO GO UNDER THE HAMMER

Southern Pacific Company Buys Seventh and Webster Corner

Valuable Oakland and San Francisco realty is soon to be put on the market by the Blake and Moffitt heirs, in order to effect a complete division of their property interests. The estates have been in probate court for a number of years.

There are three valuable places in Oakland, a large corner piece at Broadway and Fifteenth street, another large corner piece at East Twelfth street and Fourteenth avenue and property at Eighth and Broadway, known as the Blake & Moffitt building. Not many years ago this building contained the offices of many professional men now very prominent in California. All these properties are to be sold at public auction. The San Francisco properties will be handled by Speck & Co. on April 15. The Oakland properties will be offered for sale on April 14 by the Layman Real Estate Company.

Their locations and descriptions are as follows:

Southeast corner Broadway and Fifteenth streets, 101x125 feet; three-story frame building.

Northeast corner of Broadway and Eighth street, 14x150 feet (irregular); four-story brick building, known as the Blake & Moffitt building.

Southeast corner of East Twelfth street and Fourteenth avenue, 125x75 feet (irregular); one-story brick building. The choicest realty in San Francisco is the original Blake & Moffitt Paper Company location—a frontage of fifty feet on Sacramento street near Leidesdorf, running clear through to Commercial; an entire block between Steiner and Fillmore, Chestnut and Hyde, which is included in the site of the Panama-Pacific Exposition; two other big places on the southwest corner of Gough and Lombard and a half block facing Lombard between Laguna and Octavia.

FIRE PROTECTION FOR WATERFRONT

ALAMEDA, April 5.—The complex problem of affording adequate fire protection to the Alameda waterfront and factory district is in a fair way to be solved if the plan drafted by City Engineer I. N. C. Chapman is adopted. Chapman proposes to lay about 1100 feet of 8-inch pipe, install needed hydrants and a big pump for $50,000. At present inadequate fire protection makes insurance rates in the factory and warehouse sections almost prohibitive and these high rates undoubtedly are largely responsible for holding back the rapid development of the choice factory sites along the Oakland harbor front on the Alameda side.

The installation of fire mains, hydrants and a pumping plant would undoubtedly reduce insurance rates materially. The Eagles and Moose lodges are working steadily on their building projects and will probably be housed in handsome club-houses before the close of 1913.

The new Charles E. Neal block on Park street will be finished this month and will be immediately occupied by a group of tradesmen who will transform the entire building into a large general market.

Work is now progressing rapidly on both the new municipal light plant building and on the new postoffice.

A movement to make an artificial beach along San Leandro bay for the benefit of the children using the Lincoln playground is being fostered by play-ground workers. At present the bay bottom is muddy. It is believed that the construction of two low-lying bulkheads and the making of a shell and sand beach can be easily carried out at slight cost. This will furnish ideal wading, bathing and boating facilities.

WARMBELT PROPERTY RISES

Occasionally a jury verdict is of material interest to a large number of people outside of those directly concerned. This is true in the case of the verdict returned in the superior court last week, awarding Mrs. Sarah Jane Kelsey $25,000 instead of $25,000 offered by the city for a site for the new Lockwood school building.

Much interest has been aroused among real estate men and property owners in the district east of Melrose by the verdict in the Kelsey case. Using the valuation of the Kelsey property as an index an increase of $1000 an acre in value has taken place in less than a year.

The tract was appraised last June by a board of Oakland real estate operators at $25,000, or $2000 an acre. Negotiations for the purchase dragged along until condemnation suit was filed in February. Although the city held out for the price offered, the jury in Judge Wells' court, after viewing the property, decided to award an additional $1000 an acre.

The property lies in the center of the rapidly growing warm belt district east of Melrose and the rapid rise in values has been brought about by the enormous amount of residence building in the large number of subdivisions opened in little more than a year.

City Supervising Architect J. J. Donovan announced yesterday he would complete immediately the specifications for the new Lockwood school in East Fourteenth street, between Sixty-sixth and Sixty-eighth avenues.

Completion of the plans for the new building has been held up pending trial of the condemnation proceedings instituted by the city against Mrs. Kelsey, owner of the 17-6-10 acre tract upon which the new school is to be built. The return of a verdict during the week giving Mrs. Kelsey $25,000 instead of the $25,000 offered by the city, has opened the way for the speedy construction of the building.

The new Lockwood school is to be an attractive structure of mission architecture, one story in height, and built around a courtyard in early California style. The wings are to be arranged to form a social center meeting place for the school district, a cafeteria for the pupils and other attractive innovations.

IMPROVEMENTS IN KENSINGTON PARK

Choice Sites in Fine Tract Are Sold for Home Building.

BERKELEY, April 5.—The Dodge & Mehr Company reports a good number of sales for the month of March in Kensington Park. Among those were two choice pieces of property sold for building sites to residents of San Francisco, who will build within the year. A great deal of work has been done on the parks and gardens lying between the curbing and sidewalks; new shrubs and flowers have been planted and handsome street trees. The street work throughout the district is rapidly nearing completion and the magnificent drives have been opened to the general public.

Arlington avenue is being rapidly pushed along the hillside and within a short time will connect with San Pablo avenue, the main boulevard through the northern part of the county. This will give a direct outlet along the foothills, which in the past has been closed. An enormous amount of improvement has been going on throughout this whole district.

The owners of Kensington Park are making preparations to erect their handsome gates at the entrance to this tract, and have placed in the hands of the most prominent architects in the district orders for plans and specifications.

CLEARINGS SHOW A GAIN

Following are the bank clearings as reported to the California Development Board by the several clearing house cities for the week ending April 3, 1913, showing the amount of increase or decrease from the amount of clearings for the corresponding week of 1912:

San Francisco, $46,664,865, decrease of $1,217,251; Los Angeles, $22,916,408, increase of $249,407; Oakland, $3,593,492, increase of $56,015; Sacramento, $1,846,089, increase of $216,186; San Diego, $2,780,165, decrease of $271,271; Fresno, $903,081, decrease of $16,811; Stockton, $1,864,662, increase of $618,378; San Jose, $742,927, increase of $152,946.

EASTERNERS ARE READY BUYERS

Realize Benefits of Investment in Greater Oakland Realty.

Among the number of spring buyers dealing through the offices of The Realty Syndicate are several who came here from eastern states and have been so forcibly impressed with the natural advantages of Oakland as to invest in either residence, business or factory properties. The syndicate is men of moderate income seeking to secure holdings within their means which will increase proportionately with the development of Oakland.

One of the most attractive inducements of Vista Del Mar is the feature of transportation, the tract being but thirty-five minutes from San Francisco by either Key Route, which passes the property, or Southern Pacific electric one block east.

BUY 3 LARGE SOLANO RANCHES

Acres to Be Added to Irrigated Farms; Reservoir Almost Complete.

A. J. Rich & Co. announce the purchase this week of three large ranches in Solano county, which will be added to the acreage of the Solano Irrigated Farms, Inc.

The properties purchased aggregate over 2000 acres, consisting of the Keys, Freitas and Woods ranches, all of which have been held in one ownership for a great many years. The total price is said to be in the neighborhood of $200,000.

The Keys ranch belonged to the late James H. Keys, who was a large land owner in Solano county. The Freitas ranch has a large number of natural gas wells, which are now used by the city of Suisun for heating and lighting. The Woods ranch is on the line of the Oakland and Antioch Railway, which brings the frontage of this company along the line of the Oakland and Antioch to about 17 miles. The Solano Irrigated Farms, Inc., will have water in its first reservoir by the end of May, completing their main canal in less than four months. This work under ordinary conditions would take about two years. The canal is nine miles long, seventy-five feet wide and seventeen feet deep.

USE HOME PRODUCED GOODS

The exhibition of Alameda county made products, which is being planned by the manufacturers' committee of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, will give a splendid opportunity for bringing the people of a east bay shore cities to a fuller knowledge of the capacity of the manufacturing industries of Alameda county for providing daily family wants.

There are approximately 14,000 establishments in Alameda county engaged in manufacturing. These factories turn out nearly 400 classes of products and of 200,000 varieties. Most of these products are used daily in the 60,000 families living in the east bay shore cities. The 60,000 families, 100,000 people, consume annually more than twice the amount of manufactured products turned out by the home factories.

All local people do not confine their purchases entirely to local manufactures, mainly, because they do not fully appreciate the fact that the home factories are producing articles of the same class and of the same quality as, if not superior to, those brought in from eastern cities. If all of the 60,000 people of the east bay shore cities made it their rule to buy quality and price being equal, home made goods to the exclusion of outside-made goods, there would be kept in circulation in Oakland and in the east bay shore communities every year fully $25,000,000 that now goes to build factories, pay workmen and maintain other lines of business in eastern cities.

This is illustrated by the fact that in Oakland are now located three manufacturing plants producing an article used in every household in the community daily. These factories turn out a product that is superior to anything brought from abroad. It is attractively put up for retail trade and yet one large eastern concern dealing in this same article brings into and distributes in Oakland every week $10,000 worth of its goods.

One of the principal objects of the Alameda county products exhibition is to help correct this condition and keep money at home that it may be circulated here and help to swell the business of local merchants and tradesmen. This can be accomplished by showing people the kind and quality of goods Oakland factories are turning out.

BERKELEY BREAKS RECORDS IN GROWTH

DEVELOPMENT IN FIRST QUARTER NOTABLE

University City Makes Remarkable Start in Year's Achievement.

BERKELEY, April 5.—After several years of growth, unprecedented in most parts of the country, Berkeley has set forth on a new year of commercial, realty and home-building development, that promises to eclipse its former achievements. Already, for the first quarter of 1913, it has outstripped previous quarters by thousands of dollars.

In those three months, according to figures exhibited today by the building inspector's office, new buildings were commenced that will cost $218,650. Last year's first quarter saw new buildings begun that cost $202,750 to complete. The gain is one of over 100 per cent. During last month alone there were 104 permits issued, entailing an outlay of $334,550 as against but $12,850.

These figures are merely indicative, not inclusive, of all the facts that might be told of Berkeley's wonderful growth. They are a cross section of the city's progress. Chiefly they are an indication of the consummate faith that investors have in the future of the community. The tale is told in every portion of the city; in the old established residence districts and the new tract properties; in the more thickly settled business section and along the ever-growing water-front.

The city's banks have reflected the development of the city. The two national banks have done a business increasing annually with tremendous strides. Five Berkeley savings banks have respective capital, surplus and deposit totals as follows: $4,146,614.09, $648,220.86, $354,476.86, $312,660.97 and $623,372.35, making a total of $5,045,344.93.

The growth has not been a matter of recent days or months, but has been steadily going forward for ten years. The year 1911 produced $1,703,150 in new buildings; the year 1912 totaled $1,873,350; the present year will run well over $2,000,000. In eight years the total has been $17,043,947.

TAX ROLL GROWS.—A further accurate indication of commercial and community health has been the growth in the tax roll year by year. Here are the figures for the past six years:

1907	.....$27,736,570
1908	.....31,597,888
1909	.....33,125,880
1910	.....34,946,314
1911	.....37,102,248
1912	.....39,918,860

More than $1,000,000 was cut from the roll during the last recent legislation.

The steady mounting of these valuations is indicative of the unchecked prosperity of the city.

The population has been equally consistent in its advance. During the years preceding the last census the population grew at the rate of 206 per cent.

There has been a notable growth since 1900. The figures are as follows:

Population of Berkeley 1900	.....12,214
Population of Berkeley 1910	.....27,220

Population 1910 (official census).....40,434
Increase since April, 1910 (estd).....8,000

Present population (estimate).....48,434

This estimate is based on school attendance, telephone installations, registration of voters, gas and electric service, water connections, and similar facts usually resorted to in making a careful comparison of a community's population.

The increase in the number of new buildings in the tract properties has been little short of wonderful. Since the several tracts north of the city, including Northbrae, Berkeley Heights, Northbrae Terrace, Kensington Park, Berkeley Park, Berkeley Highlands, Fairmount Park and several others, a vast territory that had lain fallow and undeveloped, has been made to blossom like the rose.

Beautifully adorned parks have sprung up in the wooded fields, roadways and terraces have been carved out of the hillsides and railroad lines have threaded their way through the most advantageous spots.

BUILD HOMES.—Each development on the part of original owners of these properties has had an immediate response from investors and home builders. The latter have been far and away the more numerous. For the past three years in these properties there have gone up new homes at the average rate of one a day. Building restrictions have kept the cost of all of these well above $3000 in all the tracts. In the majority of cases, the large majority, the houses have been built by persons who have intended them for their own homes and have immediately occupied them.

Meanwhile on the west bay shore commercial and industrial development has kept stride with the rest of the city. With an excellent harbor this was certain, but to make assurance doubly sure, plans have been made to spend at least $1,000,000 in further development of the waterfront, a scheme which has attracted attention to it from both state and federal governments.

In this story of development much has been written by Nature herself. She has provided Berkeley with an unsurpassable site, sloped from the magnificent hills on the east down to the more valuable outlet to the sea, and an unsurpassable climate. They have been written, however, with the collaboration of a citizenry that has understood them, taken advantage of them and pressed the city ahead toward a future that was plainly ahead. It has taken money, brains and industry to build the city and these have not been lacking. They are not lacking now. Berkeley is not a city of achievement merely; it is a city of promise.

PITCHES CONSTABLE HEADLONG DOWNSTAIRS

POTTSVILLE, Pa., April 5.—W. J. Schlottman, a constable, had a thrilling experience when he went to New Philadelphia to arrest Anthony Stittman on a charge of receiving stolen goods. Stittman was found in an upstairs room, and when the constable started to read the warrant, the accused man seized a screwdriver and knocked the officer of the law headlong down the stairs.

IMPROVEMENT OF TRACT TO BEGIN

The three most important thoroughfares in Richmond are Macdonald avenue, Cutting boulevard and San Pablo avenue. All of the properties that have been brought big prices in the past have been located on at least one of these three great streets.

Today there is but one large tract left in this district, that known as Richmond Junction. For many years the Realty Syndicate held it intact and refused to listen to all offers which were being made by far-sighted realty dealers for this property. E. N. Tapscott, at last, succumbed to the pressure of the syndicate and sold the Richmond Junction to the city.

Richmond Junction is located at the named great thoroughfares. From Cutting boulevard it runs along the eastern side of San Pablo avenue, past Richmond boulevard and Macdonald avenue. It can therefore be seen that all of the advantages offered by those great arteries of traffic between Richmond and Oakland centralize in this new tract.

The contract for the improvements, which will be of the highest order, has been let and the preliminary work is already under way. Although no new map of this tract has yet been completed, reservations to the sum of $50,000 have already been forwarded to Tapscott's office. That, in itself, is evidence that wise investors have been waiting and watching for the opening of this particular piece of property.

The Santa Fe has a station on this tract; the Key Route and State Highway will also run through the property. The Pullman shops and the other large industries are close at hand. The comprehensive of Richmond's great thoroughfares in Richmond Junction will make this locality to Richmond what the junction of Fourteenth street, San Pablo avenue and Broadway is to Oakland.

FARMS SELLING ON NEW O. & A. RAILWAY

Anticipating the opening of the Oakland and Antioch Railroad, the R. N. Burgess Company, San Francisco realty operators, has acquired several thousand acres of land in the Mt. Diablo country. Among their properties is the Carpenter ranch, comprising 6200 acres, the Cook ranch, now known as Mt. Diablo Park, 1000 acres in extent, a portion of two Dougherty ranch and many minor holdings. This concern has already sold several thousand acres in subdivisions of income home farms and is now offering some of the most attractive lands to be found in this section.

In the general development of the Burgess properties, several town sites have been planned, which will be offered to the buying public this year. The town of Moraga, situated on the Carpenter ranch, has been planned and engineers are now engaged in the location of a town site on Mt. Diablo park.

ANNEXED SECTIONS GROWING RAPIDLY

RICHMOND, April 4.—The annexed sections of the city are all showing a substantial growth, which speaks well for their future prosperity. When the Pullman and Stege districts were annexed last year it was promised them that they would have the same fine improvements and conveniences which the city proper has, in time, and while the work has been of necessity slow, it is now assuming shape, and will soon materialize in a most substantial manner.

The matter of better streets is, of course, something that is up to the citizens themselves. As fast as they want anything of that kind all they have to do is to get together and make known their adopted citizens of the annexed districts just as fast as time and money will permit.

A number of the finest residence tracts in the city have recently been thrown open, and hundreds of fine dwellings and cottages are springing up all the way from San Pablo to the bay. The widening of Twenty-third street to an eight-foot boulevard and its paving all the way for two miles will make that section boom as never before, and this improvement is contemplated by the city authorities for the current year, a part of which has already been ordered.

With the extension of the Twenty-third line of cars, the double-tracking of the line from Pullman to Macdonald avenue, and the running of the fast Southern Pacific electric trains along Cutting boulevard, all of the annexed and east-side sections will make wonderful building records. Later on in the year the town of San Pablo is also to be annexed.

DEMONSTRATION FARM SUCCESS

Valley Oaks Tract Will Soon Be Marvelously Improved.

Work on Stine & Kendrick's demonstration farm at Valley Oaks is progressing rapidly. The place comprises 16 acres, which was planted to diversified crops during the past thirty days. At present many varieties of fruit trees are being set. In the matter of a short time this farm will be the highest improved of any in the neighborhood of Gall.

Speaking of the demand for farms in Valley Oaks, sales-manager Frank G. Mitchell said, "Business has been brisk ever since opening day resulting in sales to scores of purchasers, many of whom will move on the property at once. An interesting fact is that two purchasers are already living on their holdings. For the week ending Thursday, April 24, one hundred and ninety acres were sold, in farms averaging twenty acres each."

KENWOOD PARK POPULAR TRACT

The real estate firms of McHenry & Kaiser and Lewis & Mitchell, Inc., have met with decided success in the sale of Kenwood Park, less than two months old. Over one hundred beautiful building sites have been sold. The months of April and May promise to be the most active in the history of Oakland for modern bungalows of the Southern California type. Over twenty bungalows, plaster exterior with red crushed tile and marble roof, sleeping porch, breakfast room, porte cochere auto drive, etc., are now in course of construction. These homes will be ready for occupancy within two months. The Southern Pacific Mescalero Electric have their tracts laid within one and a half blocks of Kenwood Park.

MISS ELIZABETH JAUQUES, FORMER LOCAL GIRL, WHO HAS MADE SUCCESS AS MUSICIAN IN SEATTLE.

Success has come to Miss Elizabeth Jaques of Berkeley as a vocal soloist and instructor in singing at Seattle. News of her achievements have proved a source of gratification to her friends in this city, San Francisco and Berkeley, where she was widely known before her departure two years ago.

Miss Jaques is now soprano soloist at Pilgrim Congregational church, Seattle, famed for the high standard of its choir music, and she is an instructor in singing at the Northwest Academy of Music and Arts, besides holding a position as leading soprano voice in the Ladies' Musical Club of Seattle, an organization which engages the highest class artists in the world for their live seasonal concert. Miss Jaques has a flourishing class of private pupils in vocal studies.

In appearing at the Mendocino Club concert recently her efforts were followed by a notable outburst of enthusiasm. She sang Salter's "Cry of Rachel," a composition well adapted to her dramatic range of voice, following it with the famous aria for coloratura, "A fore a lei," from Traviata, and the singing "The Road," by Nevin, with the five main voices of the club as accompaniment.

Miss Jaques was soloist and musical director at the Tenth-avenue Baptist church in this city. She has been heard in musical circles here for her concert recitals at Ebell hall and for singing at the opening of the music room in the new home of H. B. Pasmore, in San Francisco, when William Shakespeare of London was entertained.

Miss Jaques is the daughter of Mrs. Mary K. Jaques of Peralta Park, Berkeley.

IDENTIFIES HIM BY HIS EARS

Finds Long Lost Brother on the Street After 29 Years' Separation.

ORANGE N. J., April 5.—George Teets, an architect, of No. 21 Ely Place, was startled today when a stranger walked up to him on the street, grasped his hand and, without speaking, looked him over, up and down, front and back and both sides.

"I got you," said the stranger at length and knew you by your ears."

Teets was about to call a policeman and have the crazy man taken away, when the man continued:

"Don't you know your brother Martin, George? I'm from Nebraska."

Teets recalled the stranger and recognized his brother. The two men had parted twenty-nine years ago, when Martin left for the West. Martin was found for George's home when they met by chance.

for? I'm Hot!"

CHESTER, Pa., April 5.—Pro-nounced dead by a reputable physician, a 16-year-old boy "returned to life" here yesterday was expected by the relatives and friends to be a corpse.

A physician was summoned and made an examination.

Moore's heart had stopped beating and he showed every indication of having died.

About a dozen persons were in the room when the corpse sat up, threw the winding sheet off, saying, "What the dickens is that for? I'm hot."

TWO STOCKTON LADS WIN MEET

Score 23 Points in Interscholastic Meet at Berkeley and Take Big Lead.

A two-man team representing Stockton High school carried off first honors in the third annual Pacific coast interscholastic track and field meet, held on the Berkeley oval yesterday afternoon, taking 23 points, against 13 for their nearest competitor, Pomona. Anaheim and Healdsburg tied for third, with 10 points each.

G. Parker and C. Grunsky were responsible for all of the points scored by their team. The former took 13 units by winning two firsts and a second while Grunsky ran away with first place in two events. Both hurdle events went to Grunsky, while Parker won the quarter-mile, the broad jump and then finished second in the 220-yard dash.

A world's record and two Pacific coast interscholastic records were set during the course of the meet. Charley Borgstrom of the University of Southern California Preparatory school made a new world's mark in the pole vault, winning the event in the preliminary trials Friday at a height of 12 feet 6 1/2 inches. New Pacific coast marks were made in the shotput and the high jump, the honors of the former going to Caughey, the husky Ukiah weight man, while Luther Nichols of Pomona established a new height of 6 feet 1 1/2 inches in the high jump. Caughey's record of 51 feet 7 inches is a new mark for this meet and Nichols' will stand as a new coast interscholastic record.

NO NEW TRACK MARKS. No new marks were made in the track events, probably because of the poor condition of the cinder path after the rain of Friday night. The track was soft and the runners were impeded by the heavy surface.

Notwithstanding the poor condition of the track, however, the 100-yard dash record of 10 1/5, which was established in this meet by Kelly of Citrus Union High school two years ago, was equaled yesterday by Briggs of Healdsburg. Briggs ran a wonderful race and finished easily six yards ahead of his nearest rival. With more favorable conditions and closer competition, Briggs would undoubtedly have done 10 seconds flat. Beebe, of Anaheim, annexed first place in the mile and half-mile with-

NEW WORLD'S RECORD.

Pole vault—12 ft. 6 1/2 ins. Made by Borgstrom, U. S. C. Prep.

NEW COAST RECORDS.

Shotput—51 feet 7 inches Made by Caughey, Ukiah.

High jump—6 feet 1 1/2 inches Made by Nichols, Pomona.

out any competition in either event. The times registered were not of the best, and the 880 in particular was much slower than that of which Beebe is capable in the south. Recently Beebe negotiated the half in 1:50 3/5, while his time yesterday was 2:05 2/5, nearly six seconds slower. Had Beebe been pressed to any extent in his races he would most certainly have set a stiffer pace, for as it was, he won almost without effort. The Pomona team, which finished second in the total score gathered its points on well-balanced efforts in four events. Nichols won the high jump and finished second to Borgstrom in the pole vault. Nichols' form in the high jump attracted much favorable comment. He cleared the bar easily at 6 feet 1 1/2 inches and narrowly missed going over at 6 feet 4 inches in the pole vault. He was outclassed by the wonderful Borgstrom but even at that his performance would have been good for first place in almost any high school meet in the country.

POMONA WINS THIRD

Clark, also of Pomona, won third place in the pole vault. Parker finished second to his Stockton namesake in the 440, and Stone got third in the 220-yard dash. These three men, along with Nichols, gave Pomona her total of 13 points. Healdsburg's 10 points came as a result of the individual efforts of Briggs in the 100-yard dash and men in the 220. By winning both of these events, and the former in the best time record of the day, Briggs brought his school to a tie with Anaheim for third place. Anaheim's 10 points having been scored by Beebe alone.

BERKELEY WINS RELAY

The mile relay, which did not figure in the score of the meet, was won by Berkeley High school with Oakland High second and Hollywood in this place. Palo Alto finished the race second, but was disqualified for fouling. Lamar of Berkeley took the lead in the quarter and at the end of his quarter was leading by 15 yards. Lindsay further increased the margin, and Berkeley won easily in the time of 3 minutes 38 seconds.

The cross-country run opened the day's program. About 40 men started in the race, which left the cinder paths on the campus and followed a route of three and one-half miles over North Berkeley to the finish line on the oval. Morehead Suburban Union's sole entry in the meet took the lead at the outset and held it until the last, winning from Lloyd of Fremont by a good margin. The course took the runners over several hills and over the pavements of the city streets, and the time required for the distance was very good. Morehead finished in 17 minutes 16 3/5 seconds.

On the school totals Fremont

High was victorious in this event. The runners were credited with points in the order of their finish, one point going to the winner, two to the man in second place etc. By this system Fremont had the least number of points her runners winning with 53, with Berkeley second with 65 and Palo Alto third with 101. Sutter Union, with only Morehead entered, was credited with the least total, but the team prize went to Fremont.

Last night, at the annual "Big C Society Circus" held on California field, the trophies won by the many athletes were distributed. The perpetual cup, which goes each year to the winning team in the track meet, went to Stockton, while the individual trophy for the winner of the largest number of points was given to Parker of the victorious team.

AUTOMOBILE IS LIFE-SAVING MACHINE

Indiana Floods Proved Mettle of Motor Car Builders

(Special to THE TRIBUNE.)

INDIANAPOLIS, April 5.—With Indianapolis now recovering from a devastating flood of several days the people are realizing that the automobile industry of the Hoosier capital proved the mettle of saving many lives. Three of the Indianapolis factories were submerged in the flood that followed the breaking of a levee in West Indianapolis, namely, Marmon Motor Car Company, Motor Car Manufacturing Company, and Nordyke-Mcnaman Company. Another factory closely allied with the automobile industry to suffer was R. J. Irvin Body Company which was also submerged.

When the flood started to creep over the banks of Fall Creek in the residential section of the city all the test cars from every factory began bringing people to high ground through the flooded streets. This was followed by the crippling of the street car service and factories donated cars and trucks to transportation of people to their homes. Nearly every available truck in the city was detailed to the service of the police department and hauled boats to the flooded district.

With the breaking of the levee every touring car that was available was put in service under the direction of the Red Cross society and carried people to the hospitals and relief stations as there was not enough ambulances to take care of one-fourth of the flood sufferers. Test cars from the Cole, Henderson, National, Stutz, Premier, Marmon, Packard, and Marmon plants drove through the flooded streets sometimes with water over the floor boards carrying people to safety. C. P. Henderson, president of the Henderson Motor Car Company, closed down the factory to assist the flood sufferers and put every man that could drive at the wheel of a car to assist in the work. The Henderson plant escaped damage although the water rose to within fifty feet of the plant. "Old Bolivar," the first Henderson car built was placed at the disposal of Superintendent of Police Hyland and is still working with the department transporting others to the boats and carrying boats in the early hours of the flood.

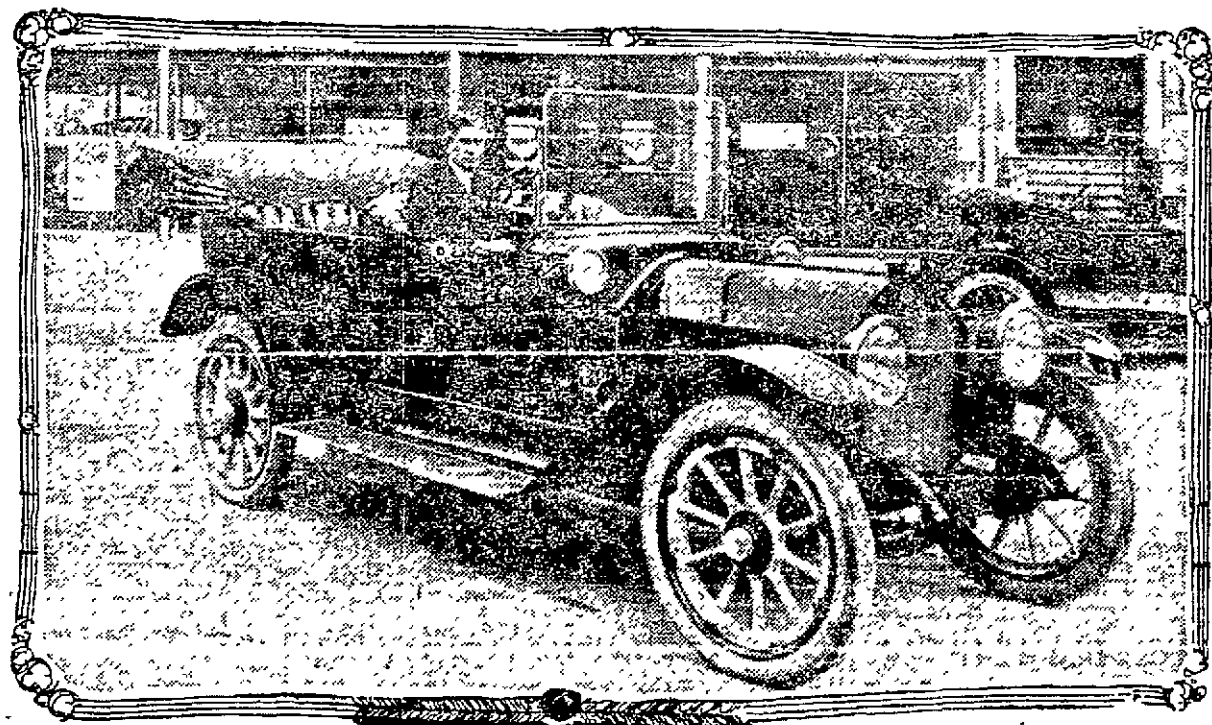

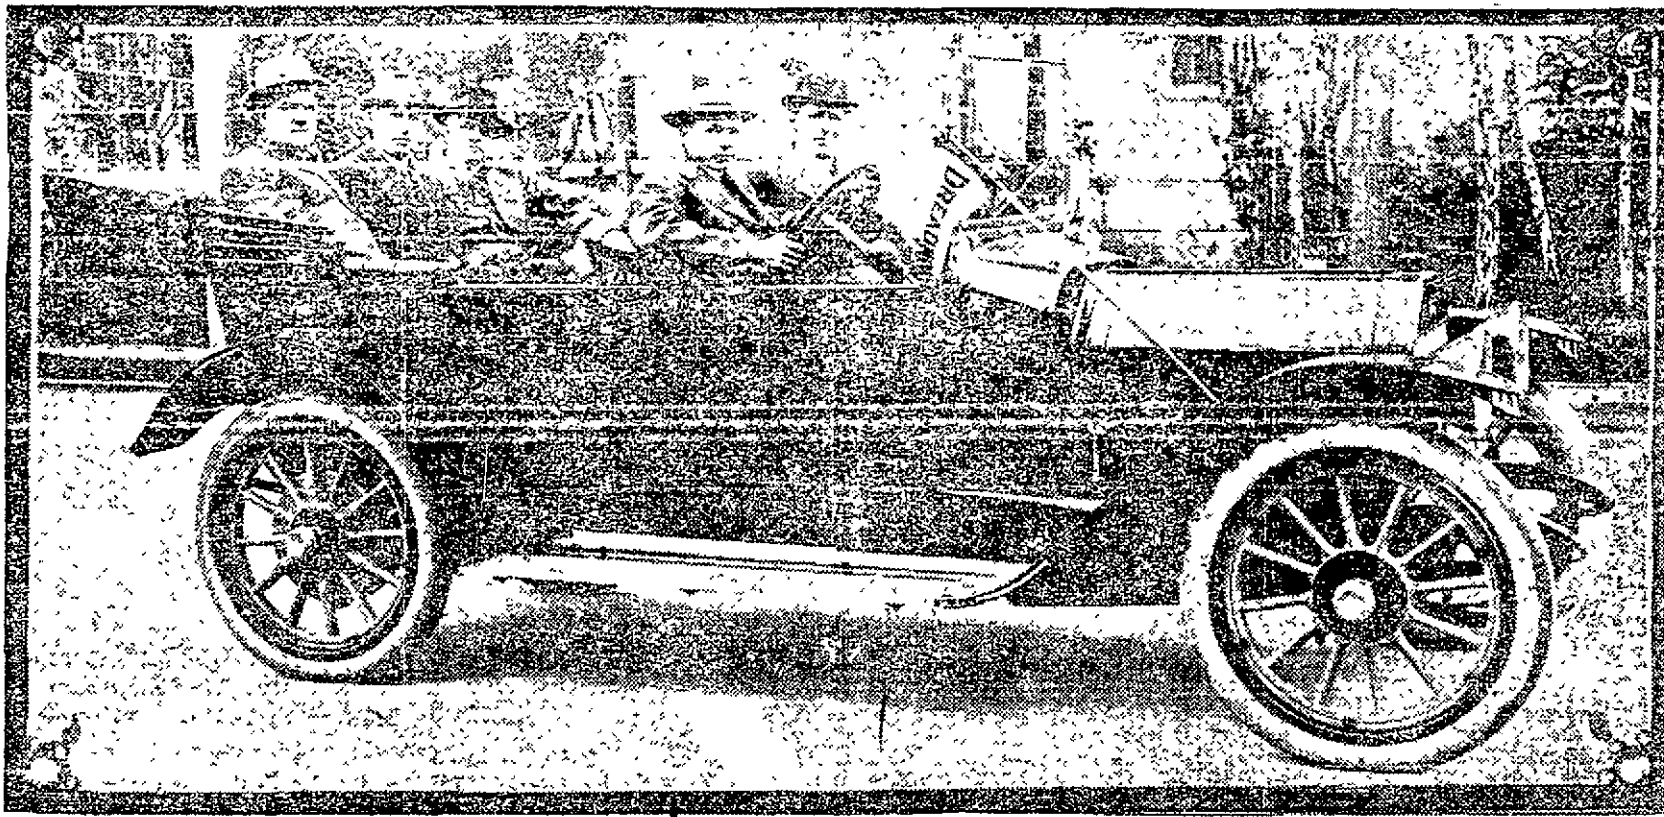

Harry B. Whitney, retail sales manager of the Henderson, rescued several families with his personal car. Whitney is the first lieutenant of Battery A, N. G., and with the other militia men this command was on duty for over 72 hours without relief.

The automobile show was closed on Tuesday after being open one day but the people of Indianapolis saw a better show in the utility of the automobile. The show was opened Sunday afternoon and evening, March 30, and every dollar that was given at the gate was turned over to the flood sufferers as it was a free will offering without any definite charge being made for admission.

Owing to the crippling of transportation facilities it was up to the automobile factories and dealers to take food to the flood sufferers. Some of the unfortunates had been in their homes for forty-eight hours without food or drink when they were finally rescued. Such men as R. F. Henderson, of the Henderson Motor Car Company, W. C. Teasdale of the Packard, J. L. Handley and W. McK. White of the Marmon, Jas. L. Galt, president of the Marmon Motor club, all used their own cars and helped to feed the famished that were brought to the administration building of the Marmon company. The second floor of which was high and dry. The boats brought them to the Marmon plant and they were then sent across the Oliver Avenue bridge to the waiting motor cars.

Indianapolis is taking care of its own levee in a forceful manner and outside aid will not be necessary. In fact, we never went in for purely racing cars, but used in most every case our regular stock models right off the factory floor, or else class C cars, constructed almost entirely of stock parts. We could enter a race tomorrow if we wanted to with any one of our cars, but a visit to our factories any day or night would convince any one of the sincerity of our statement when we say that we are rushed with business and are focusing all our time and attention right now to the

NATIONAL NOT TO RUN IN SPEEDWAY

John Tremming Is Advised as to Rumor Started in New York.

Since the New York show a rumor was started that the National Company had reconsidered its decision and that they are preparing for the annual battle. In reply to this rumor Geo. M. Dickson, manager of the National Motor Car Company, writes as follows to John Tremming, the Alameda county agent for the National:

"We are not building any race cars, and we do not intend to. In fact, we never went in for purely racing cars, but used in most every case our regular stock models right off the factory floor, or else class C cars, constructed almost entirely of stock parts. We could enter a race tomorrow if we wanted to with any one of our cars, but a visit to our factories any day or night would convince any one of the sincerity of our statement when we say that we are rushed with business and are focusing all our time and attention right now to the "We are working a night force to keep up with our orders, and while we fully appreciate the value of winning this wonderful race, we are willing to let our record stand for some other true sportsman to attempt to lower. We still hold the world's stock championship record, along with many other records, and do not feel inclined right now to take the time required to enter racing.

PATHFINDER MOTOR CAR MOVED TO NEW HOME

The Pathfinder Motor Company of San Francisco has moved to its new headquarters at 1022 Geary street in that city, according to Al Wegner, head of the Pathfinder car agency in Oakland.

The new San Francisco home of the company is a one-story, fire-proof building especially constructed for the housing of the Pathfinder car interests in this territory. The salesroom is a large and well lighted affair finished up in a manner that reflects considerable credit to the tastes of Barry Cool, manager of the company. The service department is one of the main features of the new home on account of the completeness of the equipment and the large supply of parts with which it is stocked.

STARTERS SHOULD WORK EVERY TIME

Certainty of Operation What the Motoring Public Requires.

"When a driver gets into his car he wants to feel that when he pushes the button the engine is going to start," claims Manager Webber of the Oakland Don Lee Cadillac house. "There is not much comfort in being compelled to climb out again and crank the car by hand. A starter that is not practically 100 per cent efficient, the one that sometimes starts and sometimes doesn't, is more of an aggravation than a convenience.

"The motor car industry has progressed so far in refinements that to add mechanical efficiency and to comfort that the car whose starter suggests a question mark is under a severe handicap. A few years ago if a car ran a good distance without expert attention, it accomplished a lot. Now certainty of operation in a motor car is demanded just as it is in any other well established product, and an automatic cranking device must be as efficient as the engine itself."

On Tuesday, March 23, the Cadillac Motor Car company shipped the ten thousandth car of the 1913 model.

NEW DREADNOUGHT MAKES GOOD HERE

Powerful Motor and Graceful Lines Please Oakland
Critics.

The Dreadnought Moline car which made its appearance here this week has met with much favor from the local enthusiasts. The new car was tried out on the hills in and around Oakland and found to have a world of power.

The local connection with the Moline factory which has been named the Dreadnought Motors Company of California, received another shipment of the cars during the week and is now in position to make immediate deliveries.

Yesterday O. J. Root, one of the principal owners of the Moline factory and Pacific Coast manager for the car, arrived here accompanied by L. R. Spencer, a mechanical expert from the factory. Both will remain here several days. Root will have headquarters here with the local company and will be here every few days. Spencer is one of the best-known automobile experts in the East. As a driver he has won much fame. He drove the Dreadnought to many of its famous victories in endurance runs and economy tests.

Root is very much pleased with the reception the Dreadnought car has been given by the Alameda county motorists. He says: "Alameda county is rapidly coming to the front as a motor car territory. The arrangements we have made for the handling of the Dreadnought cars here will without doubt develop the field for the Dreadnought to the fullest extent. We are making every arrangement for the proper handling of the trade and intend to give our car owners every attention."

C. C. Eichelberger, who is general manager of the Dreadnought Motor Company, is also very much pleased with the new Dreadnought. He personally put the car through every test local road conditions could supply and satisfied himself that the car would prove a winner here. He stated yesterday that the interest that has been shown in the new car since its arrival here was far beyond the usual run of attention accorded new cars.

BUICK CARS OUTNUMBER OTHERS IN BIG PARADE

The Buick cars took first prize in yesterday's parade for the largest number of automobiles of one make. The Buick, according to official count, numbered thirty-three while the next nearest competitor was twenty-two and the third, had twenty machines. Manager McCutcheon of the Oakland branch of the Howard Automobile Company is very much pleased with the interest that has been shown in the parade by Buick owners and the fact that the columns of THE TRIBUNE thanks them for their loyalty to the Buick.

MAXWELL COMPANY COMPLETES DEAL

Flanders Factory Taken Over by Reorganized Motor Concern.

NEW YORK, April 5.—Announcement is made by the Maxwell Motor Company, incorporated, that arrangements have been completed for the acquisition by it of the property and business of the Flanders Motor Company, subject to the necessary corporate action on the part of the two companies, which it is expected will be obtained shortly. Pending the transfer to the Maxwell Company of the property of the Flanders Company, the latter will be operated as a branch of the Maxwell Motor Company.

Commenting on the formal announcement contained in the above paragraph Arthur C. Hull of the Maxwell Sales Company says: "It was generally understood in the trade that the Flanders Motor Company was already a part of the Maxwell Company. That was not so until yesterday, when the deal was finally consummated."

"A tentative arrangement was made some time ago for the acquisition of the Flanders Motor Company by the Maxwell Motor Company, the chief object of which, on the part of the financiers back of the Maxwell Company was to secure the services and direction of Mr. Flanders, together with his organization of experts and specialists. The actual consummation of the deal has, however, been delayed for some time, while inventories were taken, audits made and other matters straightened out. "This has now been done, and as a result the Flanders Motor Company has now been purchased by and has become in fact a part of the Maxwell Motor Company."

"Simultaneous with the absorption of the Flanders Motor Company the financial and accounting offices of the Maxwell Company were removed to Detroit. That city now becomes the center of operations of the new concern."

Detroit was already the headquarters and chief manufacturing center of the other three giants in the industry—Ford, General Motors and Studebaker—and with the addition of the $37,000,000 concern, with the quantities of cars it will build, Detroit will in the next year, produce ninety per cent of all the automobiles made in the world.

GREEK ON WORLD TOUR.

Augustus Hakken, the Greek motorcyclist who is touring the world on his two-wheeler, is now on his way to San Francisco from which point he expects to have traveled through every state in the Union and the Philippines. He will then start for the old country, finally ending his world-wide tour in his native land.

OWNERS of Haynes cars are proud of the fact that this year witnesses the twentieth anniversary of the Haynes car. Haynes purchasers find a certainty of service in that same fact.

Mr. Haynes, in 1893, built what has long been officially acknowledged America's first automobile. In the twenty years that have elapsed he and the splendid, skilled, sincere organization which has grown up around him have built thousands of automobiles which, by as many purchasers, have been acclaimed splendid cars.

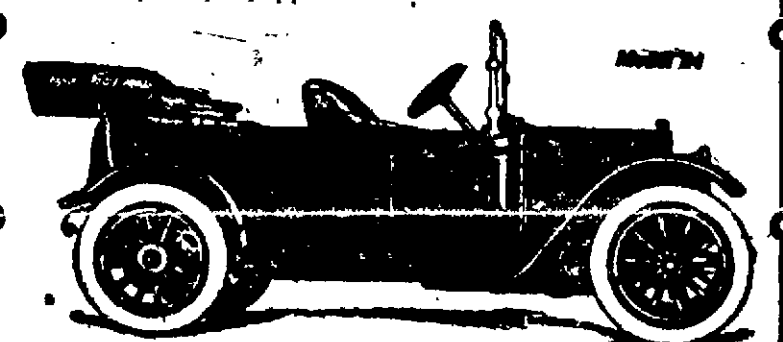

The three Haynes models for 1913 have all the qualities of efficient design, honest materials and careful workmanship that have made Haynes cars famous for service, and they have every up-to-the-minute feature that's worth while.

TIRE MAN TALKS ON TIRE MAKING

Diamond Sales Manager Tells Why Prices Have Been Reduced.

"The most welcome news that automobile have heard for some time is the reduction in the price of Diamond automobile tires. This new and lower consumers' price for these famous tires has just been announced, and all motorists rejoice," says Manager B. H. Hittman of the Diamond house in Oakland.

"This price reduction is simply the result of several conditions that have worked out for the benefit of all tire buyers. We are enabled to make a lower price on Diamond tires because we have been working with that object in view for a long time."

"In the first place we have been building tires for sixteen years. In fact, we built the first pneumatic automobile tire in America. When we first started building automobile tires that department occupied one corner in a small room. That little workshop factory has grown in sixteen years until now it covers many acres. The old, inaccurate process of building tires by hand was done away with in our plant long ago. The huge buildings where Diamond tires are made, covering many acres, are a mass of whirling, humming machinery which goes day and night, doing its work with an accuracy and skill beyond that of the most skilful hands. This machinery goes day after day, night after night, building today with the same accuracy it did yesterday. It can't forget—it can't make a mistake—it never misses a stroke, every operation is absolutely correct."

DIFFERENT PROCESS.
"The building in the old days was far from being the scientific process we make it today—not only in the process of manufacture, but in testing the raw materials and finished product."

"From the time the pure gum rubber is taken from the tree until it goes into the tire it is put through a scientific process of inspection and chemical tests until we are absolutely sure the quality is such that it is fit to become a part of a Diamond tire. The cotton which goes to make the fabric in the tire is taken through a similar routine of scientific tests and inspections."

"In our laboratories alone, which are said to be the best equipped in the tire industry, we employ a force of more than twenty-five experienced chemists who are continually testing the materials that go into our tires, and searching for new processes of building tires with more road resistance. It was in this laboratory that the process of making 'Vitalized Rubber' was discovered."

BUILDING BETTER.
"The one aim of our company from the time we built the first automobile tire has been to constantly build better. We begin with the raw material and in every process of manufacture to the finished product we use nothing but the most thorough and scientific methods known to the industry. To build better we must not only inspect and test the raw material, but we must inspect and test the finished product."

"In the early days of the industry we couldn't test tires as thoroughly as we do now. Today we have special testing machinery in our factory, and a big fleet of motor cars which is used exclusively for road testing. After a tire has been given the test it is taken into the laboratory and dissected under the skillful eyes of our chemists, who can detect the slightest flaw. It is this combination of huge factories, Vitalized Rubber, specially designed tire building machinery, constant investigations by our chemists to discover economies, methods of compounding rubber, and careful inspection of all our products before going on the market and the nation-wide distribution of our goods that has enabled us to build up a volume of business, and it is this tremendous volume that enabled us to sell tires at so reasonable a price to the consumer."

"In fact, the tire of today is certainly getting the best of it today as the tire business is conducted on a basis that leaves the manufacturer and dealer but a very small margin."

CONVENIENCE AIM OF CAR BUILDERS

Simplicity of Control Also Feature of the Modern Automobile.

"This is the age of convenience. Only the motor car, one of the most wonderful developments of modern civilization, has been a long way behind practically everything else in the matter of convenience," says Calvin C. Erb, general manager of the Pioneer Auto company, agents for the Chalmers cars.

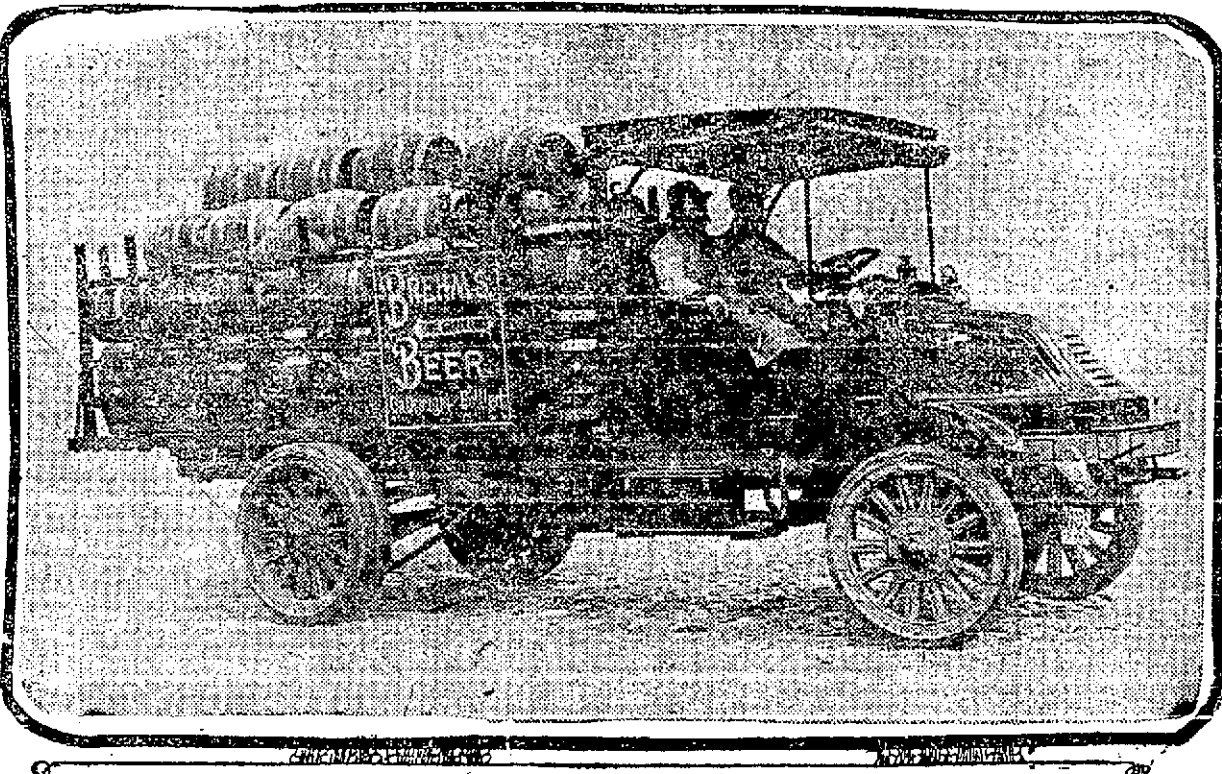

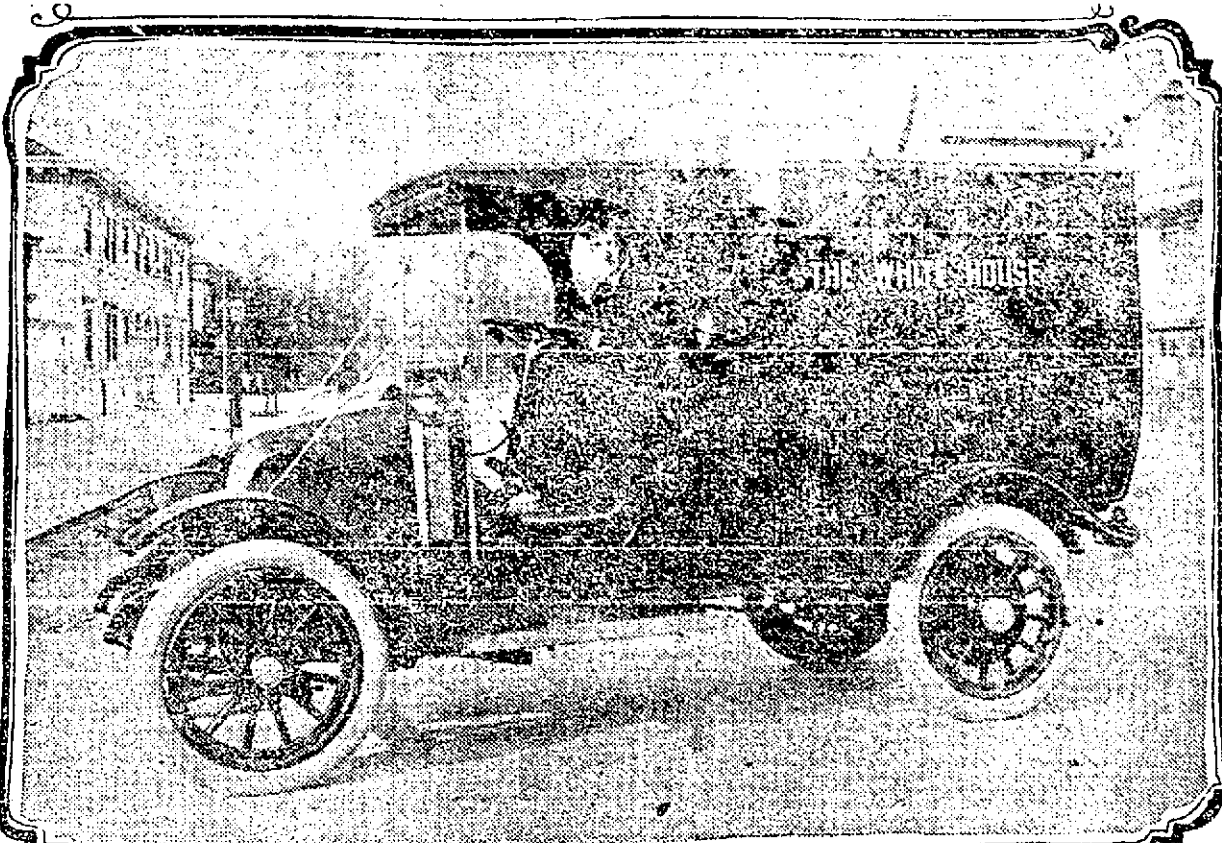

"But this season finds the better class of motor cars offering better mechanical conveniences than they have in the past. It isn't necessary for the present day automobile owner to be a mechanical engineer, about all one has to do to drive successfully, one of this season's leading cars is to sit in the driver's seat and learn the location of a few simple controls."

"Self-starters and electric lights have probably added more conveniences to the motor car than any other accessory. 'Pneumatic' tires continue to be the hughest, but it has been relegated to a great degree by the use of demountable rims, which provide a great convenience in the changing of tires. Tower tire inflators, doing away with the old and laborious method of the hand pump furnishes another convenience to the automobilist."

"A little study of the new cars will show that the designers have been at great pains to put the gear shift and emergency brake levers in the most convenient position. Dropping his hand on the steering wheel the driver is almost forced to touch these levers. The pedals, accelerator, spark and throttle levers, carburetor priming lever, air pump control, a meter for electric lighting system, large and easily distinguishable oil sight feed, horn bulb and speedometer, which are all conveniently and comfortably located."

GIRLS TO HAVE DIVISION.
So many girl motorists have planned to join the annual tour of the Kansas Short Grass Motorcyclist Club this summer that it has been arranged for one division of the tourists to be made up of girl riders entirely. The idea of a girls' division was first conceived by Miss Inez Patterson, daughter of B. J. Patterson, president of the F. A. M., and she will be the captain of the division. Invitations have been sent to girl riders all over the country, to join the tour."

GLENN H. CURTIS BUYS AUTOMOBILE

Famous Aviator Secures Six-Cylinder Mitchell Car at Racine.

Firm in his determination to no longer tempt fate by flying, Aviator Glenn H. Curtiss, whose exploits in a biplane have given him international fame, has compromised on an automobile that will "skim over the roads like a bird."

Known in two hemispheres as the greatest gas engine expert of the decade, Curtiss has planned to erect near his airplane factory at Hammondsport, N. Y., from April 25 until next fall, when he will go to San Diego, Cal., for several months to direct experiments with hydro-aeroplanes.

In order to escape the almost irresistible impulse to start a motor on his aeroplane and take an air jaunt to some neighboring city at an altitude of several thousand feet, Curtiss has arranged to have a seven passenger, six-cylinder Mitchell automobile delivered from the factory at Racine to his summer home at Hammondsport, and will put in his spare time touring.

Harry B. Richardson, a Mitchell agent in a neighboring city, who gets the credit of closing the sale for the Big Six Mitchell, is in receipt of congratulations from Mitchell dealers in several cities, all expressing their appreciation of his ability in a selling line. Aviator Curtiss, who has experimented with every form of internal combustion engine from the days of the "contraptions" he used on a motorcycle to the most powerful aeroplane motor, selected the Mitchell Six from among a number of other makes that were offered to him.

"If the agent with whom I placed my order," said Mr. Curtiss, "is happy he should thank the designer of the machine out at the Racine factory. I have elected to come flying in the car, but did not promise to refrain from flying over the country roads with my hands clasping the rim of a steering wheel. I think the next best thing to piloting one of my powerful biplanes is to guide a big, powerful Mitchell Six motor car."

NEW KELLY MOTOR CAUSING COMMENT

"The new motor in use on the new water-cooled Kelly trucks has been the center of a great deal of interest from the engineers recently. There has been continually a throng of experts examining its mechanism," says F. G. Miner, Pacific Coast manager for the Kelly-Springfield Motor Truck Company.

"One of the principal advantages of this motor is the fact that every part of it is instantly accessible. When the hood is lifted it has the same effect as though the motor were placed on a work bench. The location of the carburetor and magneto is such that adjustments can be made without difficulty."

"Every part of the motor is open so that nothing has to be removed to reach any other part."

"A prominent Detroit engineer examined the Kelly motor very closely recently, and said: 'The Kelly motor is one of the most advanced motors I have seen in a long time. Too much cannot be said in favor of its simplicity and efficiency. It is a real motor from every point of view.'"

LIPPARD-STEWART TRUCK PROVING POPULAR HERE

The Lippard Stewart truck is proving very satisfactory in the service of Oakland houses, according to C. L. Hebrank of the Olsen and Hunter Auto company. "We have sold two of the Lippard Stewart trucks to the White House," says Hebrank. "The first was delivered on November 4 and the second on December 31 of last year. The figures as to the economy of operating these vehicles would surprise many merchants that still cling to the horse drawn delivery wagons. The White House has had years of experience with motor equipment and we feel that their preference for the Lippard-Stewart is one of the best endorsements we could get."

The Washington Times has purchased a motorcycle to be used in making deliveries to trains and sub-stations.

UNIQUE PRINTING PRESS IN TOLEDO

Overland Plant Installs a New Blue Print Printing Machine.

William Custer, who introduced the printing press in England about 1473, knew nothing about modern methods of transportation. When he wished to go on a journey William mounted the "palfrey" of our forefathers and "stage-coated" through the country. Should his shade return to the world today, his astonishment at the appearance of the modern automobile, the successor of the palfrey, would be no more pronounced than at the wonderful printing presses which have taken the place of his poor little hand-screw machine for recording events of his day. Aside from the newspapers of today the tremendous extent to which the automobile has been developed has had much to do with the improvement of the printing press.

The William Overland Company of Toledo, Ohio, with its annual output of 40,000 automobiles, presents an illustration of how the motor car industry has developed the printing press. The Toledo concern has in its factory one of the most interesting printing presses now in use, one for the production of blue prints in large quantities. With old style machinery this company would find it impossible to keep up with the demand of its engineering department for blue prints, but with the wonderful press this branch of the business is handled as rapidly as any other.

The press operates with a huge roll of sensitive paper, which traveling over numerous rollers, first through a powerful electric "bath" then through water and over a resistance coil for drying, reproduces as high as 40,000 of what are known as standard size original drawings every day. These drawings are about 10x16 inches. This amount of work is done more rapidly and better than a dozen men, performing the operations by hand, could do before the introduction of the machine.

JEFFERY COMPANY 40 YEARS OF AGE

Kenosha Firm Celebrates Its 40th Anniversary in Business.

The Thomas B. Jeffery Company, Kenosha, Wis., manufacturer of the Cross-Country motor car, will this year celebrate the fortieth anniversary of its entrance into the manufacturing field. Although Thomas B. Jeffery, the founder of the business, opened his first workshop on South Water street, Chicago, before the Chicago fire, this place was destroyed so that the nation wide reputation of the Jeffery products dates back just forty years. For twenty-eight years Thomas B. Jeffery was associated with R. P. Gormully in the manufacture of the Rambler bicycle and other kindred industries, while for the past twelve years Thomas B. Jeffery Company, an outgrowth of the old Gormully & Jeffery Company, has been manufacturing Rambler motor cars at Kenosha. The original workshop on South Water street, Chicago, occupied one room. From this modest beginning one of the two largest concerns in the bicycle industry was built.

In 1900 the Jeffery factory occupied but 65,000 square feet of floor space. Today it has 104 acres of ground area and 25 acres of floor space. The present head of the company is Charles T. Jeffery.

HAYNES CAR TO UNCLE SAM HELPS EXHIBIT HERE IN 1915

Kokomo Motor Official Arranges for Large Show Space

Official reservation of exhibition space in the Automobile Palace of the Panama-Pacific Exposition in 1915 was made yesterday by Charles B. Warren, general manager of the Haynes Automobile Company, vice-president of the Haynes Auto Sales Company and president of the Indiana Automobile Manufacturers' Association. In that space, which will probably be larger than any other individual exhibitor, the Haynes Company will show a complete line of the Haynes cars and take advantage of the unusual liberties that will be afforded the entrance in the exhibition, changing the models as the season advances and incorporating new and original ideas along automobile show lines.

When the matter of the Automobile Palace in connection with the 1915 Fair was brought to Warren's attention a few days ago the latter immediately became enthusiastic over the proposition. A conference with Warren and the executive committee was arranged. Details of the exhibition were discussed and the reservation of space immediately made. Since then elaborate plans have been formulated by Warren with the cooperation of W. B. Cochran, president and general manager of the Haynes Auto Sales Company, the western distributor of the Haynes cars, and the Haynes factory at Kokomo, Ind.

To state that Warren is highly enthusiastic over the prospects of the 1915 fair and its automobile show is expressing the situation in mild terms. What he has to say should furnish inspiration for every automobile dealer in California.

"Every Western representative of the Eastern automobile factories should unite on a great big scale and pull every wire they can lay a finger to in order to get the automobile show in connection with the fair the biggest thing of its kind ever recorded in the history of the automobile industry," says Warren. "San Francisco and the bay community, as far as I can gather, has never had a real automobile show, and the opportunity that is embodied in the plans of the Panama-Pacific officials are so big and extensive that neither the local dealers, branch houses or eastern factories can afford to let the opportunity slip by. One thing is certain, if the advantages which are offered exhibitors are utilized the show will be a tremendous success from every standpoint."

"One of the first things that the Haynes Company will get busy on upon my return to the factory a few weeks hence will be to get the Smithsonian Institute to send out to the fair the first Haynes automobile ever built. This car has been given official recognition by the government as being the first automobile ever built in America. During the past few years this car has been kept in the Smithsonian Institute as property of the government. If the government, on the other hand, will not permit the Haynes organization to use this car, we shall endeavor to induce Uncle Sam to exhibit the car as an individual."

"There can, however, be no question about the wonderful opportunity that will be afforded the automobile manufacturers of the country at the time of the Panama-Pacific Fair. If the Haynes Company fails in getting government cooperation in the matter of showing the first Haynes car, the organization will nevertheless be excellently represented. We will co-operate with the fair officials in every possible way to aid in making the automobile show one of the greatest exhibits in connection with the exposition."

RUNAWAY CAR IS STOPPED BY AUTO

Chalmers Motor With Burst of Speed Saves Lives of Passengers.

The story as to how a Chalmers automobile carrying a street car crew came down a runaway highway car Friday night and by catching up and running alongside of the car while the crew boarded it and brought it under control thereby saving the lives of some twelve passengers was told yesterday by C. A. Penfield, manager of the Oakland branch house of the Pioneer Automobile Company.

According to Penfield he was returning to San Lorenzo in company with Mrs. Penfield in a Chalmers car while approaching the car barns they were stopped by two street car employees who hastily informed them that while changing crews at the car barn, the car had in some way got started and under considerable momentum before it was noticed by the oncoming crew when first realization of danger was aroused by the screams of the passengers who rapidly became panic-stricken as the car careered on its way increasing in speed at every turn.

Taking in the situation Penfield started after the car with the motorman and conductor. The road was rough and the danger was imminent for a touring car to race over that particular piece of road. But Penfield had confidence in the car and "stepped on it" to the limit. It was an exciting phase but there were too many lives at stake to make it an enjoyable one. By the end of the second mile the reliable Chalmers nosed ahead of a runaway street car and by regulating the speed with that of the runaway the crew was able to board the electric car and get it under control. Penfield drove home with the thanks of the passengers and happy in his faith of the Chalmers.

MOTORCYCLE NOTES.

The rapid increase in the use of motorcycles is shown by a St. Louis, Mo., dealer who has been handling the two-wheelers for nine years. The first year he sold three machines. Last year he sold 200 and in 1912 he expects to at least double that number.

W. J. Walker won the Worcester endurance test by riding his motorcycle 425 miles in 24 hours with a perfect score.

About twenty members of the Chester (Pa.) Motorcycle Club enjoyed a trip to Atlantic City on Easter Sunday.

E. G. Baker, of Indianapolis, claims to be the first person to cross the island of Cuba on a motorcycle. His two-wheelers were a source of never-ending interest to the natives, many of whom had never seen one.

Motocyclists of Assiatcon, Canada, have formed a motorcycle club.

Five-mile pilgrimages have been arranged by the Terra Haute (Ind.) Motorcycle Club for April 1.

Gramm Truck President Tells of Government Good Road Work.

(By JOHN N. WILLYS)

President Gramm Motor Truck Company.

Though few people are aware of the fact, the national government gave the motor truck industry a substantial boost last September, when Congress passed the postoffice appropriation bill. Attached to this bill was a "rider" which aroused very little comment, mainly because its importance was not understood. The "rider" in question was a provision for the building of good roads throughout the country, the work to be carried on in conjunction with the efforts of local authorities in the various states.

The importance of this "rider" to the motor truck industry cannot be overestimated. Not only does the primary idea of the bill, the improvement of roads throughout the country through federal aid, mean a vastly increased field of operation for power vehicles, but the actual work when it is undertaken will open a great opportunity for the use of the motor truck in road building. The "rider" in the bill, the improvement of roads throughout the country through federal aid, mean a vastly increased field of operation for power vehicles, but the actual work when it is undertaken will open a great opportunity for the use of the motor truck in road building.

The plan outlined in the government bill is an excellent one. It calls for an appropriation of $500,000 to be spent in improving roads selected by the government, over which rural delivery is or may hereafter be established. Each state in the Union is to be allotted about $5000 for the improvement of two post roads each year with a reserve fund of about $2000 to be spent annually in the maintenance of such roads. To avail themselves of the government cash each state must expend twice these amounts in road building and maintenance, the work to be done under the supervision of local authorities.

All over the country the practicability of motor trucks on road building has been proved. One eastern contracting firm has been using a Gramm truck in this work for several months and reports that the vehicle is accomplishing the same results as five two-horse teams did under the old system. The truck, equipped with a dump body, not only carries twice the load formerly hauled by a team, but makes the trip in far less time and further demonstrates its economy by doing away with a large percentage of the labor. The truck dumps and automatically spreads its load of crushed stone better than could be accomplished by hand labor, and only the driver and an assistant are required for the work, where before a large crew of shovellers was necessary to distribute the material over the roadbed, after it was unloaded from the wagon.

FIRESTONE AGENT WARNS TRUCK MEN

Machine Is Often Sacrificed for Sake of Big Tire Mileage.

"One of the most sane and progressive remarks on truck tires, was recently made by a most conservative user when he said, 'Don't go mileage mad,'" says Howard Holmes, of Holmes & Olson of the Firestone Tire house.

"It hits a keynote of tire troubles, to which truck owners ordinarily pay little or no attention. There is no question that the majority of truck owners of all classes, are more or less subject to this kind of 'madness.' The call everywhere is for tires which will give most mileage. The car and truck owners are every calling for more and more mileage, and do not realize that this mileage, beyond a certain point, must incur losses to pay for the gain."

"The truck tires built and sold by the Firestone Company unquestionably gives all the mileage anyone could, within reason, ask for. This is one of the strongest points of these supreme service tires. But, as they point out, a tire to give mileage must be tough and unusually strong. The less pure rubber there is in a tire, naturally the less resiliency there is."

"The less resiliency the less capable are the tires for taking up the vibration of road shock, and the sideways vibration which is increased rather than decreased by the springs of the truck. The more vibration there is, just that much more strain is there on the mechanism of the truck. You may get mileage, but you must be sure at the same time, your driving mechanism does not suffer because of an unresilient tire."

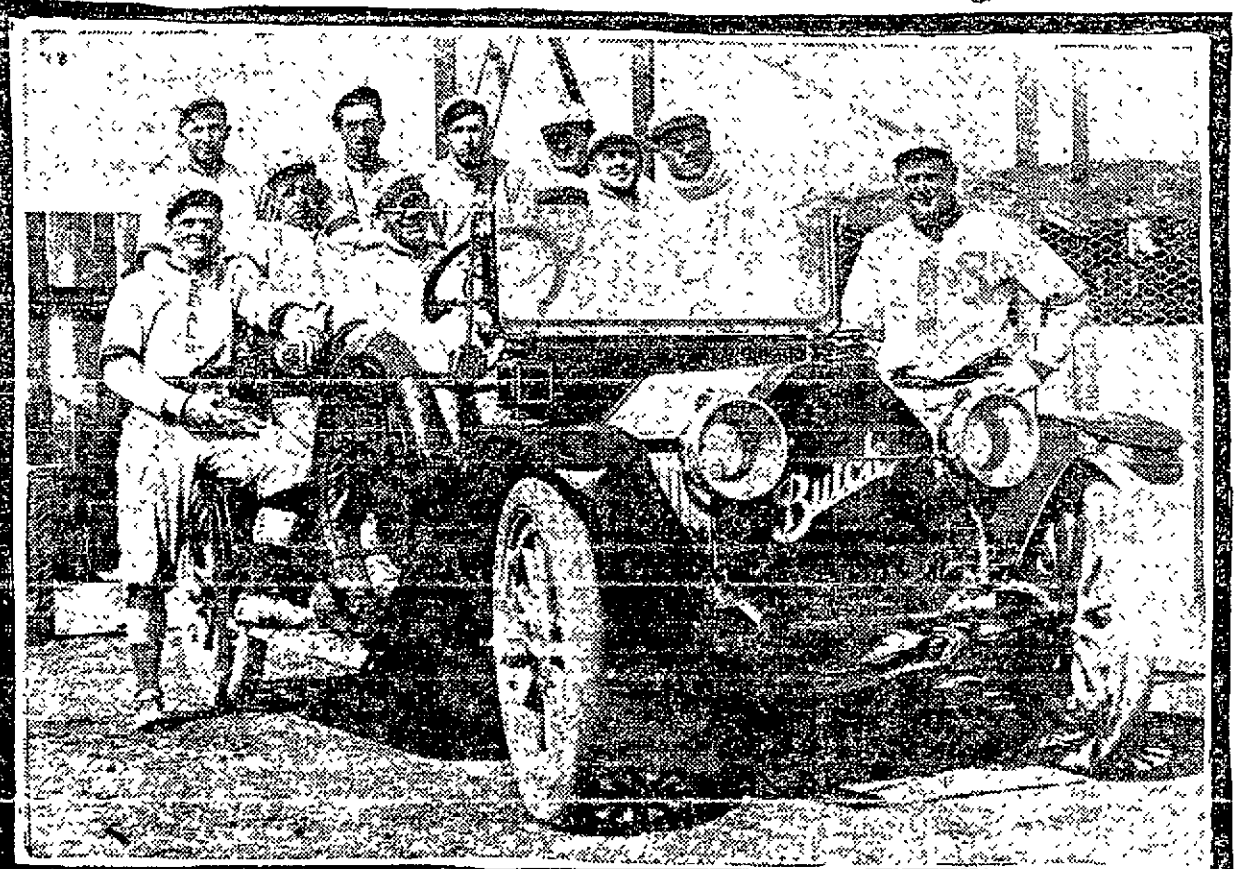

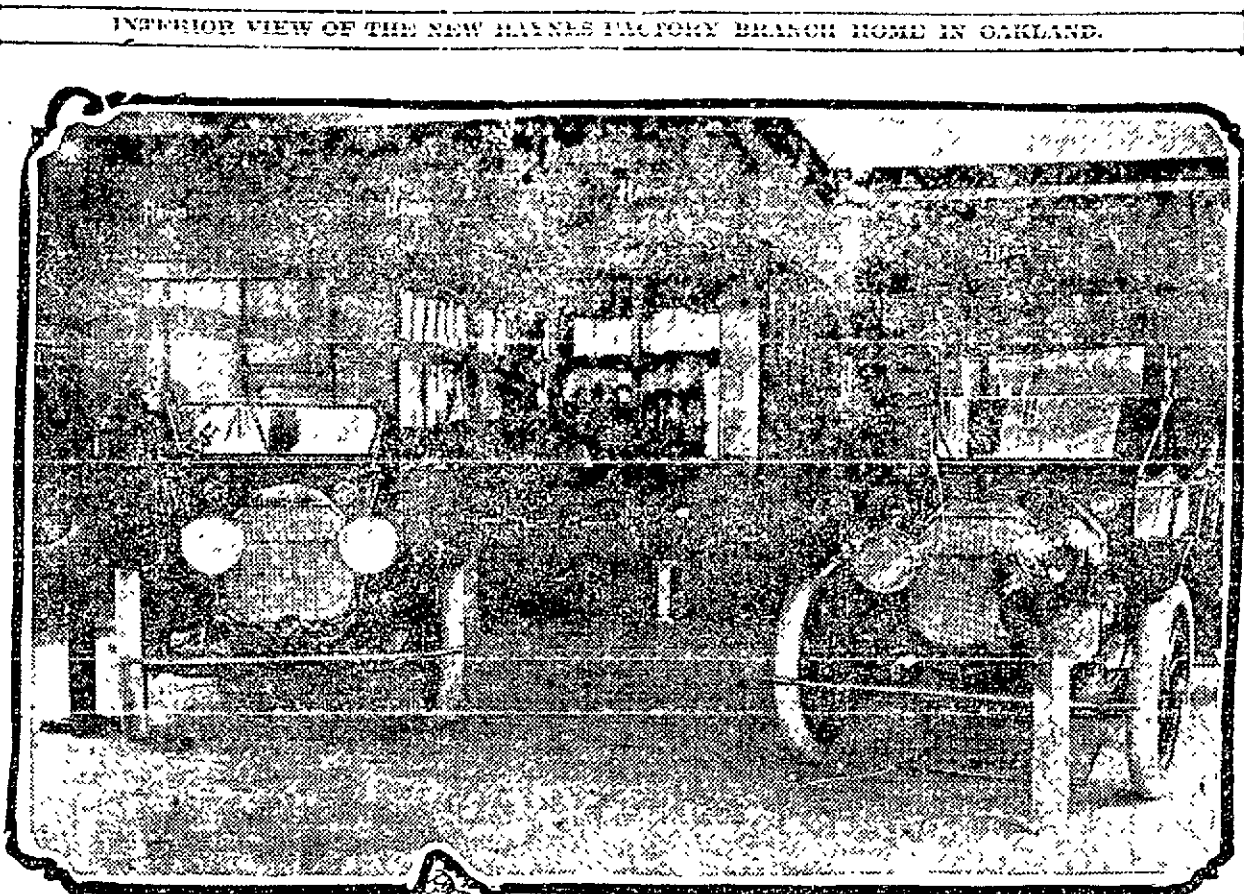

"There is a point in rubber combination where a tire gives fullest resiliency and greatest mileage. It is because they are built so exactly to that standard of service that Firestone tires are giving universal satisfaction wherever used, so far as we have heard."

BIG BOOST FOR GOOD ROADS. The good roads movement received a great boost in Indiana through the action of the State Legislature in providing that all license fees for automobiles and motorcycles shall be distributed in the counties of the state for the specific purpose of improving roads.

The law, in effect, places a premium on good roads and offers each county a practical inducement for activity in road improvement by providing that portions of the fees received by the state are to be distributed among the counties for the purpose of building good roads.

Thus, the more good roads any county builds, the more road money is distributed to that county. Motorcyclists were active in obtaining the passage of this law, among them being O. F. McLean, president of the Indiana district of the Federation of American Motorcyclists. The law does away with all license fees except one to the state, thus reducing the total license cost. Previously it has been $2 to the state and $1 to the city. Hereafter it will be $2 to the state alone. The license fee for automobiles ranges from $5 to $20 depending on the horsepower of the automobile.

All such fees received by the state will be distributed as follows: One-third to be divided equally among the counties of the state; One-third to be divided among the counties in the proportion that the number of miles of the state's and national roads in the county bear to the entire mileage of the state. One-third to be mileage of the state. One-third to be the amount received from the counties for license registration.

MOTORCYCLE ROSE FESTIVAL.

This year the first two days of the annual Rose Festival of Portland, Ore., will be set aside as motorcycle days. At that time the first convention of the newly organized Oregon State Federation of Motorcyclists will be held. There will also be a motorcycle parade, in which it is expected that 1000 riders will take part. Prizes will be given for the most attractively decorated outfits.

LECTURE TOUR BRINGS ACTION.

Aside from the gathering in of numerous new memberships, the first direct result of the transcontinental lecture tour of J. Leo Sauer, chairman of the legal action committee of the F. A. M. is the organization in Maryland of a State Federation of Motorcyclists. This action was taken shortly after the visit of Mr. Sauer in Baltimore, where he represented the advantages of motorcycle touring into a state organization. The date of the Maryland convention and meet has not been definitely decided upon but will doubtless be held sometime during the summer.

Mr. Sauer's itinerary calls for a lecture at Denver on March 30, and plans are being made for a large meeting there. His next meeting will be in St. Louis, then Chicago, from which point he will go to New York for a week before touring the central states.

STUDEBAKER'S "WEST VIRGINIA." Several months ago the Studebaker corporation bought 30,000 tons of steam coal and stacked it in the corner of the main yard as insurance against fuel famine. Employees have dubbed the mountain pile "The State of West Virginia."

That the government will be compelled eventually to coat the Mississippi levees with cement is the belief of Major Lee Richardson, Studebaker representative at Vicksburg, Miss., who sees in the situation an opening for a magnificent highway down the line of the whole valley.

BUICK MAN TALKS ABOUT THE MOTOR

McCutcheon Compares the Engines of Buick Cars to Those of Railroads.

"Probably very few automobile owners have ever stopped to consider just how fine a piece of machinery an automobile engine really is," said G. H. McCutcheon, head of the Howard Automobile Company's Oakland branch, Buick distributor. "The man who owns even a fine watch does not complain if it varies 30 seconds in a week, but will swear that his auto is no good if it misses one or two explosions. The watch on the one hand is given the best of care, while the auto is given practically no care at all. The watch runs at one speed all the time. The average engine of an automobile must be capable of running perfectly at any speed between 160 and 2000 revolutions per minute."

"Another very good comparison is the railroad engine, which runs on steel rails, is handled by two mechanical experts while running and is thoroughly looked over and cleaned up at the end of each run. Compare this to a motor car which is pounded over hills and rocks and through sand and mud by a man who knows absolutely nothing about machinery, but who expects and demands that his machine take him any place he chooses to go."

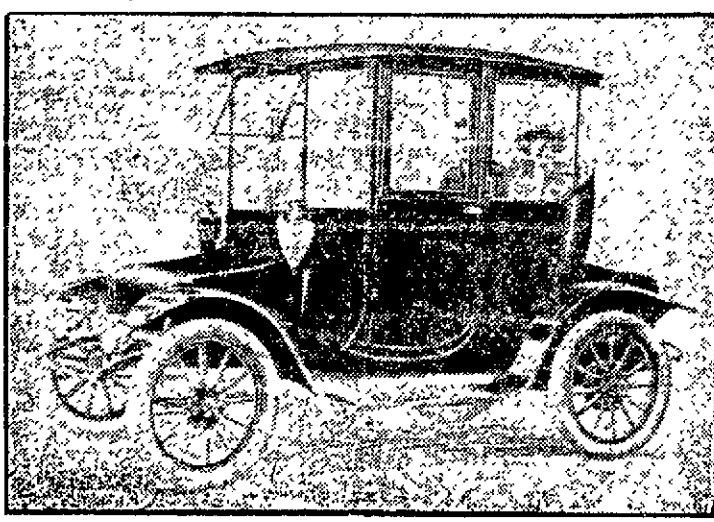

"Another comparison which will prove interesting is the size and weight of the automobile motor as compared with any other motor of equal horsepower except the specially constructed airplane motor. Take any 30 horsepower motor, for instance, other than an automobile engine and you will find it eight or nine times as large. You will probably find it sitting on a cement foundation that it would take an earthquake to shake. In the motor car the same power requirements must be obtained from a motor of the smallest possible size mounted on nothing but a steel frame. It is taken out on the road where it goes tipping first one way and then another and not matter what the condition, it is supposed to pull its load without even a piston slap."

"When analyzed, it is really the most wonderful piece of machinery ever built."

NOVEL ELECTRICAL DISPLAY.

As a striking test of the electric cranking and lighting device in his Studebaker "35," George Boyles added the word "Studebaker" in electric bulbs to the crest of the hood and startled Kalamazoo. The apparatus handled the extra load with ease, generating ample current from the gasoline motor.

M. W. Belque, a cement contractor of Colorado Springs, has used a motorcycle since 1910 in riding about to oversee the work on his various contracts. He says the average cost of operation is one-fifth of a cent per mile. He has had practically no repair cost, and is still using the same tires which were on the machine when he bought it.

PRICE CUTTING BAD FOR THE PUBLIC

Detroit Manufacturer in Letter Discusses Prices

(By HENRY B. JOY)

President Packard Motor Car Company.

An established retail price fixed and published by a responsible manufacturer is for the consumers' protection.

The control of the retail price by the manufacturer, when the fixed and published retail price is actually, honestly and invariably maintained by the manufacturer and by his representatives, the retail dealers, is the only honest, square way to insure fair dealing between the manufacturer and his patrons. Such a method and such only is square, honest business.

When, however, such a retail price is only "ostensibly established" by a manufacturer, but is fixed "high" for the purpose of having something to "throw off" to negotiate with or "trade" with, it is crooked business. The manufacturer who does it is crooked and the retailer or dealer also is crooked. The trusting or unsuspecting consumer is deceived. The department of justice is, by pending litigation under the Sherman act, seeking to prevent the control of the resale price to the consumer after the sale of the product to the dealer by the manufacturer has been consummated.

This is wrong in principle and wrong in fact. It tends to force and actually will compel "unfair competition," resulting in one price to one consumer and another price to another.

We have demanded that the railroad should establish, publish and maintain equal rates to all. Why are we so fussy about railroad rates? Yet we institute legal proceedings to prevent the Kellogg Roasted Corn Flake Company from treating all consumers of its products alike. The government would be in better business if it sought to compel equal treatment to all.

If the department of justice sought to compel a manufacturer to maintain established list prices by interpreting the Sherman Act to mean that cut prices below the manufacturers' fixed and published prices was conspiracy in restraint of trade, which it actually is, great good would be accomplished in promoting honesty in business.

We failed and fined railroad officials for cutting prices on freight. Why is not the same principle applicable to products of manufacturers in relation to the consumers of their goods.

We have a right to demand equal and fair treatment to all. Competition will still exist in its broadest and best sense and in the most beneficial form to all concerned.

If a manufacturer establishes and publishes a consumers' price he should be compelled to maintain it, and if a sale at less than list price can be proven to have been made by his dealers or agents, then all sales for a period of say thirty days prior to the "cut price sale" should be subject to the same principle. In such a condition it is plain that published prices would be maintained. The confiding purchaser would not be cheated as is now largely the practice. Purchases could be made with confidence, the expenditure of time, talent and energy in "slopping" and negotiating, and all consumers would be treated alike and each get a square deal.

It is obvious also that established published prices would be fixed at their proper and legitimate point. A published price would mean the actual value of the article at which it must sell on its merits in competition with other like products.

Competition would be transformed from "sharp and unscrupulous business methods" to the basis of "quality merit and service."

GAEL ATHLETES WILL MEET IN TOURNEY FOR MEDALS

A Gaelic athletic tourney is planned by the St. Patrick's Athletic Association for three consecutive Sundays, as follows: April 13, 20 and 27. The events are scheduled for St. Ignace Stadium, to commence at 10 o'clock in the afternoon of each day. Hurling and Gaelic football will be the features on the program, and soccer will also be contested for these events. Additional attractions will be a mile relay race for the high school boys and a discus and throwing competition. Two sets of valuable medals will be presented to the winners in the hurling and football contests.

On April 13, the McCreedy football team will meet the Erin's Hopes, while the Gaelics and Geraldines line up together. The following Sunday the Farrells will play the draw of the winning teams of the previous week. The high school discus throw and relay races will also be held on this day.

The third Sunday, April 27, the final of the football matches will be played. The opening of the hurling contests is scheduled between the Young Irelands and the O'Connells.

The committee in charge is as follows: Rev. M. J. Walsh, president; James Ginnity, vice-president; William Fitzgerald, secretary, and J. C. O'Brien, treasurer.

EASTERN BASEBALL

CUBS WIN OPENER.
CHICAGO, April 5.—The Cubs trimmed the Indianapolis Americans 5 to 2 in the opening battle this afternoon. Charley Smith was hit several times by the minor leaguers, who played great ball in spots. There was the big smoke on the home team, with three out of a total of six hits. Score: R. H. E. Indianapolis..... 2 4 1 Chicago..... 5 2 0
Batteries—Merr, Green and Casey; Smith and Hennessey.

BOX SCORE SHUTOUT.
ST. JOSEPH, Mo., April 5.—The White Sox regulars defeated St. Joseph today, 2 to 0. Joe Bess, Sox pitcher, was never in danger until the ninth, when he pitched a part of it by himself, sunk him in a deep hole. He pulled out of it and thus saved himself and his pals. The Browns were out with five hits and the Sox were held to seven.

SECOND BOX HEATEN.
DES MOINES, Ia., April 5.—The Sox second team ran into some real pitching this morning and were thumped by Iabel's Des Moines boosters, 3 to 0.

The Sox could only accumulate two hits off the combined forces of Pitchers Fitch and Roggie. Graham and Cicotte for the entire route.

STOVALL CLEANS UP.
LOUIS, April 5.—A three-bagger by Manager Stovall in the eighth inning with the bases filled and two out won today's game for the Browns over the Cardinals, 6 to 0.

EBERT'S FIELD DEDICATED.
BROOKLYN, April 5.—Before one of the greatest crowds in the baseball history of Brooklyn, Ebert's field was dedicated today and Frank Chance made his debut as a manager in the American League. Brooklyn and Manhattan fans felt that they received their "boon" worth. The game started off with a bang and in a short moment interest was in the contest. Finally closed with a decisive flash in the ninth, Brooklyn taking the honors, 3 to 1.

PNEUMATIC TIRE 1846 INVENTION

Scotchman Given Credit for the First Designing Inner Tube Idea.

"The first pneumatic tire appeared in 1846," said Tom Wilkinson, San Francisco manager of the United States Tire Company.

"Away back in 1846 a far-sighted inventor conceived the idea that sooner or later folks who rode in rapidly propelled vehicles would rise up in protest against vibration caused by the contact of steel and iron with the roadway and demand relief.

"This was responsible for the patenting of the first pneumatic tire. R. W. Thompson, a Scotchman, is given credit for the invention. He conceived the idea of a leather cover, bolted on to the wooden rim of the wheel, and within this rough contrivance he inserted a rubber inner tube.

"From this primitive beginning the pneumatic tire has progressed to its present, highly developed state. But, as is often the case in such instances, Thompson's invention did not prove a practical success, although some of the tires were used on carriages and a few were fitted to steam coaches running on the highways of Scotland and England.

"In present day pneumatic tire construction about the only feature remaining of Thompson's original idea is the rubber inner tube."

STUTZ TALKS ON GOODYEAR TIRES

Nothing Counts so Much With Owners as Low Cost of the Repair.

"Oversize tires are a good investment for the car manufacturers, although they cost a little more than smaller tires," says Harry Stutz, president of the Ideal Motor Car company, Indianapolis, Ind.

"We have one of our 1313 models equipped with 34x6 inch Goodyear oversize tires instead of the usual 34x4 1/2 inch tires. Automobile makers in these days try to cut down car upkeep. We can't warrant tires, but we know that nothing counts so much with users as low cost of tire repair. We car makers believe that for the good of the industry tire expense should be minimized, and for that reason we are willing to pay a little more for oversize tires to insure satisfaction to our patrons.

"Tire makers have found that 10 per cent added to the air capacity of a tire adds 25 per cent to the tire mileage. In addition to taking care of the overload, oversize tires will give better traction than smaller tires, thus making driving easier and safer in slippery places. Another advantage of the oversize tire, which makes them a good investment for the carmaker is the fact that oversize tires eliminate vibration and crystallizing of vital parts of a car, thus protecting the car, increasing the comfort, whereas smaller tires add crystallization, vibration and hard riding.

"We believe that the addition of Goodyear Oversize tires has helped make the Stutz tire even more desirable. The tire is just one of the many finer points our engineers have concentrated on, but the ever increasing popularity of the Stutz shows how close attention to details which affect so seriously the purses of our users, has enabled the Stutz to attain its present position."

PORTLAND IS FORTUNATE IN GETTING FAT DATES

While the Portland fans are bemoaning the fact that the Ducks are opening the season away from home, Manager McCredie is making hay while the sun shines. The Ducks without a doubt is the luckiest manager in the Coast League. He not only opened the season with the Seals, but he will also play the first game of the season on the new Oakland grounds, which will be played this morning.

Then when the Oaks come home next week Mac's roll reducers will meet the Oaks in the first game in San Francisco, and will also figure in the official opening of the new Oakland Ball Park. Judge McCredie, who is something of a car among the players of the team, is letting "Cy" Rodgers, captain of the team, influence him this season in regard to the work of men on the field. This is a wonderful change on the part of McCredie, as in past seasons he has ruled with an iron hand, using his captain as a figure head.

This season, however, McCredie has given Rodgers free hand. Rodgers has considerable influence in handling the team. An instance to show what respect McCredie has for Rodgers' judgment is in the Stanley case. Mac had fully decided to send the southpaw over to Nick Williams, but Rodgers had a talk with him, and finally persuaded Walter to give the season away from home, Manager McCredie is making hay while the sun shines.

The story that Abe Kemp lost his job on the Bulletin because of Cal Ewing's protests on account of roasts on his team is bosh. Abe was lured to Los Angeles because of salary. McGilgah, Baggerly, Gleason and Mannix are still after Ewing, and will camp on his trail until he furnishes the big town with a creditable ball team.

There is talk of a North Valley League, comprising Madera, Modesto, Merced and Los.

J., in the final game of the tournament. The score was 400 to 287. The winner made a high run of 130 and his average was 19.12. Gardner's high run was 48 and his average 12.15. 21.

OLLIE KIRK SAYS HE WAS BEATEN BY REFEREE

A message has been received from Ollie Kirk from New York about the bout with Abe Attell, and the St. Louis scrapper blames Referee Sammy Kelly for being the loser, and not the ability of Abe to come back.

According to Ollie's missive, he was in good condition in the third round and ready to protect himself when the referee official shoved him to his corner and proclaimed Attell the winner on a technical knockout.

Ollie continues in his missive that, while he was knocked down three times, he was not dazed and was simply taking the benefit of the count of nine. And Kirk adds that he intends to get a return match with the ex-fighter Champ and prove that his first victory was no fluke.

It will be remembered, though, that when Ollie fought Johnny Kilbane at St. Louis last New Year's Day, he was helpless against the ropes when Sharpe fouled the bout and still claimed after the battle was over that he was not all out and could have continued.

The Truth

One may be sure that Time and Meters tell the bare, plain truth on tires.

False claims may have a brief effect. But you may depend that the tire which leads in the long run has made its claims come true.

We ask you to judge the Goodyears by the place they hold after fourteen years' comparison.

The Top Place

Goodyear tires, by long odds, are the most popular tires in the world.

The demand has grown like an avalanche since motorists found them out.

Last year's sales by far exceeded our previous 12 years put together. And this year's sales to users is running twice as large as last.

The Verdict of 300,000

Over two million Goodyears have gone into use, on perhaps 300,000 cars.

So this matchless demand embodies the verdict of 300,000 men.

Not men who are guessing.

MOTOR CARS

20,000 Miles

What car will carry you that distance in greater comfort and safety, and with less trouble and expense than a Chalmers?

It's a pretty poor car indeed that won't make a good showing in a salesman's demonstration.

But it takes a pretty good car to travel 20,000 miles and please you as well at the end as it did in the beginning.

Chalmers cars stand this test. Hundreds are driven this far every year. Some have been driven as high as 140,000 miles, and are still in daily service.

You can pay almost any price for a motor car, but even the highest priced won't carry you 20,000 miles in more comfort with greater economy, or with less mechanical attention than the Chalmers.

No lower priced car will give you equal comfort, economy and reliability.

Long stroke motor, four-forward speed transmission, nickel steel axles, extra large brakes—these and many other features of design secure the mechanical excellence of the Chalmers.

Large valves, new style Chalmers piston rings, improved carburetor, Timken bearings throughout the running gear—these are some of the Chalmers features which make for economy.

Turkish cushions, 11-inch upholstery, long wheel base, large wheels and tires, long, flexible spring—these are the things which make your Chalmers comfortable. None more so.

Try the Chalmers for 20,000 miles. By that time you will be agreed with us that no car at any price offers as much real automobile value for the money.

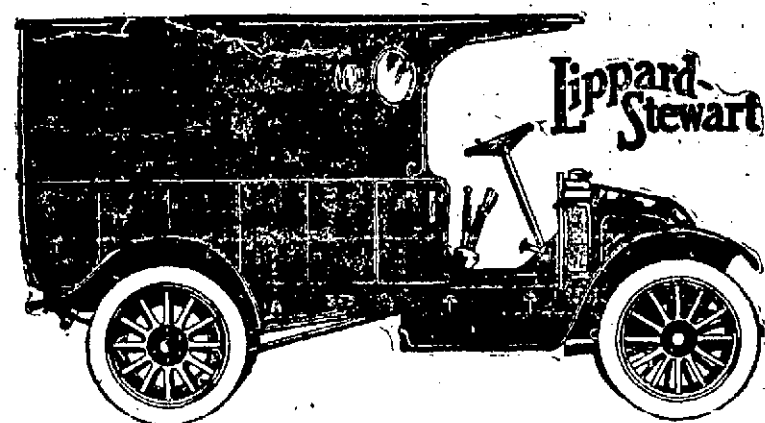

Let us give you your first Chalmers ride at your convenience.

CHINA NOT SURE OF RECOGNITION

One Power Declines to Join U. S. in Accepting New Republic.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—At least one great power already has declined to join the United States in recognizing the new Chinese republic at this stage and there is reason to expect some of the other powers will take a similar attitude. No protest has been lodged against the course to be taken by the United States, but there exists at some foreign capitals such doubt of the success of the attempt of the constituent assembly to organize a complete and stable government on April 4 that some of the powers deem it prudent to withhold formal recognition for the present at least.

The appearance of at least one rival candidate for the presidential office, when it was supposed that Yuan Shi Kai's selection virtually was assured, and the support for this new candidate from southern China is believed to be the basis for the reservation shown by some of the powers in dealing with the question of recognition. At any rate it is certain that while Secretary Bryan's proposition will receive the cordial support of a number of the governments addressed by him, there surely will be a certain number of powers holding aloof though not in any sense protesting against the independent action of the United States.

PROSECUTION OF SENATOR UNLIKELY

Accusations of Impropriety Not to Go Before the Grand Jury.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—United States Attorney Wilson, who has been investigating certain allegations of impropriety against western senator, made this statement today:

"I have heard the statement of the complaining witness and her friends, whom she brought to this office to support her accusations. I find no justification whatever for laying before the grand jury any complaint against any United States senator."

The district attorney's statement was made after a conference with Attorney-General McReynolds.

Almost at the time that statement was being made, Jim R. Jacobs of Oklahoma City was presenting to the secretary of the senate a written statement addressed to the president of the senate, containing a set of allegations similar to those investigated by the attorney-general. Vice-President Marshall, upon receiving the communication, which covered three typewritten pages, said he would take no action nor make any decision as to his course until Monday.

BRANDS PIONEERS OF ILLINOIS AS 'VICIOUS'

CHICAGO, April 5.—The pioneers of this state were "coarse, uneducated crude and often vicious," asserted Professor Charles M. Thompson of the University of Illinois, told members of the Chicago Historical Society last night. The parents of many of them settled in Illinois more than 75 years ago.

"The early settlers of this state were not gentle and kindly," asserted the professor. "They were coarse and often cruel. This was not characteristic of the ordinary citizen. It is a matter of record that as certain seats of state entered the house of representatives and drove a knife into the body of a member of the supreme court. Education of the masses in the early thirties was unknown. In 1831 Cook county had 261 public school students."

SHIP BUILDING REPORT SHOWS 135 FOR MARCH

WASHINGTON, April 5.—There were 135 sailing, steam and unrigged vessels built in the United States last month, according to statistics made public today by the Department of Commerce. The total tonnage of the vessels was 34,078 gross, of which the Perdicat Roberts Jr., a steel steamer, of 7693 gross tons, built at Lorain, O., was the largest. The vessels were all officially numbered.

ADDITIONAL LICENSE ON DRUMMERS ILLEGAL

CARSON CITY, Nev., April 5.—Passing of the application for habeas corpus of two traveling salesmen for a Grinnell, Iowa, vehicle company, the Nevada Supreme Court declared unconstitutional today the law imposing an additional license on "drummers." The law was passed in 1905 and fixed a license of $10 a day for every agent selling.

"77" FOR GRIP & COLDS

A writer says: "When I feel a Cold or Sore Throat coming on I rub my throat and breast for several minutes, so as almost to produce pain. I get immediate and permanent relief. If this had occurred only once or twice I might think it was simply a natural recovery on account of my otherwise good health, but after so many times I have come to the conclusion that the relief was the result of drawing fresh blood to those parts which were affected, by the friction."

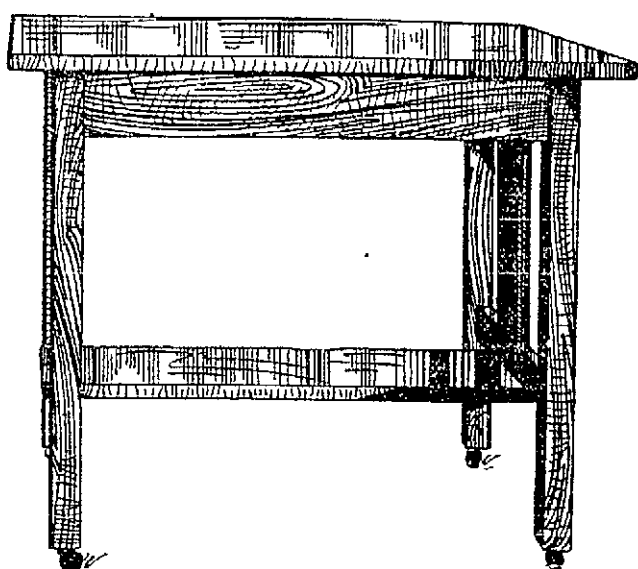

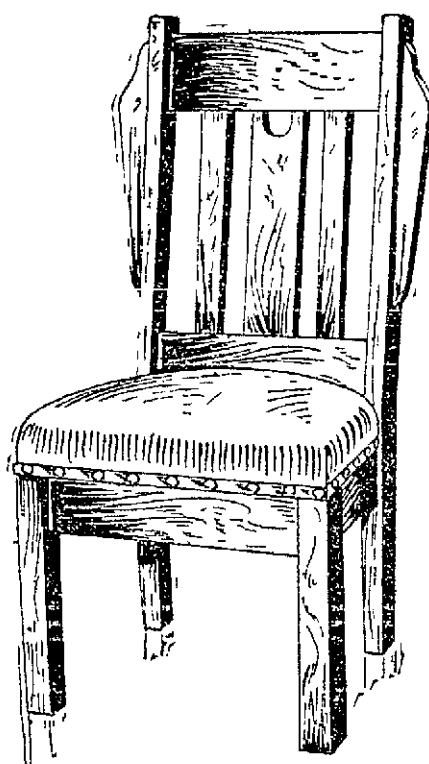

To accelerate the circulation take "Seventy-seven" at the first feeling of a Cold—it will disappear quickly.

If you wait till the Cold gets deep-seated it may take longer to break up. At your druggist 25c, or mailed.

GOVERNOR HADLEY SCORES COLONEL

Executive Mentions no Names, But Implication is Present.

DETROIT, April 5.—Although he did not mention the name of Theodore Roosevelt, who delivered an address here last week, former Governor Herbert S. Hadley of Missouri, in a speech at the McKinley Club banquet here last night, replied to many charges made by the former president against the Republican party.

"Not the tariff the money question the Philippines the Panama canal, nor conservation," he declared, "caused the split in the Republican party. It was the alleged abuse of authority by those in control of the party machinery."

Governor Hadley urged the young Republicans to see to it that the chance is not again offered for a similar misuse of party machinery. As a remedy he advised changing the basis of party representation from southern states in Republican conventions and the election of delegates by direct vote of the people.

"We should adjust our political affairs," he said, "that never again can the charge be made either in good faith or bad, with any hope of substantial public approval, that the will of the majority has not obtained in the nomination of candidates and declarations as to policies."

Governor Hadley declared there was little difference between the Progressive and Republican parties when the matter was carefully considered. He predicted a union of the two parties in the near future.

GRANT'S COUSIN'S WIDOW DIES OF OLD AGE

BURLINGTON, April 5.—Mrs. Sarah Hudson, aged 87, widow of Silas Hudson, a cousin of President U. S. Grant, died here last night.

REBEL LOSS AT SALTILLO GREAT

Reported Intention of President to Resign is Denied.

LAREDO, Texas, April 5.—Full details of the three days battle between federal and Carranza followers at Saltillo, Mexico, March 22, 23 and 24, received here today, state the number killed was 269. The federal loss was small compared to that of the rebels, it was declared.

NEW ORLEANS, April 5.—Official denial of the reported intention of General Huerta to resign the presidency of Mexico in favor of Pedro Lascurain, minister of foreign relations in the Madero cabinet, was received here today from Minister of Foreign Affairs de La Barra by Dr. Ornelas, consul general of Mexico at New Orleans. To message reads:

"News relating to the appointment of General Lascurain absolutely false."

SOCIETY WOMEN HAVE FLAT FEET

Foot Specialist Shocks Fashion Leaders by Above Declaration.

ST. LOUIS, April 5.—Although only a month ago St. Louis women were asserting that in this city were to be found the most beautiful feet in the world, Dr. A. E. Black, a foot specialist, shocked the leaders of fashionable society here when he made the statement that many of the women are suffering from flat feet.

Dr. Black said that while some of the more than 100 cases which he has been called upon to treat in the last few days might be traced to the new style English walking shoe most of them, and in a district where the automobile is the favorite conveyance, were caused by standing in street cars.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 5.—The following letter has been received by Lieutenant Governor O'Hara from Governor Hiram Johnson of California:

"My dear sir:

OLIVE BRANCH HELD OUT BY U. C. COMMITTEE

Letter Sent to Stanford in Relation to Controversy Over Football Games.

Suggestion Made That Colleges Begin Over Again and Continue.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, April 5.—The first step which gives promise of leading to a settlement of the present difficulties which exist between the Universities of California and Stanford was taken by the executive committee of the associated students at Berkeley yesterday in a letter directed to the student body at Palo Alto.

The communication is in reply to a letter received some time ago by the Berkeley executive committee from Stanford, California in this letter had been offered to take any action which will bring the matter to an amicable settlement, and the following plans have been suggested: First, to submit the entire question to a non-partisan arbitration committee, which shall rewrite the whole section of the present intercollegiate football agreement. Or, second, to allow the 1913 game to be played under the rules which governed the year contest, with the understanding that those rules shall be considered as lapsing and requiring re-enactment for the 1914 game.

LETTER IS DISPATCHED.

The letter follows: "April 3, 1913.

"To the Executive Committee of the Associated Students, Stanford University. 'Gentlemen: The executive committee of the Associated Students of the University of California met last night and in the course of the regular business, discussed the present football situation between the two universities.

"The University of California does not believe in putting undue emphasis on the questions which seem to be at issue. Friendly relations between Stanford and California are of importance, not only to the two universities, but to the alumni of both and to the advancement of Rugby in the west as well. Technicalities have obscured the present questions; the situation is full of unfortunate misunderstandings occasioned by the fact that the issue really in hand has been allowed to overshadow far more important ones. It was in order to obtain a settlement of the honest differences of opinion regarding the powers and duties of the football rules committee, California has abrogated the section creating that body. Stanford's misunderstanding of our intent in erasing the section is unfortunate. SHOULD BEGIN A NEW.

"We feel that the settlement can best be reached by beginning anew; that a board of Rugby experts should rewrite the rules and that the universities should then agree as to the duration of such a settlement. It has been suggested that a committee, upon some definite and unambiguous arrangement which should hold until the present agreement lapses, draw up a new one written in January, 1914. California believes strongly in abrogating but few deviations from the English Rugby union rules; the game on the coast should not be allowed to drift away from the sport as originally played. This has been an important factor in our interpretation of the duration of the present set of rules. It furthermore leads us to suggest another alternative—that Stanford's contention that the 1913 game be played under the rules which were accepted upon the understanding that, thereafter, the rules shall be considered as lapsing, requiring re-enactment by both universities in order to be in force in 1914.

PROPOSITIONS OPPOSED. "Stanford's two propositions are directly opposed to our contentions. We do not concur in her interpretation of the disputed sections of the intercollegiate agreement. Besides California maintains that the rules hold from year to year, she is nevertheless willing to accept Stanford's propositions as possible alternatives, for she believes that this question, affecting only the present intercollegiate agreement, should be allowed to involve a permanent breach in football relations.

"In the order of our preferences the plans named by you are, first, to submit the question to a non-partisan arbitration board, and second, that sub-section of Article 3, Section 1, of the intercollegiate agreement, expressed clearly that the rules continue in force during the life of the present agreement, or until changed by the rules committee.

"California prefers a choice of one of the two alternatives first mentioned. But her intention throughout has been to arrive at some just and fair settlement of the matter. She realizes that this intention has been Stanford's as well; that some equitable solution of the present difficulties would be welcomed by both universities. It is in that spirit that California requests Stanford to make a choice of one of the four alternatives named above. We are willing to accept the proposition that Stanford may choose a final and binding on the questions now at issue arising out of the present intercollegiate agreement between the two universities. Sincerely yours, "C. M. TORREY, President."

MISS LUCY KRIEG, WHO WILL TAKE PART IN CLEVER THREE-ACT COMEDY.—Photo by Arrowsmith.

FRUITVALE, April 5.—"Shanghaied," a clever three-act comedy written by an Oakland newspaper man, will be staged for the first time by the St. Joseph's Sodality players in the Sodality gymnasium, April 8, 11 and 13. Those who have been privileged to witness rehearsals of the play say that it is full of snap and amusing episodes. Much of the comedy of "Shanghaied" arises out of the carrying off of Lord Clarence Montmorency, an English nobleman, by mistake. The author has done full justice to the many amusing situations that crop up and the comedy is one laugh from start to finish.

In the hands of the accomplished sodality amateurs "Shanghaied" will be one of the most enjoyable and successful productions staged here. Music and acrobatics will be furnished by St. Joseph's Sodality band and orchestra.

TELLS THE PERIL OF TUBERCULOSIS

Danger of Human Infection From Cattle Pointed Out by U. C. Professor.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, April 5.—"The loss of human life due to tuberculosis contracted from infected animals is of infinitely greater consequence than the tremendous economic loss," declares Professor C. M. Haring of the department of agriculture in a notable bulletin made public today. He continues: "Scientific investigations indicate that a certain percentage of human tuberculosis is of bovine origin, the germs being readily transferable through the milk, butter and improperly cooked flesh of infected animals."

Professor Haring makes in his bulletin an earnest plea for caution on the part of cattle raisers. He tells the symptoms of tuberculosis in cattle and methods of preventing communication. Regarding the danger he says:

"The disease is readily transmitted from cattle to children when infected cows' milk is used as food. It is admitted by the best authorities that intestinal tuberculosis, skin-tuberculosis and bone-tuberculosis of man, are often of bovine origin; researches by Dr. Park of the New York City Board of Health indicate that about 12 per cent of the total infections from tuberculosis in children are due to infection from bovine sources."

"Bovine tuberculosis is a menace that no stock raiser or dairyman can afford to ignore. Over twenty per cent of one-thousand cows, recently tested in seven different counties in the San Joaquin valley, reacted to the test and were condemned. Furthermore, the disease is increasing. Figures from the reports of meat inspectors in San Francisco show that the number of cattle coming from this valley, which are affected with tuberculosis, has increased from nine-tenths of 1 per cent to 3 per cent in five years. The economic losses from the disease are enormous, amounting to over half a million dollars per year in this state alone."

PINOLE MAN BITTEN BY RABID CANINE

PINOLE, April 5.—George Ferrier of this place was badly bitten in the hand by his dog and immediately after biting his master the animal died in a fit. Ferrier immediately consulted Dr. Fernandez, who cauterized the wound. The doctor became suspicious of the manner in which the dog died and sent its body to the hygienic laboratory of the State university at Berkeley for examination, receiving word that the dog was found in the dog's head, but not in the mouth, thus confirming his opinion that the animal was a victim of malignant rabies.

Dr. Fernandez hastily procured Pasteur serum and is now giving Ferrier the regular preventative treatment.

CHOLERA CAUSES LOW PORK YIELD

Professor C. M. Haring of the University Issues Interesting Circular.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, April 5.—That hog cholera is one of the chief reasons for the falling off in California's production of pork is held by Professor C. M. Haring of the department of agriculture in a farmers' circular made public today. Prevention of the disease is taken up by Haring at some length in the circular, which is for free distribution. The writer of the bulletin says:

"Why does not California raise enough pork to supply her own markets? There are in the great valley of this state superior advantages for swine raising. The abundant and suitable feed conditions and the superior climatic advantages should make these sections important hog raising centers. The rapid developments in alfalfa planting during the last twenty years, combined with the extensive changes from wheat to barley culture, should naturally be followed by an increase in the number of swine raised. Twenty-five years ago there were more hogs in California than there are today. According to the census and the crop reports of the United States Department of Agriculture, there were in this state in 1886 over 1,000,000 head of swine. By 1900 this number fell off to 598,336 head, and even now it is about 800,000."

"One of the chief reasons why ranchers in California do not engage more extensively in swine raising is the fear of loss from hog cholera. From reports received at the hog serum laboratory it is thought hog cholera killed 50,000 head of hogs in California last year. They would have been worth, for pork, $425,000, but taking into consideration their increase in weight and numbers, and the saving in feed and fertility which they would have wrought, their death loss totaled over $700,000. In one county alone the loss from cholera was at least $85,000. In another it was $180,000. According to reports recently received at the Agricultural Experiment Station, the disease now exists in thirty-three counties of the state."

SAN LEANDRO WILL RAISE FLOOD FUND

Benefit Entertainment in Best Theater Is Being Arranged.

SAN LEANDRO, April 5.—A number of the leading citizens of San Leandro are arranging a benefit entertainment for next Wednesday evening, the money from which will go to swell the flood fund. Judge D. U. Toffelmier, Harris P. Jones and William Zambresky are the committee in charge of the entertainment, which will be held in the best theater, through the courtesy of the managers, V. Bridges. Local instrumental and vocal talent will contribute to the affair. Those who have already promised their support are the Jones orchestra of 12 pieces, Harold F. Jones, monologist, Charles Reid and George Caffee, vocal solos. The committee has appealed to the citizens to give their full support.

BUSINESS MEN CASH BAD CHECKS

RICHMOND, April 5.—Chief of Police Arnold is hoping that business men will be more careful about cashing checks for people they do not know, and suggests that it would not be much trouble to go to a telephone and call up the person who asks if a check in question is good. He says that not a day goes by that he does not get complaints from business men all over town and from other towns about being victimized. A. H. Anderson, arrested here yesterday, is wanted in San Francisco for passing spurious checks and was sent over there by an officer who came for him. He had a booklet of blank checks here, and was getting acquainted around the city with the Swedish element, preparing, supposedly, to float bad paper in Richmond, as he is accused by the San Francisco police of doing over there. Officer Betts picked the stranger up on Standard avenue, West Side, an hour after a circular letter had been received from the San Francisco police giving his description.

RICHMOND ELKS TO ENTERTAIN VISITORS

RICHMOND, April 5.—The Richmond Elks are to entertain their new officers next Monday evening, and the occasion will be of great interest. There will be a special session in addition to the ritualistic work. All the guests of the Elks of Berkeley and Alameda lodges have been invited, and it is expected that a large crowd will be present. The ceremonies will be under the direction of Deputy Grand Exalted Ruler Herbert Jones of Berkeley, and after the work a banquet will be served, with happy songs from the visiting brethren and local members. The new officers who will be installed are: Exalted Ruler, A. C. Lang; East Leading Knight, H. A. Bell; East Leading Knight, John A. Bell; East Leading Knight, Howard B. French; Secretary, Frank W. Smith; Treasurer, Fred Tiller; Robert J. Moran; trustees, A. H. Burnett, E. W. O'Brien, W. V. Kelly.

INCUMBENT TRUSTEES RETURNED AT RICHMOND

RICHMOND, April 5.—The election yesterday for trustees of the school district was devoid of interest, as there was no opposition to the re-election of the two incumbents, W. S. McGowan and E. W. Morganthal, as trustees of the high school district. The vote was as follows: San Pablo, McGowan, 17; McRacken, 17; Progressive clubmen, in the annexed district, McGowan, 6; Morganthal, 6; East Side, McGowan, 21; McRacken, 22; West Side, McGowan, 16; Morganthal, 16.

O'BRIEN TRANSFERRED. VALLEJO, April 5.—Word has been received in this city that Ensign W. H. O'Brien, who is now serving on the California, has been ordered transferred to the parent ship Iris of the torpedo fleet with station at San Diego. Ensign O'Brien is well known here, having many friends during the last stay of the California at this yard.

RICHMOND NOTES

RICHMOND, April 5.—Last evening, Secretary D. A. Knowles of the Board of Trade wired to Governor Cox of Ohio $119.55, additional funds which had been handed in during the past few days, making a total of $1,228.48 in cash sent to the flood sufferers from this city.

In a long letter from State Superintendent May to the school authorities here, heretofore that under the new law no pupil can consistently be asked to buy anything in the way of supplies—that it is clearly up to the school authorities to furnish everything necessary for school work.

Next Tuesday an election will be held here to obtain a vote on changing the city charter by removing the tax limit. Rev. Aubrey Wilson of the Christian Church secured the machine, and gave an initial exhibition at the church this afternoon for the entertainment of the citizens of Richmond and any grown persons who care to see the pictures. The purpose of Rev. Wilson in securing the machine is to treat the young people of Richmond and keep them off the streets.

At a special meeting of the city council last night, a large number of citizens were present to protest against the assessments for the Seventeenth street opening. Owing to the lateness of their action, the petition and protest were overruled and the matter will be taken into court for a friendly settlement.

The Women's West Side Improvement Club will give a performance on the evening of the 15th for the benefit of the West Side Library, which they are making an effort to improve. A play, "The Masquerade," will be staged.

Perry Point is the scene of much activity. The railroad company is making many improvements. Among these is the big wharf being constructed by the Thompson Bridge Company, which is being pushed in rapid succession. Mrs. Tessie I. Shipman and Thomas J. Jennings brought suit against Judge W. P. Fisher of State in 1910 for $500 and obtained judgment for that amount, but have never been able to collect it, and now Fisher retakes with a suit against them for a like amount for damages to his reputation.

Arrangements for the affair are being made by Mrs. Thomas Ronald and Mrs. John Ronald, and a program of interest is being planned. A number of Scotch songs and dances will be included in the program to be given, and several prominent artists of the bay cities will render solos. The admission will be fifty cents, and tickets are on sale at T. & Penney's, Sherman, Clay & Co., and Bowman's drug store.

Those who will render vocal solos will be Mrs. Evangeline Sales Ayres, George Hall, Mrs. Elmer Henshaw and Sam Jones. The piano will be played by Miss MacGregor, who will give a song and Scotch dance. Miss Rhoda Mitchell will add a Scotch recitation, and Mrs. MacGregor will sing Scotch songs. A monologue will be given by Miss Christine Stephens, and the Lookwood Boys' band will be heard in several selections. A number of prominent women are acting as patronesses for the concert.

WILL MANUFACTURE MACHINERY IN YARDS

VALLEJO, April 5.—It is probable that Mare Island's share in the expenditure of the $350,000 incident to the conversion of the collier Prometheus into a repair ship, may be increased by the building of some of the machinery here. As $250,000 of the appropriation is to go into machinery there is this amount to cut into by such work as can be done at the yard in the way of manufacturing the simpler machines. A large item can be handled here in the manufacture of hand tools.

The work of unloading the coal and stores of the Prometheus has not yet been completed and the ship has not accordingly been placed out of commission in accordance with the orders from the navy department. "Bomb" Sent Secretary McAdoo Proves Cannon Ball of Revolution.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—Negro messengers in the Treasury Department today were not fully recovered from the shock caused by the appearance of a supposed "infernal machine" which appeared yesterday on Secretary McAdoo's desk. The Secretary appeared to regard it highly, although others eyed it askance. The "bomb" reached Secretary McAdoo through the mail. It came from Norfolk, Va., and a little later the history of the iron ball, which is three inches in diameter, was cleared up in a letter from the donor. It developed that the object was a British cannon-ball which had been fired from a British frigate during the bombardment of Norfolk in the Revolutionary war. ## TO GROW HAIR ON A BALD HEAD

Thousands of people suffer from baldness and falling hair, who have tried nearly every advertised hair tonic, but without results. They have resorted themselves to baldness and its attendant discomfort. Yet their case is not hopeless; the following simple home prescription has made hair grow after years of baldness, and is also unequalled for restoring gray hair to its original color, stopping hair from falling out, and destroying the dandruff germ. It will not make the hair greasy, and can be put up by any druggist: Bay Rum, 5 ounces; Lavina de Cologne, 2 ounces; Menthol Crystals, one-half drachm. If you wish it perfumed, add half to one teaspoonful of To-Kalon Perfume, which unites perfectly with the other ingredients. This preparation is really recommended by physicians and specialists and is entirely harmless. It is also the most potent and most frequently found in hair tonics. Do not apply to the face of your face. It is not desired.

CRISIS IS NEAR IN SWITZERLAND

Swiss People Divided as Result of Ratification of Convention.

BERNE, Switzerland, April 5.—A grave political crisis which practically is dividing the people of Switzerland again has developed as a result of the ratification yesterday by the National Council for the St. Gothard Railway convention of 1909 by which the last of the principal Swiss lines became the property of the Swiss confederation. The vote was 109 to 77.

The St. Gothard line, which was started in 1872, was completed in 1888. When it was projected it was estimated that the cost would be $10,000,000, but on account of many unforeseen difficulties the outlay was raised to nearly double that amount.

A portion of this was supplied by Germany and Italy. According to an agreement entered into in 1878, the Swiss government reserved the right to buy the line within thirty years from the St. Gothard Railway Company and this agreement was carried out.

The company received $12,500,000 for the line and in addition the confederation took over the debt of the company amounting to $10,000,000.

The St. Gothard convention of 1878 between Switzerland and Germany and Italy had to be revised because Switzerland bought the Swiss railway system in 1904. This revision constituted the convention of 1909, which extended the special rights enjoyed by Germany and Italy on the St. Gothard line of 275 kilometers to the entire Swiss system of railways, aggregating 2700 kilometers of track.

A large and prominent section of the people in Switzerland strenuously opposed the adoption of the convention, which it was declared would be an irreparable blow on the national honor and dignity.

The Silhouette Party

THIS season has marked the revival of old-fashioned methods of entertaining, and not the least interesting of these is the "silhouette party."

When your guests have assembled, make silhouettes of them. To do this successfully, pin a sheet of white paper to the wall and have some one hold a lighted candle near the subject's head. A clear shadow will be thrown upon the paper. Outline this with a pencil and blacken the space within the outline with charcoal.

Three pretty frocks suitable for evening wear at any social entertainment are pictured on this page. Almond-colored chiffon and shadow lace are effectively combined in the Paquin model trimmed with flat bows of green ribbon. A tunic effect of the chiffon, bordered with shadow lace, falls over the two-tiered underskirt of lace. The bodice has a round décolletage filled in with lace, and a broad girdle of the dull-green silk defines the raised waist line.

A gown of special beauty is the conception of Bechoff-David, developed of two layers of chiffon in tones of pale pink and dull blue over an underskirt of stamped velvet. The latter is of black, showing a rose design repeating the colors of the chiffon. Black ribbon velvet is used to catch up the overdrape. A band of ruby-red satin outlines the décolletage and is veiled with the layers of chiffon. The same material forms the girdle, and a large red rose is tucked in at the corsage.

Very lovely is the gown of which the back view is given. It is of peach-blossom-pink silk poplin, and the back panel terminates in a narrow square-cut train.

Pink chiffon forms the bodice, and the V-shaped neck line and sleeves are finished with bands of embroidered white satin. Pale-blue chiffon is attractively used to form an apron effect across the front of the skirt and on the bodice.

You must prepare for the summer dance, so have your gowns duplicated from these models.

LAST LABOR OF MORGAN FOR ART'S SAKE

Professor Lythgoe Describes Excavations in Egypt to Enrich Metropolitan.

While Watching the Work on Which Heart Was Set the Financier Fell Ill.

(By CAMILLO CIANFARRA.)
ROME, March 5.—When at Cairo, as commissioner from the International News Service to report on the real condition of the late J. P. Morgan's health, I obtained a valuable interview with Professor Albert M. Lythgoe, curator of Egyptian art at the New York Metropolitan Museum, who is superintending the excavations at the American archaeological concessions in Egypt.

A peculiar interest attaches itself to this work, for it was to watch the progress of these excavations that Mr. Morgan paid his last visit to Egypt and it was while with Professor Lythgoe at the field of his labors that the progress of Mr. Morgan's fatal malady became painfully apparent.

It is also interesting to note that the first American archaeological expedition came to Egypt some fourteen years ago under the auspices of the University of California and thanks to a liberal donation by Miss Phoebe Hearst, the findings which were many and valuable, are all at Berkeley. In the following years the Hearst expenditures and those of other institutions in America began scientific work in upper Egypt and in 1906 the Metropolitan Museum took up Egyptian excavations, and the development of its Egyptian collections on a larger scale than ever before.

WILL RIVAL GREATEST.
According to Professor Lythgoe the Egyptian section of the Metropolitan Museum of Art of New York, which already occupies an important position among similar institutions of the old world, will in a few years rival either that of Berlin or Cairo, and will be almost unique when the present program of excavations is completed.

"The American public," said Professor Lythgoe, "knows little or nothing of the work we are doing here. Just now we are excavating at three different places and three hundred native laborers are employed under the direction of a staff of eight Americans."

"The work at the pyramid of the Lath, which was begun in 1906, has never been abandoned. At present we are excavating there a temple of the middle dynasty, two thousand B. C., which has already given us many important examples of painted temple relief and other material. We are also excavating in the oasis of Kargah and at Thebes, on the western bank of the Nile, opposite Luxor."

"At Kargah we are now engaged in clearing a temple erected by Darius during the Persian occupation of Egypt in the fifth century B. C. These excavations have given us some excellent results, as we have taken out from the explored part of the building a number of valuable rolls of painted sandstone, exceedingly well preserved, also architectural details, capitals, columns and moldings which are among the best specimens of Egyptian decorative art."

RICHTEST CONCESSIONS.
"At Thebes we have our richest and largest concession; such, perhaps, as few other nations have been able to secure. In fact our concession comprises not only a large Necropolis, but also the remains of several temples and of a palace which was constructed by King Amenhotep III as a summer residence for his wife, Queen Titi, on the shore of a pleasure lake which he also dug for the queen."

From this palace, the expedition has recovered a large number of small objects in glass and faience and also many examples of well preserved wall frescoes representing flying ducks and pigeons, cotton and papyrus plants, and decorative motives which adorn the apartment of the queen. These frescoes have been divided between the Cairo museum and the Metropolitan.

This year the work of the expedition at Thebes will be concentrated particularly on a thorough exploration of the temple of Ramesses the Great, near the well known temple called the Ramesseum, where we expect to make some important discoveries. A part of this year's findings is already on its way to New York and other shipments will follow later in the season and in due course will be installed in the Egyptian section of the museum."

GIRL FINDS "KNIGHT" PROWLER IS ARRESTED

(CHICAGO, April 5.—Miss Hannah Scholer, aged 16, believes that the age of chivalry is not altogether past. Late last night she asked for assistance on a South Side car. It was refused in one car, in another car she found a "knight." Miss Scholer told Jay McCarthy that a man had been following her for several days. She said he was then in the rear coach of the elevated train. She said she was afraid to leave the elevated train to go to her home. "I want him arrested," she said. At the end of the Englewood branch of the line McCarthy had him arrested. The man gave his name as Lou Baller. Miss Scholer said that she frequently carried large amounts of money. She said Baller had been following her for several days and that she was afraid of him.

BUILDS OWN COFFIN; LINED WITH ASBESTOS

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., April 5.—Joseph Lakowski of Perth Amboy is preparing his own coffin. He is 61 years old and hale and hearty, but says he wants to make sure he will rest comfortably. The coffin will be completed as soon as the gold handles arrive from Chicago. It is made of quartered oak, decorated from panel and rests on four metal lion paws. The coffin is 6 feet 5 inches in length and 2 feet 6 inches in width. The inside is heavily padded with asbestos, but Lakowski refused to explain his reason for this.

NEW POSES OF FAMOUS and NEAR-FAMOUS EUROPEANS

WHO THEY ARE

Lady Rachel Stuart-Wortley is the second daughter of Lord and Lady Wharnclyffe, who was recently presented at court and who is among the most interesting debutantes of this season. Lady Rachel, who is 18 years of age, is fair in coloring and very beautiful. With her sisters, she takes an active interest in most sports and is an occasional follower of hounds. Lord and Lady Wharnclyffe have a lovely place at Wortley Hall, Sheffield, and also at Simonstone, Hawes, Yorkshire. The family name is the somewhat lengthy one of Montagu-Stuart-Wortley-Montagu.

Lady Smiley, whose portrait is given above, is the wife of Sir John Smiley and the youngest daughter of that well-known veteran sportsman, Sir Claude de Crespigny. Sir John Smiley is a captain of the North of Ireland Imperial Yeomanry and served in the South African war with much distinction. He has been an unsuccessful candidate for parliamentary honors and contested Belfast in 1906 and 1910. They have a charming place, Barton Court, near Bury St. Edmunds, and have two sons—Hugh and John—and one daughter—Patricia.

Here is a portrait of Miss Ellen Terry, who was assiduously reminded by our daily contemporaries, celebrated yet another birthday last Thursday, and received the congratulations appropriate to the occasion of her many friends. "With the exception of Mlle. Regina Badet," says the London Bystander, "French dancers are not so conspicuously successful. They seem to aim at eccentricity rather than beauty, at acrobatic feats rather than grace. Presumably, that is why troupes of quite mediocre English dancers—not to speak of Russian and Italian stars like Napierkowska or Zambelli—are so much in evidence in Paris. Nothing becomes more boring than 'freak' dancing. And when a lady does 'spills,' as in the bottom photograph, the impulse of The Bystander is to call for help."

'PRODIGIOUS!' SAYS FOUQUIERES OF U. S.

Everybody He Met Here He Tells Paris, Was King of Something.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE by International News Service.)

PARIS, April 5.—Andre De Fouquieres, the Paris Beau Brummel, speaking of his American visit said: "America is simply prodigious; everything I saw there was a record of achievement. I have sounded all the depths of American society and found the people who keep it natural, unassuming and cordial."

"I have met kings of commerce and industry; have been the guest at a military review; had most flattering receptions in the universities. The adjective for them all is prodigious. Not excelsior but prodigious, should be on the American banner. All the men there who amount to anything are kings of something."

"I think myself if this is the reincarnation of the dead royalties of old Europe, do the Bourbons and Stuarts live again in the kin of cotton and corn? Every man you meet in America is a king."

WILD ROARS KILLED WITH SMALL PISTOL

(Special to THE TRIBUNE by International News Service.)
PARIS, April 5.—Six wild roars were heard from the woods near the Bois de Vincennes, when a man named J. B. B. was shot. The man was armed with a small pistol and was killed. The police are investigating the case.

LADY RACHEL STUART-WORTLEY

CAUGHT COLD AT GOULD WEDDING

Superintendent of Estate Dies of Pneumonia Contracted by Overwork.

NEW YORK, April 6.—Archibald Robb, superintendent of the estate of the late John D. Rockefeller, died yesterday in the Tarrytown hospital, the result of a cold he caught at the wedding of Miss Helen Gould to Finley J. Shepard, on January 22. Pneumonia developed, and this was followed by an attack of pneumonia.

Mr. Robb had full charge of the arrangements for the wedding, and he worked himself into a weakened condition. When pneumonia developed, Mrs. Shepard was told of her husband's condition, and before calling abroad she left orders to spare no expense to save his life. Mr. Robb was operated upon for appendicitis, but the pneumonia had sapped all of his vitality, and he did not recover. Mrs. Shepard who is now well, is in the city.

Mr. Robb had been in Mrs. Shepard's employ since 1905. He was 55 years old, a wife and child survive him.

WOMEN OF U. S. DOMINATE EUROPE

English and French Aristocracy Rehabilitated; Italian Titles Captured.

Austria and Germany Are Enriched; Kings and Kaiser Under Influence.

(By MARQUIS DE CASTELLANE.)
PARIS, April 5.—Since the recent publication of a book by Mrs. Van Vorst of New York, all known in Paris society, the whole question of international marriages is being discussed in our salons. In the course of the discussion, many points to the enormous amount of money which these marriages bring from America to Europe. Others speak of the advantages to all families arising from the infusion of new blood. Others again talk of what they say is an abominable large proportion of breakdowns in these international marriages, but the great and distinct gain to America is nevertheless.

American influence is strong in every country in Europe, chiefly because of the clever and accomplished American women who are married to foreign husbands.

I go to London and I find the Duchess of Marlborough, formerly Miss Vanderbilt, the Duchess of Roxburghe, formerly Miss Gould, the Duchess of Manchester, formerly Miss Zimmerman, the Countess of Suffolk, formerly Miss Lettice, the Countess of Clarendon, formerly Miss Brad-Joy-Martin, the Countess of Granard, formerly Miss Mills and the Countess of Donoughmore, formerly Miss Grace and a whole host of trans-Atlantic women spreading American influence.

WIFE IS TEACHER.

The Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain's American wife, formerly Miss Endicott, has taught him more about the genius of America than he could possibly learn from books. I might write with similar truth of Lady Naylory Leyland, who was Miss Jennie Chamberlain of Cleveland, Ohio, at the time of her marriage. To say nothing of the admirable influence increased by such a distinguished American woman as the late Lady Curzon, who was Miss Mary Lettice, wife of a former Viceroy of India.

Here in France we have American women like the Duchess de la Rochefoucauld, formerly Miss Mitchell of Washington, the Countess de Moy, formerly Miss Gibbs of Brooklyn, Madame Paternotte, formerly Miss Elverson of Philadelphia and scores of others enlarging the sphere of American influence in this republic.

SIXTY IN ROME.
Down in Rome there are at least sixty American women who preside over the domestic happiness of as many patrician families. There are American women in the Eternal City who have annexed such names as Rosignoli, Ruspoli, Tordella, Smeronetto, and other princely in dual titles dating back to the days of the Caesars.

Go up to the frozen capital of all the Russians and Princesses Catherine, granddaughter of General Grant, and a score of other distinguished American women are spreading American civilization in the midst of the grand dukes and making the name of America great and respected.

Cast an eye at the dual monarchy over which the aged Emperor Francis Joseph presides and you will see the Duchess of Viseu, formerly Miss Stewart of Philadelphia, and the Countess of Szecseny, formerly Miss Gladys Vanderbilt of New York, leading lights in the land of arch-duchesses.

In Germany Baroness Speck von Sternberg, formerly Miss Lillian Lanchester of Kentucky; Baroness von Schroeder, formerly Miss Murphy of San Francisco; and an army of their American sisters exercise such an international influence that the authorities want to stop the marriage of German diplomatists with American women.

INFLUENCE VALUABLE.

On the other hand the late King Leopold of Belgium looked upon the influence of the American woman as being so valuable to an old community that he praised every Belgian nobleman who looked to an American wife. And are not such American women as Baroness Moncheur, formerly Miss Clayton, wife of the Belgian minister at Washington and Madame Havenith, formerly Miss Fouille of Washington, all doing their share to advance the American sphere of influence?

Even in poor old Spain, which is so far off the beaten track of Europe, I find the Duchess de Arcos, formerly Miss Lowrey of Washington, expounding to Spaniards the blessing of American liberty.

The number of American women who have married diplomatists is legion. These alliances are usually made between the young women of a gilded and the younger members of the foreign diplomatic corps in Washington. The influence exercised by American wives of foreign diplomatists is enormous. Personally I believe the diplomacy of old Europe is largely dominated by American women.

UNIONS INCREASE.

Ever since the first international marriage, 17 years ago, which was that of Miss Sally McKim, daughter of a leading family of Pennsylvania, with Marquis d'Uxelles, these unions have gone on, increasing until American influence has gained an almost irresistible momentum. Interests of Washington are a governing factor in the marriage of a government official to a European girl.

The island of Puteaux so well known to Americans residing or even visiting in Paris, is about to become the property of the city. This beautiful island of 100 acres is the home of the tennis and tennis players every Sunday. Tea drinking Americans go there just as they go to Robinsons to take luncheon on in the branches of the trees. Hence its acquisition by the city will be welcomed by them.

There is an more charming bit of river scenery in the Marais de la Seine. A proposal was made recently to cut up the island for building purposes. This stirred the city fathers to action. Lovers of Paris would be shocked to see the last remains of this beautiful island cut down. A committee of the city council has reported favorably upon the purchase of the island. The purchase price will be about $1,000,000.

HOW TO MANAGE ON $4000 A YEAR

NEW YORK, April 5.—The fact that you can live well in Algeria for the rest you must pay in New York became known through the renting of a house at 110 Madison avenue for a period of 21 years at an annual rental of $4000. On this income two women are living in luxury in Algeria.

It provides their chief income. Until now the women have received about $2500 a year gross. They found that they could not live in New York as well as they wished to live in Algeria. Several months they lived in the south had not yet been invaded by high prices, so they went down to a southern town to live. They had been there but a short time when they concluded the south offered them no relief from exorbitant prices. The next was then tried. ## VIEWS AND REVIEWS OF WHAT WORLD IS DOING

HUMANITY HEARS
DISASTER'S CALLNation Stirred by Appeal From the Flooded Districts of the Middle West

THE storms and floods which have recently swept the middle west with such an appalling loss of life and property have stirred the nation to deepest sympathy. While there has been much reflection over the cause of the disaster and its consequences, man's weakness and man's pluck in the face of such natural phenomena, there has been a marked tendency of all writers to cry "help the needy" first and to reflect afterward.

"Humanity's best impulses respond to an appeal," says the Chicago Record-Herald. The disasters will "bring thousands of hands to the work of rescue," comments the Buffalo News, while the Seattle Daily Times declares that "it would seem that the whole town of Seattle has risen to the aid of the sufferers."

While the appeal for help has gone out from all quarters there have also been some lessons drawn from the disasters. The New York Tribune speaks of the "sheer American pluck with which a hasty community shakes its head and returns to the fight" as in the case of San Francisco, which will "always remain the example of American courage before overwhelming disaster."

It adds:

"We venture to add that the American spirit in the face of disaster is more than wisdom and better than safety. The whole country today throbs with sympathy for the hard hit cities and towns. The prompt telegram of President Wilson said what each of us feels. Best of all, the whole country shares in the pride and pluck of a stricken city rising from its ruins. So reads the story all along the line."

"The floods are a terrible reminder of the part which comes from denuding the country of its forest cover. The Chicago Daily News, concerning reforestation, the same paper points out that "it is well established that floods in river valleys are largely prevented by a heavy forest covering along the headwaters of the streams. The humus and litter of the forest floor collect and hold the moisture in sponge-like fashion. Consequently there is better and slower distribution and flow and the destructive influence of the waters are practically eliminated. Moreover, snow melts slowly in forests."

"The more the careful study of preventative measures, urges the Chicago Record-Herald, "but the present need is to assist the suffering."

"There is nothing which our indomitable national spirit can not vanquish," declares the St. Louis Globe Democrat, "which also has a word to say regarding the wise ones who declare the climate is changing. 'Equally baseless,' it says, is the common idea that cyclonic storms are more frequent than in former years. They certainly do more damage and get into the newspapers more often."

In an uninhabited country, or one where there was but an occasional barn or fence line, cyclonic storms would be of little general notice, it heard of at all, but when the same country became thickly populated and buildings of value were erected, the same cyclones reap a harvest of death and destruction of property which challenges attention and inspires horror.

"The impression that the climate is changing is a widespread one. In spite of the fact that the weather records show a general adherence over long periods to an average state of climatic conditions, nothing is more common than to hear the sage opinion expressed that there is a radical change in the climate. There will be great climatic changes in the course of time. They have occurred in times past, as geologists can show us, but we shall have to have a much longer lease of life than Methuselah had to see them."

The Springfield Republican, however, scores the president's method of choosing ambassadors, but does not pass on the salary question. It says:

"President Wilson should have decided upon his ambassadors and appointees to other important posts at home and abroad first, and then made up his cabinet to conform to the class of men he had chosen to do the real work of the administration. He imagines he has made a mistake in announcing his choice for ambassador to England before finding out whether the man selected would agree. His real error, in fancy, was in placing at the head of the state department one whom a great following of the president look upon as of but ordinary attainments, and then expecting bigger men to serve under him."

ADAPTED SALARIES.

The Nashville Democrat believes in adequate salaries for the ambassadors, but hints that some of them may be extravagant. "For instance," it says, "it is reasonable to assume that an American Ambassador at the Court of St. James could as efficiently discharge the duties of his post at a less cost than $100,000, which is said to be the annual expenditure of Whitelaw Reid. Nevertheless, it is a demonstrable fact that the salary of $17,500 is insufficient to maintain an Ambassador to England and some other countries in proper style. Our Government should not be so parsimonious in its salaries to its Ambassadors and Ministers. It is not necessary that these residences, even in London, Paris or Berlin, should be made palatial in their scope."

"The Chicago Record-Herald, believing the president's policy should have full support. Declaring that the diplomatic service should be filled, not by men of wealth, but by men of special training for the positions, the Record-Herald says: 'The pound-fresh congressional committee and perhaps many of their constituents also, needed a sharp object lesson. They have it in the difficulties encountered by President Wilson in attempting to live up to his standards in appointing appointments. It is well known that he is averse to paying campaign debts at the expense of the foreign service. He has permitted the office to seek the fit man; but again and again the question of salary versus high rank and other expenses has been barred in his way. Able men cannot always make the primary sacrifices involved in accepting a foreign post.'

CALLS IT FALSE ECONOMY.

"False economy," says the Chicago News concerning the situation and president's remedy.

"As Mr. Wilson says, in consequence of this objectionable situation the diplomatic service is unnecessary. His futile efforts, however, to obtain high appointments from men of high ability instead of men whose chief qualifications consist of long purses and unlimited leisure have strikingly emphasized the danger that foreign posts are filled with men who are not the best that the United States has to offer. When it costs a diplomat more for his house rent than the total amount of his salary, it is not surprising that he should be a bad for, as in the past, he can make contributions of millions."

Monthly, it is false economy to require a phenomenon system which excludes many of the best equipped men from foreign posts."

BETTER SALARY AND MEN FOR DIPLOMATS

ADRIANOPLE'S FALL
AND ITS EFFECT

IN the fall of Constantinople the Seattle Times sees "a culminating triumph which has revealed the strength of the Balkan league and the weakness of the one-time Turkish rulers of Southeastern Europe." The Chicago Tribune, however, declares that "the magnificent defense of Adrianople has disposed completely of the first contention of the Turkish defeat in the field—namely, that the Turk has somewhat lost his valor." As a matter of fact, the Tribune insists that unpreparedness was responsible. Says the Tribune:

"The Turkish overthrow is a pointed lesson to us for it was the inevitable result of unpreparedness. In a powerful, fortified place, a place prepared as was Adrianople, the need for a training of the individual is very much less than in the open field. The Turkish army, defeated consistently there not because they were not brave, as brave and devoted as their brothers in Adrianople, but because, obviously, it is easier for green men to defend a fortress than it is to fight in the open."

The opponents of adequate preparedness in the United States are fond of bragging of American valor. The Turks had it in the highest degree. We ignore organization, training, the education of officers in the handling of troops under modern conditions. The Turks were without them.

PEACE SHOULD RESULT.

Whatever the difference of opinion in this respect, however, editorial writers agree that peace should result. On this subject the Chicago Tribune comments:

"The capture of this main fortress of the Turkish defense should bring immediate peace. But it is not safe to dogmatize upon this war. The powers seem to have strengthened their position as indicated by Russia's hint to Montenegro to yield to Austria respecting Scutari. It is probable, therefore, that they now will bring effective pressure to bear upon the victors."

At the Chicago Record-Herald follows along the same line, adding comment that has been borne out since the editorial was written. Thus Record-Herald:

Turkey is ready to surrender everything the receivers deem it necessary to take away from her. She may cheerfully promise a war indemnity for paying it is another story, as Russia knows in connection with the war of 1878. The powers have resolved to end the Balkan conflict, and actually the war is little left to wrangle over. Whether the Bulgarians continue hostilities at Tchacliala or not is a matter of interest to professional fighters and tacticians; the lay world understands that Turkey is to lose all her European hinterland but to keep Constantinople and a strip of territory essential to the guarding of the Dardanelles. Europe has escaped grave dangers, but she is already worrying over future peace, increasing armaments and wasting wealth riotously instead of saving it under a reasonable agreement for the general limitation of defense expenditures."

HISTORY IS INTERESTING.

Adrianople's history is interesting. The Portland Telegram thus summarizes it:

Adrianople is possibly the most ancient city in Southeastern Europe. It was an antique Thracian municipality and was rebuilt by the Emperor Hadrian. It fell into the hands of the Goths while Valens was Emperor of Rome, and under antecedent conditions of peculiar historic interest. The Goths were being crowded southward in the fourth century by a movement of the Huns under Attila, which subsequently overrun Central Europe, and they asked leave of the Roman Emperor to occupy the lands south of the Danube, which they had already invaded and ravaged. Permission was granted on condition that they should leave the children of the leading families as hostages in the hands of the Romans. The Goths agreed to these conditions upon the further stipulation that the Roman officials should supply them with food. In the fulfillment of this last condition, however, the better of the Romans' fanatical pride was aroused for food and aid were refused. The Romans betrayed their trusts as hosts to the children of the

Don't Be FADDY In Your Walk

By Lillian Russell

"AVOID THE SO-CALLED FASHIONABLE WALK OF THIS SEASON AS YOU WOULD A DEADLY POISON. THE WALK IS BEST DESCRIBED AS 'TURTLE WALKING'—HEAD STUCK OUT LIKE A TURTLE AND THE STOMACH PROTRUDING. NOTHING COULD BE MORE UNGRACEFUL," SAYS

Lillian Russell

If you wish to reduce wear a thick sweater when you take your walks. It will cause you to perspire freely. Do not overeat if you would be thin.

Watch the neck posture. You cannot have a straight back and a head sticking forward. If your neck is bent forward it will cause the lower part of the spine also to curve. You can't have one without the other. Think of the neck as being on a straight line with the spine if you would acquire correct carriage.

plague. Walking on the level, and in some cases even hill climbing, is often prescribed for certain forms of heart disease. There are many other diseases for which walking has proved to be the remedial agent.

The pleasures and benefits of many a walking trip are marred by inattention to the care of the feet and the selection and care of the shoes and stockings. After months of inactivity the feet become tender and blister as the result of any undue fast exercise.

Until you are thoroughly accustomed to the daily walk rub your feet at night with tannin and glycerin in equal parts. This toughens the skin, yet leaves it soft and pliable. After a long tramp the feet are much benefited by bathing them first in salt water and then in alcohol.

Stockings should be seamless. They should be of ample size and of undyed material. Cheap dyed stockings may cause blood poisoning in case of blisters.

A stout shoe should be worn, but not too heavy. Heavy shoes do not allow full play to the muscles of the foot and leg. They should be of the common sense variety, with abundant room for the toes to move in, yet not large enough to slip about.

The question of taking a walk before breakfast is a disputed one. Personally I do not advise it. I think a walk after a light breakfast is of infinitely more value than a breakfastless walk.

The thing the moderate walker must first bear in mind is the importance of breathing through the nose. When you start out for your walk make up your mind that you will try to breathe through your nose, keep your chest up, abdomen in, and your weight on the balls of the feet.

Don't attempt to walk too briskly at first. Take a moderate gait until you are accustomed to the correct position in walking.

Another thing to avoid if one would walk correctly is the swayback position. Some women manage to hold their chests up and think they are holding their abdomens in, but at the same time they are not in the correct walking position because they allow their backs to sway in at the waist line instead of bending naturally as they should.

The fashionable figure of today demands the straight, flat, narrow back. There is no way that one can acquire this more quickly than by correct walking, and the practice of some few simple exercises.

For walking clothes should be as conveniently loose as possible. Today there is no such thing as the small waist if one would be fashionably clothed. Straight lines prevail for the figure. If the hips are too large there are many methods by which this beauty will may be overcome.

One of the best methods is to stand on the toes and draw one of the knees up as closely as possible to the abdomen. Then transfer the weight to the other foot, standing on the toes and drawing the other knee up as closely as possible to the abdomen.

The exercise of lying flat on the back and raising the feet as high as possible, then tensing the muscles and letting them come to the floor as slowly as possible, is another good exercise for large abdomens, and is most helpful in reducing superfluous flesh about the hips.

The new corsets this season, which are near girdles above the waist line and long skirted affairs, are the best type of corsets that have ever been worn by women. So there is absolutely no reason why the women of today should distort their forms by practicing some foolish school girl fad in walking. The new corsets make the perfect walk possible.

It remains with each woman whether she be a picture of beauty or a cartoon drawn by her own idiotic way of walking. Don't be a faddist when you walk.

Remember: As much mind is required in walking correctly as in talking correctly.

LILLIAN RUSSELL'S ANSWERS TO INQUIRIES BY BEAUTY SEEKERS.

MRS. B. Many women seem to have the mistaken impression that biting the lips enhances their beauty, and on the street car or train, in the theaters, shops, and hotels one is continually seeing women furtively biting or moistening the lips. Such a habit, if persisted in, will, it is true, make the lips fuller, but, alas! immensely more unattractive, for it effectually spoils their shape. There is only one sure route to red lips and that is by the road of bodily health. It needs rich, pure blood to color the lips as they should be, and this is only secured by good, sensible, nourishing food, plenty of fresh air, healthful sleep and invigorating exercise.

R. R. Most people use a toothbrush too long. After awhile the points of the bristles become sharp and jagged and irritate and bruise the gums. Then, too, in spite of care they become unclean. One should have a fresh tooth brush for these reasons as often as once a month. A London doctor thinks that Americans depend too much on cleansing the teeth with brushes. Many are careless in the use of brushes and do not use them in the right way, and do not renew the brushes often enough. Around the gums and between the teeth, just where the food accumulates the most, are the places which are the most difficult to clean, and often when a brush is used most conscientiously these parts are left untouched and decay takes place readily. A very nice way to keep these places clean is to make a swab by winding absorbent cotton around the end of a toothpick and then dip it into the tooth wash and go carefully about the gums where they join the teeth, or use a small syringe filled with slightly salted water. It will be a surprise and delight to find how much the gums will improve with this process.

M. S. B. I do not believe in internal remedies for reducing flesh. Diet and exercise are all that is necessary. The first thing I should advise you to do if you wish to get rid of superfluous flesh, is to look well to your diet. No fried food should be eaten, nor rich sauces or greasy meats, no pastries or sweets. Eat simple but nourishing food, no pork, but beef or any other meats that are not rich are good. Eat plenty of vegetables, and salads should always form a part of the menu. Lack of exercise is one of the chief causes of obesity. One must take plenty of exercise if they wish to reduce. Walking is good. If you will send me a stamped, addressed envelope I shall send you a remedy for reducing flesh and the rolling exercises for reducing the hips.

W. M. S. You are not too stout for your age. While the slender figure is decidedly more attractive than the too abundant one, it still should have a sufficient covering of firm, solid flesh. Sometimes emaciation is merely the result of mental excitement—the desire to be everlastingly on the go and to be interested in unimportant affairs to the extent of wearing one's self out. Simple food, early hours, restful reading, and steady nerves should be the formula for retaining youth and good looks. I am sorry, but, as I know nothing of the article you mention, it is impossible for me to give you any information about it.

AMADA: I think an oily cream is more beneficial to the skin, but a great many people prefer a granular cream. Here is the formula: Gum Tragacanth, five drams; orange water, fifty drams; glycerin, thirty drams; stronger rosewater, and twelve drams; stronger orange water. Rub the gum tragacanth and orange water into a smooth paste and then add the glycerin. Mix this thoroughly. Then add the rosewater and orange flower water and beat to a smooth cream. A little of this cream is all that is necessary as it is easily absorbed.

CHAUNCEY OLCOTT AND FRED ROBERTS, MACDONOUGH

FUN FOR THE KIDDIES, IDORA PARK

MACDONOUGH.

TONIGHT will see the last performance of "Little Miss Brown," at the Macdonough Theatre. The farce has had a successful run in this city and has provided laughter for crowded houses at every performance.

CHAUNCEY OLCOTT, who is playing "The Isle of Dreams" this season and who comes to the Macdonough tomorrow, Tuesday and Wednesday, never received a prettier compliment on his acting than he did one night last spring. A successful contractor in a large western city had sent his card back on the stage and asked for an interview. Olcott granted this, and as soon as the gentleman had been introduced to the Irish star, he said:

"Mr. Olcott, I want to thank you personally for giving me a pleasure every year that I would be unable to get in any other way. I was born in Ireland and came over as a boy. I had to struggle hard, as my folks were poor, but I always made up my mind that I would some day take a trip to the old country to see the spot where I was born. I worked hard and gradually got some money. I went into business as a contractor, and made enough money to send my father and mother back to the old country on a long visit. My wife has also been over twice and every year I make up my mind that I will go over."

"Just as I am about arranging my plans to take a vacation, some new contract comes up, and I am compelled to give it my personal attention. I can't get away from my business because the public demands that I shall be at the head of it—and every year there is that longing to see the old country, and I cannot gratify it. It worries and annoys me, and then you come along and I go to see your play, and it's like a breath from the turf where I used to play. It partly gratifies my longings, and every night you play in the city I go to see you, and I'm happy. Every year I hope to go to Ireland for a trip, and I will some day and when I do I will get you the handsomest present from there that I can find."

THE MERRY WIDOW.

"The Merry Widow," the sensational operetta of all the nations will be the attraction at the Macdonough Theatre for four nights and Wednesday matinee starting Sunday, April 13th. A magnificent new production has been prepared for the event by Henry W. Savage. "The Merry Widow" has not yet been superceded as the queen of the Viennese operettas. It was the first to come to this country and it immediately set new standards in the entire field of musical comedy production. It has no rival. In the cast assembled for the new production, Savage has spared no expense and has succeeded in getting many of the originals together. Mabel Wilbur will again sing Sonia. She has tested a season, after several arduous years in "The Merry Widow," and after studying several months in now better equipped than ever for the proper interpretation of the delightful Lehar music. Others of the originals who will be here are Charles Meakins, Oscar Flanagan, Arthur Wootley, F. J. McCarthy. There will be new and attractive Viennese girls. As usual, Savage will have with the company, the special "Merry Widow" orchestra, selected from the grand opera organizations which he has trained for the past seasons.

PANTAGES

The "noblest Roman of them all," John L. Sullivan, heads an exceptionally entertaining bill at the Pantages, opening at today's matinee. John L. is doing a classy vaudeville turn this trip and delivers a merry monologue dealing with humorous incidents of his career in the battle arena. From advance inquiries the big fellow is due to establish a box office record which will stand as the high water mark at the Pantages for some time to come. John L. dresses in correct afternoon clothes, topped with a silk tie and presents quite an impressive appearance. Several other good features have been supplied the John L. Sullivan show, notably the Jules Held company of ten boys and girls in a merry musical tabloid of school days, entitled "Examination Days." Dan Collins is the star of the act and his stuttering kid specialty is a scream. Jules Held is the muchly harassed school teacher and the action and performance are school children for the moment. Songs and comedy sketches and hilarious comedy acts to make Examination Days a "night" to the little folks. Nat Leffingwell and Louise Myers will present "A Night at the Lodge," a farce playlet brimful of ludicrous situations showing what happens to a man who stays out late at night and then blames it on the lodge. "The Corkscrew Kids" are Prevest and Brown who show their circus training in their bounding trampolining acrobatic act, for they manage to keep it full of thrills. The rest of the show includes a duo of handsome young women, Mac Seamon and Flo Killian who style themselves "Those Tailor-Made Maids." They have a singing and dancing number of merit. Purcell Brothers in their novelty "Jummy Valentine" dance and new comedy motion pictures rounds out a most promising program of Pantages vaudeville.

ORPHEUM.

This week's bill at the Oakland Orpheum will have as complete variety and novelty in its offerings as any bill seen at this theater. Comedy, good music, clever sketches, dainty gymnastics, are only a part of the good things to be seen. It should make a big appeal to lovers of good vaudeville.

Frequently the success scored by a player is so great as to demand a return engagement at the first possible moment. Such was the case with Sam Mann in Aaron Hoffman's comedy, "The New Leader." Following his last tour of the old little comedy was inserted bodily in a Broadway musical comedy where it remained until time for the present contract to go into effect. Mr. Mann is a little, yet his hugely comical delineation of the eccentric musical director is one of the brightest and most capable bits of acting. A trio of cosmopolitan artists distinguished by the presence of Mile La Tosca, a youthful, handsome silvery voiced soprano of great renown, are at present adding American music to the enthrall-

CHARACTER ARTISTS. In announcing Bixley and Lerner, as the Fifth and Currier of vaudeville, mistake should not be made to imagine that either of the two men consider themselves vocalists nowhere approaching the grand opera favorites. They both sing well, in fact have unusual good voices, but their billing matter refers to their character delineations, as during the course of their performance, an excellent travesty on Melba and Caruso singing their favorite solo is given.

Dainties in Crandall is a pretty, vivacious young woman with a fine wardrobe and a wealth of grace that make her a poem on the wire and in the acrobatic dance that are the real parts of her act. The little girl opens with a whirlwind acrobatic dance and then jumps to the wire with a deftness and grace that is striking.

LOAD OF LAUGHTER.

The vehicle carrying Harry H. Richards and Bessie Kyle's load of laughter and song is called "A Regular Club Fellow." It was constructed and filled with merriment by Mr. Richards in co-laboration with Ron Shields. The idea has to do with the difficulties of a young woman whose husband has contracted the club habit.

Coming from a family of theatrical celebrities, Bobby Barry naturally made his stage debut at a very early age. His first important engagement was as one of the boys in Joseph Hart's original production of "Foxy Grandpa." He will be assisted by Amy Mortimer, a bright little ingenue, appearing in a skit called "After the Race."

His wonderful nimble and his equally nimble tongue has given Fred M. Griffith the appellation of "The Tricky Monologist." Mr. Griffith is a slight of hand manipulator of unusual dexterity. The program to be offered by the Edison Talking Motion Pictures will consist of two special reels, one dramatic, the other a comedy, it is: "Dick, the Highwayman" and "The Politician."

In America one reason there is so little acceptable conversational discussion is the indisposition of people in society to say what they think. Their unwillingness to express their whole minds on any one subject. I think this element of unfettered expression which makes literature enter-

Mrs. Head did not try to. In the most unselfish way she gave herself up to entertainment of her sister guests and gave them a most wonderful program. WORDS failed utterly to describe the full horrors and destruction of the floods which swept over Columbus, Dayton and Indianapolis and the numerous smaller cities of Central Ohio and Indiana, a story which is graphically told by the above photographs. Homes were tossed about upon the flood like cockleshells, and it was nothing unusual for a family marooned in their house to find it shaken to its foundations by a neighbor's house that was carried down against them by the swift current of the flood. Such was the case in Delaware, Ohio, which is shown in the center picture at the top of the page, and in the tenement district of Sidney, Ohio, another manufacturing center, where the street is shown filled with floating homes.

phone or electric light pole to another, whereby people could work their way to safety. The picture of the large electric crane shows men at work lowering motor boats into the water for use in the rescue work at Dayton.

Only less appalling than the floods in Ohio and Indiana was the work of destruction of the tornado which swept over Omaha just one day in advance of the flood waters, killing many people. The work of the tornado was done in a few seconds, yet the wreckage caused and the force of the death-dealing wind is well shown in some of the lower pictures. A stove factory was completely demolished, although built of heavy stone. Trees were uprooted and homes piled one upon another. Large buildings were folded up like cardboard boxes by the storm, which swept a path through the city four blocks wide.

Out of every great disaster rise stories of heroism and miraculous escapes from the hands of fate. The center picture is that of an aged couple who were thrown upon another raft. Later he woke up in his own house and wife and children were already there.

death. One man named Adams, who tried to escape from his home with his family on a raft was capsized and saw his wife and children carried away by the flood, while he himself was thrown upon another raft. Later he woke up in his own house and wife and children were already there.

PET SPANIEL DIES; DIVORCE FOLLOWS

NEW YORK, April 5.—Justice came after listening to Frank Alene's real estate operator of 344 Argyle road, Elmhurst, in the Supreme court, Brooklyn, testify in a divorce action for separation that his meritorious behavior with the death of his wife's pet dog, awarded him a decree.

Alene testified that he and Alene's trouble not spaniel was run over. The dog died, and his wife accused him of being responsible for the accident, he said. From then relations became strained, he said, leading to quarrels and misunderstandings.

What a Dear DEAR Face!

The Gotham Woman's "Makeup" Calls for a Long, Fat Purse. The Cost of Her "Warpaint" Runs Into the Millions. Every Year Her Features Require Tons of Rouge, Carloads of Powder and Acres of Eyebrow Pencils.

NEW YORK prides itself on the enormous expense to which its citizens are put yearly in maintaining the various things for which it is characteristic. There are the restaurants, in which two billions and more are spent annually. There are the shops, and the theaters, and the bars, and the candy stores, which the city takes a pride in announcing are more lavishly maintained than those of any other American commonwealth.

Over and above all of these there is another thing—custom, institution, aesthetic creation, what you will, maintained at a high figure, about which practically nothing of a boastful nature is said, and that is the New York complexion. Two tons of rouge is used annually in producing and maintaining it, and rouge weighs light. There are six plants in and about the city that do nothing for the aggrandizement of their owners but to manufacture eyebrow pencils, and their owners enjoy yearly dividends so large as to enable them to do that which New Yorkers go in for above all other earthly rewards. They live abroad.

A million bottles of liquid face powder are consumed in six months by the residents (men and women) of the metropolis, and a quantity of face powder beyond all reckoning. The amount spent in one year on creating the New York complexion would go a long way toward paying the national debt. Every complexion these days in the first city of America is an artificial complexion, and the woman who walks up Fifth avenue unrouged looks a little queer.

Going out of New York into the more urban cities one is sure to exclaim on how gray the women look. They seem dead and unattractive in their tinting which nature gave. Everybody in New York devoutly believes that nature is rather bad at all of her endeavors, and they have less approval for her way of making complexions than for almost any other of her performances.

"Dear me," said an elderly woman in the rotunda of Rector's the other day, "how uninteresting she looks! What is a young person of today thinking of not to take advantage of all the arts there are to make her attractive? When I was young there wasn't anything to do to disguise your anemic looks. The rouge of those days wasn't any good. It could be detected a mile, and everybody using it was branded as a worse than flirt."

"Today you can get it for 35 cents a box that you can't tell from the natural skin. An actor as one of my little at home the other day swore that he could detect rouge on any woman's face by gas light as surely as by natural light. 'That woman over there is the only one in this room,' he said, 'who has a natural complexion.' Well, that woman is my daughter's most intimate friend, and what she hasn't taught us about making up our faces! And where's the harm? The only real harm comes in not looking your best."

Everybody's Using It.

This is the attitude of the day. Whereas a generation ago the evil came in using cosmetics, the evil today lies only in the crass application of them. "Improve on nature artistically," is the motto of the New Yorker, and censure comes only from unsuccessful workmanship.

Going through a certain settlement house composed of earnest young people working for the betterment of the downtrodden and poor, in every room was disclosed a pot of rouge. Some of it was blonde and some brunette, some liquid, some salve.

"I wish," said one young New Yorker, "that I could bring Harry in here and show him this array of cosmetics and let him hear the discussion. Our engagement was almost broken because he saw me in a strong light the other day at such close range that he detected the artificial tint on my cheeks. If he'd discovered that I'd stolen money he couldn't have got on a more tragical air."

"Are you rouged?" he demanded sepulchrally. "I thought rapidly and decided it was best to tell the truth, especially as he knew that I was. 'Everybody in New York wears rouge nowadays, Harry.'"

"He was awful about it. He left without being decent and coming around. I began to get frightened, and I said to myself, 'Am I, a resident of New York in the year 1913, not going to be able to prevail against a pot of rouge?' In three or four days he came back, trying to act as if nothing had been the matter. A week later he commented on my complexion. 'Now it's a lot better that way. You have a charming natural rose tint.'"

"It never occurred to him that I would ever put on another bit of rouge, but I had done so, and always expect to. If it came to giving up Harry or giving up rouge, I don't know what I'd do, for if one is going to play the game of life in New York one must keep herself looking as New Yorkers look, and where would I be in a year if I let myself look as gray as I do naturally, and had only a husband to show for it?"

Complexion Maintenance Cost Huge.

And the price at which all of this artificiality is produced! It is enormous. Two million dollars is not too high an estimate on the sums spent annually in maintaining the New York complexion. Besides the rouge and the eyebrow blackening and the powder there are the cold creams and the liquid preparations to put on and let dry before the final colorings are applied. Then there are the shops where hours of preparatory kneading and of strong electric currents are applied to the face and neck before the work of "finishing" is begun. O, if you considered the cost of the New York complexion in terms of time consumed, admitting that the time of those getting the complexion has a value (which is a large admission), one hesitates to say what the figure would be.

There is a cost to the New York complexion beyond anything computable in money or time, and can be estimated only in terms of pain and disaster. In Chicago last summer everybody was startled by the claim of Mrs. Nina M. Clappitt, who filed suit against two doctors for $50,000 for filling her skin with paraffin, which had hardened in her cheeks and left great lumps.

Such experiences in New York are frequent, and cause comparatively little comment. A physician of standing derives most of his practice from the recruits of a beauty parlor located a block from him. Only when a woman dies from her quest of beauty does the case become sensational enough in New York to attract widespread attention. A young Greek girl died the other day from taking bichloride of mercury, and it elicited the statistics from one of the departments of the health bureau that a hundred women died yearly in a quest for beauty.

It's Smart Not to Be Known.

Six hundred beauty establishments are registered in New York, but this does not represent one-half of the total number in business there. The smart thing is not to register or to be known. There is one quite famous and yet entirely unknown, if one can accept the contradiction. That is to say, a certain clientele knows about it, patronizes it, talks about it to intimate friends, but will not tell where or what it is.

This is a conversation that took place one day on the avenue between two women friends: "My dear, what have you been doing to yourself? You look years younger. There is not a line anywhere. How did you accomplish it?"

"My dear, there's the most wonderful woman who does it. The touch of her fingers is magical. It is a delight to feel them going around the frame of your eyes ironing out the wrinkles. She is the most marvelous person I have ever known."

"Where?" gasps the other woman. "I may not tell. I have been hearing of her mysteriously for years. My own intimate friends know her, but would not give her name. I discovered it by accident in Paris. But I am pledged to secrecy."

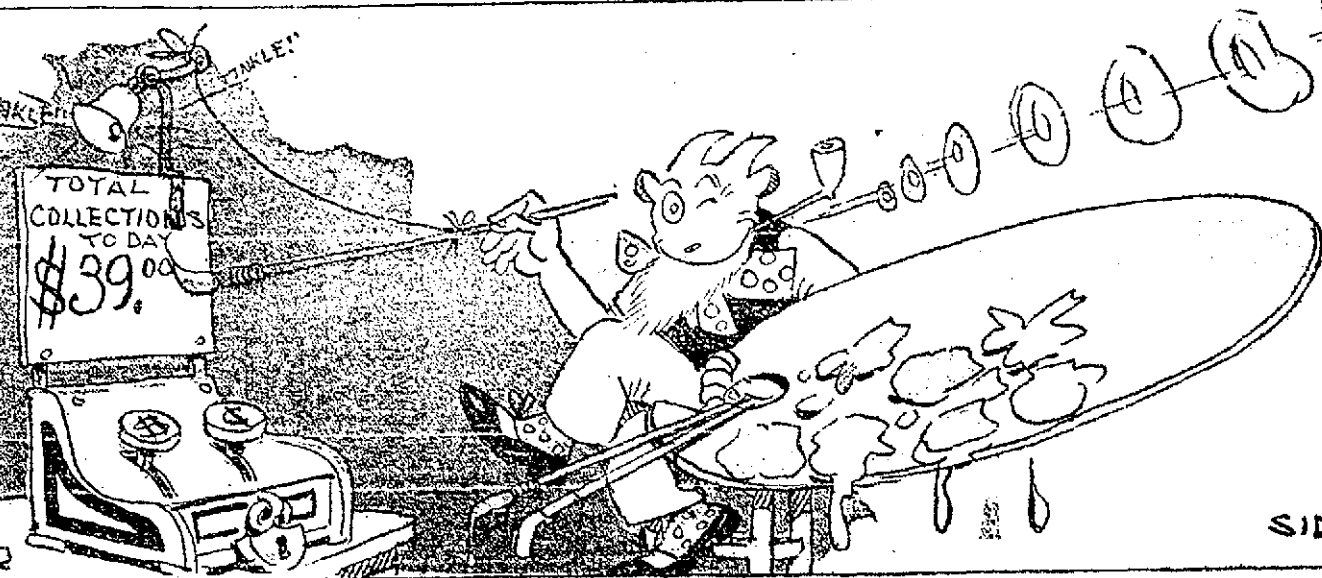

A thousand women in New York today know "this" mysteriously of that beauty parlor and are seeking for it. Meantime, they put up with other beauty treatments less efficacious, less sanitary, less subtle, but withal effective, as any one would vouch who saw the marvelous spectacle of the New York complexion.
